

ISLAMIC STUDIES

BE. | BS. | BSc.

The Necessities of Religion

2025

Dr. Muhammad Rashid Awan

Assistant Professor,
Department of Islamic Studies

Raza Publishers (Pvt.) Ltd.

ISLAMIC STUDIES

BE. BS. BSc.

(The Necessities of Religion)

Author

Dr. Muhammad Rashid Awan

Assistant Professor

Department of Islamic Studies

Sir Syed University Engineering & Technology

DR. MRKA

Copyright 2025

Author: Prof Dr. Mufti Muhammad Rashid khan Awan (Dr. MRKA).

All rights reserved. Aside from fair use, meaning a few pages or less for non-profit educational purposes, review, or scholarly citation, no part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, and recording. Translation or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the copy-right owner Prof Dr. Mufti Muhammad Rashid khan Awan (Dr. MRKA) and

Published by Raza Publishers (Pvt.) Ltd.
North Nazimabad
0316-3272626 / 03332327829

Email: rashid.ul.qadiri@gmail.com

Posted by Dr. MRKA for distribution only with the intention of promoting and disseminating knowledge among students.

Note:

It is yet to be updated as per HEC syllabus.

Preface

This book, titled The Necessities of Religion, has been thoughtfully compiled to serve as a comprehensive guide to understanding the fundamental aspects of Islam. It outlines the core necessities of religion, encompassing the Pillars of Faith (Iman) and the Pillars of Islam, while aligning its content with the curriculum of Sir Syed University of Engineering and Technology.

The book delves into selected Quranic verses and Hadiths, shedding light on the essential teachings of Islam. It explores the life of the Holy Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) in Mecca and Medina, offering lessons in patience, perseverance, and leadership. Additionally, it provides a detailed explanation of the sources of Islamic jurisprudence and the foundational principles of the Islamic political and economic systems, emphasizing their relevance and application in contemporary society.

To enhance the reader's understanding, the book also discusses Islamic culture and civilization and presents the concept of an ideal Islamic society, focusing on its moral, social, and spiritual dimensions.

This work aims to cater to both academic needs and personal enrichment, providing clarity and insight into the timeless principles and practices of Islam. It is my sincere hope that this book will serve as a valuable resource for students and readers, inspiring them to understand and implement the teachings of Islam in their lives.

May Almighty Allah guide us all to the path of righteousness and grant us the ability to convey His message effectively.

(Dr. MRKA)

Book Index

(1 st Chapter)	Pages
Seven Article of Faith (Iman)	7
• Definition of Iman	9
1. Believe in Allah	11
• Concept of Oneness of Allah (Tawheed)	11
2. Believe in Angels	13
• Categories of Angels	14
3. Believe in Holy Books & Suhuf/Scrolls	19
• Four big Holy Books:	20
4. Believe in Prophets/Messengers	21
• Attributes & Qualities of Prophets
• Distinguishing Characteristics/Attributes of the • Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ)
• Finality of Prophethood (عقیده ختم النبوة)	40
5. Believe in The Day of Judgment	44
• Stages of the Day of Judgment
• Signs of the Day of Judgment
6. Believe in the Destiny/ Predestination	49
• Types of Destiny
7. Believe in Resurrection after death	55
• Categories of Resurrection
• Stages of Resurrection
(2 nd Chapter)
Five Pillars of Islam	59
• Definition of Islam?
1. 1 st Pillar	60
• Deliration of Islam/Kalima-e-Tayyib
• Two testimonies of faith (شهادتین)

2. 2 nd Pillar	64
• Prayer/Salah/Namaz: Importance of Prayer
3. 3 rd Pillar	71
• Fasting/Soam/Roza
4. 4 th Pillar	78
• Zakat (Obligatory Charity)
5. 5 th Pillar	85
• Hajj/Pilgrimage

(3rd Chapter)

The Noble Quran	93
• Revelation and its types
• Excellence and Importance of the Quran
• Miracle of the Qur'an
• Efforts in compilation the Holy Quran

(4th Chapter)

Islam and Science	107
• Quran and Modern Science
• Contribution Of Muslim Scientists

(5th Chapter)

Quran and Hadith	118
• Surah Al Hujurat: Verses 01, 02, 11 & 12
• Surah Al Furqan: Verses 63 & 67
• 3 Selected Ahadith

(6th Chapter)

Life of the Beloved Holy Prophet ﷺ	132
• Reasons of Migration to Madina
• Importance of The Pact Of Madina

- Treaty of Hdaybiyyah
- Advantages of the Treaty of Hudaibiya
- Conquest of Makkah
- Last Sermon of the Holy Prophet ﷺ

(7th Chapter)

Islamic laws and Islamic jurisprudence 162

- Sources of Islamic Jurisprudence (Fiqh)
- The Quran (Primary Source):
- The Hadith / Sunnah (Primary Source)
- Ijma' (Consensus)
- Qiyas (legal analogy)

(9th Chapter)

Islamic Economic System (IES) 194

- Basis, Importance, Uniqueness, & Characteristics of IES.
- Islamic Economic System and Other Economic Systems.
- Illegal Earning (Kasb-e-Haram)

(10th Chapter)

Islamic Culture and Civilization 210

- Features of Islamic Culture and Civilization
- Concept of Islamic Society
- Importance of Education in Islam
- Rights of Parents
- Rights of Teachers

(1st Chapter)

Seven Article of Faith (Iman)

➤ Basic Fundamentals of Iman

Question:

Describe Seven Articles of Iman according to Quran and Hadith with introduction and conclusion.

Answer:

Here we will review the seven articles of Iman (faith) in Islam based on the Qur'an and Hadith.

