

Work in a group of max 4 to 5 students and write a script between:

1. A really rowdy class with a new teacher who is trying to make them study but they aren't just ready
2. A hiring manager with multiple candidates looking for a post in an architectural firm
3. A group of friends just a night before an exam that they aren't really prepared for
4. A team of players with their manager before a crucial match
5. Parents with their naughty kids, attending a wedding
6. A really rude manager, who wants to overburden his/her employees with work, and his team members who are already overworked
7. A shopkeeper with his regular customers after increasing the prices exorbitantly
8. You with your group of friends while planning for an outing that no one is interested in
9. An encounter with the thesis defense committee for approval of your project
10. A family dropping their daughter off at the airport, who seemed to have forgotten her cellphone at home