Introduction:

Iman (faith) is a fundamental aspect of Islam, and it consists of seven essential articles that every Muslim must believe in. These articles form the foundation of a Muslim's faith and are based on the Quran and Hadith (the sayings and actions of Prophet Muhammad, ﷺ). Believing in these articles is mandatory for every Muslim.

Seven fundamental articles of faith (Iman-e-Mufasssal):

I believe in Allah, His Angels, His Books, His Messengers, the Last Day, and in the Destiny, that all good and bad is from Allah the Most High and I believe in the resurrection after death.

أَمَّنْتُ بِاللهِ وَمَلَائِكَتِهِ وَكُتُبِهِ وَرُسُلِهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْآخِرِ وَالْقَدْرِ خَيْرُهُ وَشَرُّهُ مِنْ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى وَالْبَعْثِ بِهِ دَالَّتِ

1. Belief in Allah (God)

Quran: "There is no god but Allah" (47:19)

Hadith: "None of you will have faith till he loves me more than his father, his children, and all mankind." (Bukhari)

2. Belief in the Angels

Quran: "And whoever disbelieves in Allah, His Angels, His Books, His Messengers, and the Last Day has certainly gone far astray." (4:136)

Hadith: "Whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day, then let him honor his neighbor, and whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day, then let him honor his guest." (Bukhari)

3. Belief in the Revealed Books

Quran: "We have sent down to thee the Book in truth, confirming the scripture that came before it." (3:3)

Hadith: "The Quran is the best of speeches, and the Arab tongue is the most eloquent." (Sunan-e-Tirmidhi)

4. Belief in the Prophets

Quran: "We have sent thee inspiration, as we inspired Noah and the prophets after him." (4:163)

Hadith: "Do not differentiate between the Prophets." (Sahi Bukhari)

5. Belief in the Last Day

Quran: "Every soul shall taste death; then to us you shall return." (29:57)

Hadith: "The best of deeds is to believe in Allah and His Messenger." (Sahi Muslim)

6. Belief in the Divine Decree (Qadar)

Quran: "No calamity befalls on the earth or in yourselves but is inscribed in the Book of Decrees before we bring it into existence." (57:22)

Hadith: "No servant of Allah will truly believe until he believes in the Divine Decree." (Abu Dawud)

7. Belief in Resurrection after Death

Quran: "The Trumpet will be blown, and all who are in the heavens and all who are on earth will be terrified." (39:68)

Hadith: "The grave is either a garden of Paradise or a pit of Hell." (Sunan-e-Tirmidhi)

Conclusion:

The Seven Articles of Iman are the cornerstone of Islam, emphasizing the unity and oneness of Allah, the importance of prophet hood, and accountability in the afterlife.

Believing in these articles strengthens a Muslim's faith and guides them toward righteousness and piety. Understanding and adhering to these principles is essential for every Muslim seeking spiritual growth and closeness to Allah.

➤ Definition of Iman

Question:

What is the definition of Iman?

Answer:

In Islam, Iman (إيمان) is typically translated as "faith" or "belief." However, its meaning goes beyond mere intellectual acceptance. Iman encompasses:

1. Acceptance (Tasdiq):

Acknowledging the truth of Allah, His prophets, and revelation.

2. Conviction (Yaqin):

Firm certainty and confidence in Allah and His message.

3. Commitment (Iltizam):

Acting upon and adhering to Islamic principles.

4. Surrender (Taslim):

Submitting to Allah's will and obeying His commands.

Iman involves:

Heart:

Believing in Allah and His message.

Tongue:

Declaring faith through the Shahada (declaration of faith).

Actions:

Practicing Islam's teachings and obligations.

The Quran describes Iman as:

"They have believed" (Ya'mana): Embracing faith with heart and soul. (Quran 8:2)

"Righteousness is not in turning your faces towards east or west; rather, the righteous are those who believe in Allah."

(Quran 2:177)

Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) defined Iman as:

"Iman is to believe in Allah, His Angels, His Books, His Messengers, the Last Day, and the Divine Decree." (Bukhari)

Iman is the foundation of Islam, guiding Muslims' thoughts, words, and actions.

1. Believe in Allah

➤ Concept of Oneness of Allah (Tawheed)

Question:

Describe Tawheed (oneness of Allah) according to Quran and Hadith with introduction and categories of Tawheed and conclusion?

Answer:

Here's an overview of Tawheed (Oneness of Allah) based on the Quran and Hadith:

Introduction:

Tawheed, the central doctrine of Islam, emphasizes Allah's unity and uniqueness. It's the foundation of Islamic faith, affirming Allah's sole right to worship and devotion.

Categories of Tawheed:

1. Tawheed al-Rububiyyah (Lordship):

Affirming Allah as the sole Creator, Sustainer, and Controller.

Quran: "He is the Lord of the heavens and the earth and all that is between them." (Quran, 25:2)

Hadith: "None has the right to be worshipped except Allah, alone, without partner." (Sahih Muslim)

2. Tawheed al-Uluhiyyah (Worship):

Recognizing Allah as the only worthy recipient of worship.

Quran: "Worship Allah and associate none with Him." (4:36)

Hadith: "Do not call upon other than Allah." (Sunan-e-Tirmidhi)

3. Tawheed al-Asma wa al-Sifat (Names and Attributes):

Affirming Allah's unique names and attributes.

Quran: "There is nothing like unto Him." (Quran, 42:11)

Hadith: "Allah has ninety-nine names; whoever memorizes them will enter Paradise." (Bukhari)

Types of Shirk (Polytheism)

1. Major Shirk: Directing worship to other than Allah.
2. Minor Shirk: Showing off in worship.
3. Hidden Shirk: Relying on means rather than Allah.

Conclusion

Tawheed is the cornerstone of Islam, emphasizing Allah's unity and uniqueness. Muslims must affirm Allah's lordship, worship Him alone, and acknowledge His divine names and attributes. Shirk, in all its forms, is considered a grave sin. By upholding Tawheed, believers demonstrate their devotion and submission to Allah.

➤ Tawheed According to Surah-e-Ikhlās

Question:

Explain Tawheed in detail in the light of Surah-e-Ikhlās.

Answer:

Surah Ikhlas (112)

Verse 1: "Say, 'He is Allah, the One.'"

Explanation: This verse affirms Allah's unity and uniqueness, emphasizing His oneness.

Verse 2: "Allah, the Self-Sufficient, besides whom none other is worthy of worship."

Explanation: This verse highlights Allah's independence and self-sufficiency, while emphasizing that only He deserves worship.

Verse 3: "He neither begot, nor is He begotten."

Explanation: This verse rejects the idea of Allah having offspring or being born from someone, affirming His transcendence.

Verse 4: "And none is equal to Him."

Explanation: This verse emphasizes Allah's uniqueness, affirming that no one shares His attributes or characteristics.

Importance of Tawheed:

Tawheed is:

- ✚ Foundation of Islam
- ✚ Essence of monotheism
- ✚ Key to salvation
- ✚ Protection against shirk (polytheism)

Conclusion:

Surah Ikhlas succinctly captures the essence of Tawheed, emphasizing Allah's unity, uniqueness, and sole right to worship. Understanding Tawheed is crucial for Muslims to affirm their faith and devotion to Allah.

2. Believe in Angels

Question:

Explain the Concept of angels according to the Holy Quran and Hadith with introduction, categories and conclusion.

Answer:

Introduction

In Islam, angels (mala'ikah) are spiritual beings created by Allah to serve as messengers, assistants, and guardians. They play a vital role in the universe, fulfilling Allah's commands and maintaining order.

Categories of Angels

Archangels (al-Mala'ikah al-Kiram): High-ranking angels, including:

1. Hadrat Jibril (Gabriel): Revealer of divine revelations. Jibreel (Gabriel) is known as the angel of revelation. His primary duty is to convey Allah's messages to the prophets. He brought the Qur'an to Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) and communicated messages to other prophets as well.
(Mentioned in: Qur'an (2:97))
2. Hadrat Mikail (Michael): Responsible for sustenance of life. He controls natural forces like rain, wind and thunder and oversees the growth of plants. He provides sustenance to God's creation and is often associated with mercy.
(Mentioned in: Qur'an (2:98))
3. Hadrat Izrail (Azrael): (Malaa'ikat al-Mawt) (Azrael and His Helpers): Azrael, also known as the Angel of Death, is responsible for taking the souls of people at the time of death. He has assistants who help him fulfill this role globally, ensuring that every soul reaches its time as Allah has decreed.
(Mentioned in: Qur'an (32:11) and Hadith)
4. Hadrat Israfil (Raphael): He will blow the trumpet to announce the Day of Judgment. He holds the trumpet, ready to signal the end of the world and the beginning of the resurrection. His exact mention by name is found in the Hadith rather than the Qur'an.

(Quran 2:97-98, 11:72; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)

5. Recording Angels (al-Kiram al-Katibin) (Honorable Writers/Noble Recorders): These are the recording angels assigned to every person to record their good and bad deeds. One angel sits on the right to record good deeds, while the other sits on the left to record sins and mistakes.
(Quran 82:10-12; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)
6. Guardian Angels (al-Mu'qqibat): Protecting individuals from harm.
(Quran 13:11, 82:10-12; Hadith: Muslim)
7. Munkar and Nakeer: (The Denied and The Denier) These two angels question the dead in the graves. They ask questions about one's faith, actions and beliefs after burial. Like who is your Lord? What is your religion? (The picture of Prophet Muhammad ﷺ will be shown in front of him and asked) So what did the world say about this personality?
8. Punishment Angels (al-Zabaniyah): Executing Allah's punishment.
(Quran 96:18; Hadith: Tirmidhi)
9. Angels of Mercy (Malaa'ikat al-Rahmah): Bringing blessings and mercy.
10. Angels of Wrath (Malaa'ikat al-'Adhab): Executing punishment.
11. Angels of Resurrection (Malaa'ikat al-Qiyamah): Assisting on Judgment Day.
12. Angels of Hell (Malaa'ikat al-Jahannam): Guarding Hellfire. Hadrat Malik is the chief guardian of Hell

(Jahannam). He is responsible for overseeing the inhabitants of Hell and managing the punishment for the disbelievers. When the people of Hell appeal to him for relief, he only replies as Allah commands, without offering hope.

Mentioned in: Qur'an (43:77)

13. Angels of Paradise (Malaa'ikat al-Jannah):
Guarding Paradise. Hadrat Ridwan is known as the chief guardian of Heaven (Jannah). He is responsible for welcoming the righteous into Paradise. Ridwan is associated with maintaining peace and harmony in Jannah and making sure all is in order for the faithful.
14. Kiram al-'Aid (Honorable Visitors): Visiting the sick and needy.
15. Malaa'ikat al-Istiqbal (Angels of Reception):
Welcoming believers in Paradise.
16. Malaa'ikat al-Dua (Angels of Supplication):
Carrying prayers to Allah.

Characteristics of Angels:

1. Created from light (Quran 81:1; Hadith: Muslim)
2. Invisible to humans (Quran 6:50; Hadith: Bukhari)
3. Obey Allah's commands (Quran 66:6; Hadith: Muslim)
4. No free will (Quran 16:50; Hadith: Bukhari)
5. No gender or desires (Quran 53:27; Hadith: Tirmidhi)

Role of Angels

1. Conveying revelations (Quran 2:97-98)
2. Protecting believers (Quran 41:31)
3. Recording deeds (Quran 82:10-12)
4. Executing punishment (Quran 96:18)

5. Assisting on Judgment Day (Quran 25:25)

Number of Angels:

According to Hadith, there are:

70,000 to 80,000 angels created every day.

(Sunan-e-Tirmidhi)

600 wings of angels surrounding Allah's Throne (Bukhari)

Millions of angels guarding Hellfire (Sahih Muslim)

Note: These categories and numbers are based on Islamic tradition and Hadith, and may vary in interpretation.

Conclusion

Angels play a significant role in Islam, serving as Allah's messengers and assistants. Understanding their categories, characteristics, and roles helps Muslims appreciate Allah's wisdom and majesty. Believing in angels is an essential aspect of Islamic faith, affirming Allah's power and control over the universe.

➤ Total Number of Angels

Question:

How many angels created in daily basis according to Quran and hadith, and how many angels came for visit and tawaf of bait Ullah.

Answer:

The Quran and Hadith do not specify an exact number of angels created daily. Islamic teachings generally emphasize that angels are numerous beyond human comprehension, created by Allah to fulfill various duties, such as worship, record-keeping, protection, and carrying out Allah's commands.

However, there is a Hadith that suggests the vast number of angels engaged in worship and service, particularly regarding the House of Allah in the heavens, known as Bayt al-Ma'mur.

Bayt al-Ma'mur and Angelic Tawaf:

The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) mentioned Bayt al-Ma'mur in Hadith literature. Bayt al-Ma'mur is often described as the "Heavenly Kaaba" and is located directly above the Kaaba in Makkah in the seventh heaven. According to a Hadith in Sahih al-Bukhari, 70,000 angels enter Bayt al-Ma'mur daily, perform tawaf (circumambulation), and then leave, never to return again, signifying the vast and continuous creation of angels.

Hadith Reference:

"The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said, 'Then I was taken up to the seventh heaven and there I saw Ibrahim (Abraham) leaning against the Bayt al-Ma'mur and there enter it seventy thousand angels every day, never to return to it again.' (Sahih al-Bukhari)

Angels Visiting and Performing Tawaf of the Kaaba on Earth: While the Hadith explicitly mentions the heavenly Bayt al-Ma'mur, there is no specific report detailing the exact number of angels that perform tawaf of the earthly Kaaba in Makkah. However, it is believed in Islamic tradition that angels do visit the Kaaba on Earth and that they are constantly engaged in worship of Allah, glorifying Him, and honoring the sacredness of His house.

Continuous Creation of Angels:

Although specific numbers for daily angel creation aren't detailed in Quran or Hadith, these narrations imply that Allah's creation of angels is vast, ongoing, and immeasurable by human standards. Allah's creative power is boundless, and the existence of such innumerable angels serves as a testament to His majesty and the grand scope of His creation.

Conclusion:

Bayt al-Ma'mur in the seventh heaven is visited by 70,000 angels daily, who perform tawaf and do not return.

No exact numbers are provided regarding the creation of angels or the specific number of angels visiting the earthly Kaba daily.

This description from the Hadith illustrates the grandeur of Allah's creation and the constant devotion of angels, who perpetually engage in worship.

3. Believe in Holy Books & Suhuf/Scrolls

Question:

Describe believe in all holy books and all booklets according to Quran and Hadith with introduction, categories and conclusion.

Answer:

Introduction

In Islam, believing in all holy books and booklets is an essential aspect of faith. The Quran emphasizes the importance of accepting and respecting all scriptures revealed by Allah.

Four big Holy Books:

1. The Quran: The final revelation to Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ).
(Quran 2:185, 41:41; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)
2. Torah (Tawrat): Revealed to Prophet Moses (ﷺ).
(Quran 2:87, 3:3; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)
3. Gospel (Injil): Revealed to Prophet Jesus (ﷺ).
(Quran 3:3, 5:46; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)
4. Psalms (Zabur): Revealed to Prophet David (ﷺ).
(Quran 4:163, 21:105; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)

According to Islamic theology, the following scriptures and Suhuf (scrolls) were revealed to various prophets.

Suhuf (Scrolls/Booklets/Scriptures):

1. Scrolls of Abraham (Suhuf Ibrahim) - Revealed to Prophet Abraham (ﷺ)
2. Scrolls of Moses (Suhuf Musa) - Revealed to Prophet Moses (ﷺ)
(Quran 87:19; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)
3. Scrolls of Adam (Suhuf Adam) - Revealed to Prophet Adam (ﷺ)
4. Sahifa of Prophet Noah (ﷺ)
5. Sahifa of Prophet Hud (ﷺ)
6. Sahifa of Prophet Salih (ﷺ)
7. Sahifa of Prophet Shuaib (ﷺ)
8. Sahifa of Prophet Idris (ﷺ)

Requirements for believing in the divine books:

Acceptance:

Believing in the revelation and authenticity of all holy books.

(Quran 2:136, 3:84; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)

Respect:

Showing reverence and respect for all scriptures.

(Quran 2:177, 5:44; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)

Implementation:

Following the teachings and guidance of the holy books.

(Quran 5:44, 6:155; Hadith: Bukhari, Muslim)

Conclusion:

Believing in all holy books and booklets is a fundamental aspect of Islamic faith. Muslims must accept, respect, and implement the teachings of the Quran, Torah, Gospel, Psalms, and other scriptures revealed by Allah. The exact number of suhuf and scriptures revealed to each prophet may vary depending on the Islamic tradition and interpretation.

4. Believe in Prophets/Messengers

Question:

What is the basic difference between the Rasool (Messenger) and nabi (Prophet)? Define according to Quran and hadith.

Answer:

In Islamic theology, Rasool (Messenger) and Nabi (Prophet) are two distinct titles with different responsibilities and characteristics.

Definition of Nabi (Prophet)

A Nabi is a person who receives revelations from Allah through an angel, typically Jibril (Gabriel), to guide his community.

The Quran has six Surahs named after Prophets:

1. Surah Yunus (No.10) - Named after Prophet Yunus (Jonah).
2. Surah Hud (No.11) - Named after Prophet Hud.
3. Surah Yusuf (No.12) - Named after Prophet Yusuf (Joseph).
4. Surah Ibrahim (No.14) - Named after Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham).
5. Surah Muhammad (No.47) - Named after Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ)
6. Surah Nuh (No.71) - Named after Prophet Nuh (Noah).

Each of these Surahs highlights aspects of the lives, teachings, or events related to these Prophets and often provides moral and spiritual lessons for guidance.

Ulul Azm Prophets:

In Islam, there are five Ulul Azm Prophets, who are considered the most resolute, patient, and steadfast among all the prophets. They are specifically mentioned in the Quran and are recognized for their exceptional determination in spreading Allah's message and enduring hardships. The Ulul Azm Prophets are:

1. Prophet Nuh (Noah)
2. Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham)

3. Prophet Musa (Moses)
4. Prophet Isa (Jesus)
5. Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ)

Reference in the Quran

The concept of Ulul Azm Prophets is supported in the Quran in various places, such as:

“So be patient, as were those of determination among the messengers...”

(Surah Al-Ahqaf, 46:35)

These five prophets are noted for their unwavering commitment to faith, resilience in the face of opposition, and the significant roles they played in shaping the monotheistic beliefs foundational to Islam.

Characteristics:

1. Receives revelations (Wahi)
2. Conveys Allah's message to his community
3. Not necessarily required to establish a new Shariah (law)
4. May or may not be sent with a new scripture

Examples: Prophets Adam, Noah, Abraham, Moses, Jesus, and others.

Definition of Rasool (Messenger):

A Rasool is a Nabi who receives a new Shariah (law) and scripture from Allah, establishing a new religious community.

Characteristics:

1. Receives revelations (Wahi)
2. Establishes a new Shariah (Islamic law)
3. Conveys Allah's message to his community

4. Sent with a new scripture (e.g., Torah, Gospel, Quran)
Examples: Prophets Moses (Torah), Jesus (Gospel), and Muhammad (Quran).

Key differences:

1. Shariah: Rasool establishes a new Shariah, while Nabi follows existing Shariah.
2. Scripture: Rasool receives a new scripture, while Nabi may not.
3. Responsibility: Rasool has a broader responsibility to establish a new community.

Quranic References:

1. Quran 3:144 - "And We sent not Messengers (Rasool) except to be obeyed."
2. Quran 4:163 - "And, indeed, We have sent Messengers (Rasool) before you."
3. Quran 22:52 - "And We sent not before you any Messenger (Rasool) or Prophet (Nabi)."

Hadith References:

1. Bukhari - "Every Prophet is a Messenger, but not every Messenger is a Prophet."
2. Muslim - "The Prophets are brothers, and their religion is one."

Conclusion:

Every Rasool is a Nabi, but not every Nabi is a Rasool. Rasool has a higher responsibility, establishing a new Shariah and receiving a new scripture.

➤ Attributes & Qualities of Prophets

Question:

How many qualities do prophets have? Mention these qualities.

Answer:

The Prophets (Anbiya, singular: Nabi) in Islam possess distinct and exemplary qualities that set them apart from ordinary human beings. These qualities enable them to fulfill their divine mission of conveying Allah's message to humanity. Islamic scholars have outlined specific attributes that are inherent to all Prophets.

Qualities of Prophets:

The main qualities of Prophets are as follows:

1. Sidq (Truthfulness)

Prophets are always truthful in their speech, actions, and intentions.

They never lie or deceive others, as their truthfulness is critical for gaining the trust of their followers.

Evidence from the Quran:

“And mention in the Book, Ishmael. Indeed, he was true to his promise, and he was a messenger and a prophet.”

(Surah Maryam, 19:54)

2. Amanah (Trustworthiness)

Prophets are the most trustworthy individuals in their communities.

They never breach trust, whether it is in worldly or spiritual matters.

Example: Before his prophethood, Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) was known as "Al-Ameen" (The Trustworthy) in Makkah.

3. Tabligh (Conveying the Message)

Prophets are obligated to fully and clearly deliver Allah's message to the people, without any omission or alteration.

Evidence from the Quran:

“The duty of the Messenger is only to convey [the message].”

(Surah Al-Ma'idah, 5:99)

4. Fatanah (Wisdom and Intelligence)

Prophets possess exceptional intelligence and wisdom, enabling them to understand Allah's message and address their people effectively.

Their intellectual and emotional acumen helps them overcome challenges and guide people toward the truth.

5. Ismah (Infallibility/Sinless)

Prophets are free from sin (ma'soom) and major errors, as they serve as role models for humanity.

They may experience minor forgetfulness, but it never affects their role as conveyors of Allah's guidance.

Evidence from the Quran:

“He does not speak from his own desire. It is but a revelation revealed.”

(Surah An-Najm, 53:3-4)

6. Patience (Sabr)

Prophets demonstrate extraordinary patience in the face of trials, opposition, and persecution.

They endure hardships with perseverance for the sake of spreading Allah's message.

Example: Prophet Ayub (Job, عليه السلام) is renowned for his unwavering patience during severe trials.

7. Justice ('Adl)

Prophets uphold fairness and justice in all their dealings, serving as examples of equitable behavior.

Evidence from the Quran:

“Indeed, We sent Our Messengers with clear proofs, and sent down with them the Book and the Balance that the people may maintain justice.”

(Surah Al-Hadid, 57:25)

8. Humility (Tawadu')

Despite their elevated status, Prophets remain humble and accessible to the people they are guiding.

Example: Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) mended his own clothes, participated in household chores, and remained humble even as a leader.

9. Courage (Shaja'ah)

Prophets exhibit immense courage in proclaiming the truth and standing firm against oppression and falsehood.

Example: Prophet Musa (Moses, عليه السلام) bravely confronted Pharaoh, the most powerful ruler of his time.

10. Compassion and Mercy (Rahmah)

Prophets are deeply compassionate and merciful toward their people, striving for their guidance and well-being.

Example: Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is described in the Quran as:

“And We have not sent you, [O Muhammad], except as a mercy to the worlds.”

(Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:107)

11. Gratitude (Shukr)

Prophets consistently express gratitude to Allah for His blessings, serving as an example of thankfulness for others.

Example: Prophet Dawood (David, عليه السلام) is praised in the Quran for his gratitude:

“Work, O family of David, in gratitude. And few of My servants are grateful.”

(Surah Saba, 34:13)

12. Devotion to Allah (Ibadah)

Prophets are devout worshipers of Allah, constantly engaged in prayer, remembrance, and acts of devotion.

Their worship reflects their deep connection with Allah and inspires others to follow suit.

13. Miracles Granted to Prophets by Allah:

Prophets (peace be upon them) were granted miracles to validate their divine missions and demonstrate the power of Allah. Here is a brief overview of some Prophets and their respective miracles:

Prophet Adam (عليه السلام)

Miracle: Creation without parents.

Adam was created by Allah from clay, and his wife, Hawwa (Eve), was created from him.

“He created him from dust; then He said to him, ‘Be,’ and he was.” (Surah Aal-e-Imran, 3:59)

✚ Prophet Nuh (Noah, عليه السلام)

Miracle: The Great Flood and the Ark.

Nuh built an ark to save the believers and animals, while the disbelievers were drowned in a massive flood.

“So We opened the gates of the heaven with rain pouring down.” (Surah Al-Qamar, 54:11)

✚ Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham, عليه السلام)

Miracle: Protection from fire.

When thrown into a blazing fire by his people, Allah made the fire cool and safe for him.

“We said, ‘O fire, be coolness and safety upon Ibrahim.’” (Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:69)

Other Miracle: Restoration of life to dead birds (Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:260).

✚ Prophet Lut (Lot, عليه السلام)

Miracle: Destruction of the People of Sodom.

Allah sent angels to destroy the sinful people of Sodom with stones of baked clay.

“We rained upon them stones of layered hard clay.” (Surah Hud, 11:82)

✚ Prophet Musa (Moses, عليه السلام)

Miracle: The staff that turned into a serpent.

Parting of the Red Sea for the Israelites to escape Pharaoh.

Twelve springs gushing from a rock to provide water for his people.

“Then We inspired Musa, ‘Strike the sea with your staff,’ and it parted...” (Surah Ash-Shu‘ara, 26:63)

Other Miracles:

The glowing hand when placed in his garment.
Plagues sent to Pharaoh's people (frogs, blood, locusts, etc.). (Surah Al-A'raf, 7:133)

✚ Prophet Isa (Jesus, عليه السلام)

Miracle: Healing the blind and lepers.
Reviving the dead by Allah's permission.
Speaking as an infant to defend his mother, Maryam (Mary).
"I heal the blind and the leper and I give life to the dead—by the permission of Allah." (Surah Aal-e-Imran, 3:49)
Other Miracle: Creation of a bird from clay, by Allah's will.

✚ Prophet Dawud (David, عليه السلام)

Miracle: Softening of iron for crafting without the use of fire.
Beautiful voice for reciting the Psalms (Zabur)
"And We made the iron soft for him." (Surah Saba, 34:10)
Other Miracle: The ability to understand and communicate with birds and animals.

✚ Prophet Sulaiman (Solomon, عليه السلام)

Miracle: Control over the wind and jinn.
Communication with animals and birds.
The ability to move heavy objects with the wind.
"And to Sulaiman (We subjected) the wind..." (Surah Sad, 38:36)

✚ Prophet Yunus (Jonah, عليه السلام)

Miracle: Survival in the belly of the whale.
After being swallowed by a whale, he prayed to Allah and was saved.

“And the fish swallowed him while he was blameworthy. Then, We threw him onto the open shore...” (Surah As-Saffat, 37:142-145)

✚ Prophet Hud (عليه السلام)

Miracle: Safety from the destruction of the Aad people. The Aad were destroyed by a devastating wind, while Hud and the believers were saved.

“And when Our command came, We saved Hud and those who believed with him.” (Surah Hud, 11:58)

✚ Prophet Salih (عليه السلام)

Miracle: The she-camel.

A she-camel was miraculously brought forth from a rock as a sign for the Thamud people.

“This is the she-camel of Allah—a sign to you.” (Surah Hud, 11:64)

✚ Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ)

Miracle: The Quran: The eternal and unmatched miracle in eloquence, guidance, and scientific truths.

Splitting of the Moon:

“The Hour has drawn near, and the moon has been cleft asunder.” (Surah Al-Qamar, 54:1)

Isra and Mi'raj: The night journey to Jerusalem and ascension to the heavens in a single night.

“Glory be to Him who took His servant by night...” (Surah Al-Isra, 17:1)

Water Flowing from His Fingers and Increase in Food during times of scarcity.

Conclusion:

The qualities of Prophets make them ideal role models for humanity. Their truthfulness, trustworthiness, wisdom, and infallibility ensure that they convey Allah's message accurately and effectively. By studying their lives and characteristics, Muslims gain guidance on how to live a righteous and fulfilling life in accordance with Allah's will.

➤ Distinguishing Characteristics/Attributes of the beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ)

Question:

Describe the distinguishing characteristics of the beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ).

Answer:

The beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) possesses distinguishing characteristics that make him unparalleled as a leader, guide, and role model for all humanity. These characteristics reflect the perfection of his personality and the divine qualities bestowed upon him by Allah. Below are the most prominent distinguishing characteristics of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ):

1. Seal of Prophethood (Khatam-un-Nabiyyin):

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is the final prophet in the line of all prophets sent by Allah. This distinction underscores the completion of divine revelation with him.

Quranic evidence:

“Muhammad is not the father of any one of your men, but he is the Messenger of Allah and the seal of the prophets.”

2. Mercy to All Worlds (Rahmat-ul-lil-Alameen):

The Prophet (ﷺ) was sent as a mercy to all of creation, including humans, animals, and the environment.
Quranic evidence:

وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ إِلَّا رَحْمَةً لِّلْعَالَمِينَ ﴿٢١﴾

“And We sent not you, [O Muhammad], but a mercy for all worlds.”

(Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:107)

The Prophet (ﷺ) introduced principles of compassion and humanity in warfare, prohibiting the killing of innocents, destruction of property, and harm to the environment.

3. Exemplary Character (Uswah Hasanah):

His character was impeccable, serving as a perfect example for humanity in all aspects of life—social, spiritual, and moral.

Quranic evidence:

“Indeed, in the Messenger of Allah, you have an excellent example for whoever has hope in Allah and the Last Day and remembers Allah often.”

(Surah Al-Ahzab, 33:21)

Aisha (رضي الله عنها) described his character as:

“His character was the Quran.” (Sahih Muslim)

4. The last book revealed on Him:

The Quran is the last Book of Allah sent for the guidance of humanity through the last

بِمَا نَزَّلَ عَلَىٰ مُحَمَّدٍ هُوَ الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّهِمْ

And those who believed and did good works and believed in what has been sent down upon Mohammad, and that is the truth from their Lord.

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) was chosen by Allah to receive and convey the Quran, the ultimate and eternal guidance for humanity.

(Surah Muhammad, 47:2)

“We have certainly sent down to you the Book in truth so that you may judge between the people by that which Allah has shown you.”

(Surah An-Nisa, 4:105)

5. Finality of the Deen:

Almighty Allah said in the Holy Quran:

الْيَوْمَ أَكْمَلْتُ لَكُمْ دِينَكُمْ وَأَتِمَمْتُ عَلَيْكُمْ نِعْمَتِي وَرَضِيتُ لَكُمُ الْإِسْلَامَ دِينًا

“This day I have perfected your religion for you and completed my favor upon you and have chosen Islam as religion for you.”

(Surah Al-Maida, 5:3)

Religion has been completed, so there is no need for any other prophet or religion after the Holy Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) and Islam. The completion of Islam lies in its perpetual nature, i.e., unlike previous religious canons, the laws of Islam will not be abrogated, remaining perfectly apt for people until the Day of Judgement. The verse unequivocally confirms that there cannot be a prophet after the Sun of Prophethood and Leader of Prophets (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ وَسَلَّمَ) as the religion is complete. Once the sun has risen, a lamp is of no use. Hence, the Qādiyānī religion is false. The core, underlying principles of Islam are fixed and unchanging. Islam is favored by Allah Almighty, i.e. the religion of the Final Prophet (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَآلِهِ وَسَلَّمَ). Now, all other religions will not be accepted before Allah. If one does thousands of righteous deeds after abandoning Islam, he will not be beloved to Allah as Islam is the equivalent of tree roots and 'good' deeds are branches with leaves. Hence, it is pointless to water branches after uprooting the tree.

6. Truthfulness and Trustworthiness:

Even before prophethood, the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) was known as As-Sadiq (The Truthful) and Al-Ameen (The Trustworthy) among the people of Makkah. His honesty and integrity were universally recognized.

7. Universality:

The Prophet (ﷺ) was sent not to a single nation or people but to all of humanity and the jinn.

Quranic evidence:

“And We have not sent you except comprehensively to mankind as a bringer of good tidings and a warner.”

(Surah Saba, 34:28)

8. Intercessor on the Day of Judgment (Shafa'ah)

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) will intercede on behalf of his followers on the Day of Judgment. This is a unique honor granted to him by Allah.

Hadith evidence:

“I am the leader of the children of Adam on the Day of Resurrection, and I am not boasting about it.” (Sahih Muslim)

9. Balanced Leadership:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) exemplified the perfect balance between being a spiritual guide, a head of state, and a compassionate human being.

He led by example, combining justice with mercy, firmness with kindness, and vision with humility.

10. Direct Communication with Allah:

During the Night Journey (Isra wal Miraj), the Prophet (ﷺ) ascended to the heavens and spoke directly with Allah, an honor bestowed only upon him.

Quranic evidence:

“And he revealed to His Servant what he revealed.”

(Surah An-Najm, 53:10)

11. Divine Protection:

Allah granted the Prophet (ﷺ) protection from harm and ensured the preservation of his message.

Quranic evidence:

“And Allah will protect you from the people.”

(Surah Al-Ma'idah, 5:67)

12. Humility Despite Greatness:

Despite being the most honored creation of Allah, the Prophet (ﷺ) remained humble, referring to himself as a servant of Allah (‘Abdullah).

Hadith evidence:

“I am but a servant. I eat as a servant eats, and I sit as a servant sits.” (Ibn Majah)

13. Prophethood Confirmed in Previous Scriptures:

The coming of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) was foretold in the Torah and the Gospel.

Quranic evidence:

“Those who follow the Messenger, the unlettered prophet, whom they find written in what they have of the Torah and the Gospel...”

(Surah Al-A'raf, 7:157)

14. Love and Compassion for His Followers:

The Prophet (ﷺ) showed deep concern and love for his followers, praying for their forgiveness and guidance.

Quranic evidence:

“There has certainly come to you a Messenger from among yourselves. Grievous to him is what you suffer; [he is] concerned over you and to the believers is kind and merciful.”

(Surah At-Tawbah, 9:128)

15. Eloquence and Wisdom:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) was gifted with unmatched eloquence and wisdom, making his words timeless and universally applicable.

Hadith evidence:

“I have been given the most comprehensive words.”

(Bukhari, Muslim)

16. Forgiveness and Generosity:

The Prophet (ﷺ) forgave even his staunchest enemies, such as the Quraysh, during the conquest of Makkah, setting a standard for magnanimity.

17. Advocate for Human Rights:

He championed the rights of women, orphans, and the oppressed, transforming societal norms and ensuring justice and equality.

18. Miracles of the Beloved Holy Prophet (ﷺ):

What is a Miracle? In Islamic terminology, a miracle (in Arabic: معجزة, Mu'jizah) is defined as an extraordinary event or act.

The events that occur from the Prophets (peace be upon them) that are contrary to tradition and amaze the intellect, and that leave all deniers speechless, are called miracles in the terminology of Sharia.

The Greatest Miracles of the Last Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ):

1. The Quran - The Eternal Miracle:

The Quran is the most remarkable and enduring miracle of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ). Unlike other miracles limited to a specific time or place, the Quran remains a perpetual miracle for all generations.

- ✚ Inimitable Eloquence and Linguistic Perfection.
- ✚ Comprehensive Guidance.
- ✚ Scientific Insights.
- ✚ Unchanged Text.

2. The Night Journey and Ascension (Isra and Mi'raj):

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) experienced the miraculous journey of Isra and Mi'raj, where he traveled from Makkah to Jerusalem (Isra) and then ascended through the heavens to meet Allah (Mi'raj), all in one night.

- ✚ Quranic Evidence:

“Glory be to Him who took His servant by night from Al-Masjid Al-Haram to Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa...”

(Surah Al-Isra, 17:1)

Key Events During Mi'raj:

The Prophet (ﷺ) met various prophets in the heavens, including Adam, Musa, Isa, and Ibrahim (peace be upon them).

He was granted the five daily prayers as an obligation for his followers.

This journey reaffirmed the Prophet's connection with the divine and demonstrated his unique status among all creation.

3. Splitting of the Moon (Shaq al-Qamar):

One of the most well-known miracles of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is the splitting of the moon, which occurred in response to a challenge from the disbelievers of Makkah.

Quranic Evidence:

“The Hour has drawn near, and the moon has been split [in two].”

(Surah Al-Qamar, 54:1)

Hadith Evidence:

Narrated Abdullah ibn Mas'ud (رضي الله عنه):

“The moon was split into two parts while we were with the Prophet, and he said, ‘Witness this.’” (Bukhari, Muslim)

This miraculous event demonstrated the power of Allah and the truthfulness of the Prophet (ﷺ) but still did not convince those whose hearts were hardened in disbelief.

4. Water Flowing from His Fingers:

On multiple occasions, the Prophet (ﷺ) performed the miracle of providing water when there was a dire need.

Hadith Evidence:

Narrated Jabir ibn Abdullah (رضي الله عنه):

"The people became very thirsty on the day of Al-Hudaybiyah. The Prophet called for a vessel, took some water in it, washed his hands, rinsed his mouth, and poured the water back into the vessel. Then we drank from it and gave it to our animals." (Bukhari, Muslim)

This miracle highlighted the Prophet's care and concern for his followers and demonstrated Allah's blessings upon him. Apart from this, there are many other miracles mentioned in the books, some of which are listed below.

- ✚ Increase in Food and Provisions.
- ✚ Healing the Sick.
- ✚ Significance of These Miracles.

Conclusion:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is the pinnacle of moral and spiritual excellence. His distinguishing characteristics make him the ideal role model for all of humanity, transcending time and geography. By studying and emulating his life, Muslims and non-Muslims alike can find guidance for living a righteous, meaningful, and compassionate life.

➤ The Islamic concept of the Seal of the Prophets.

(Finality of Prophethood) (عقیده ختم الانبياء - جوئی)

Question:

Hazrat Muhammad Mustafa ﷺ is the seal of the Prophets. According to the Quran and Hadith, explain the belief of end of prophethood.

Answer:

The belief in the end of prophethood (Khatm an-Nubuwwah), that Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is the final prophet sent by Allah, is a fundamental tenet of Islamic faith. This concept asserts that after the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), there will be no new prophets or messengers. Both the Quran and Hadith provide clear statements affirming this belief.

1. Quranic Evidence for the End of Prophethood:

The Quran explicitly describes Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) as the final prophet, using the term Khatam an-Nabiyyin خَاتَمُ النَّبِيِّينَ, which means "Seal of the Prophets."

Verse in Surah Al-Ahzab: "Muhammad is not the father of [any] one of your men, but [he is] the Messenger of Allah and the Seal of the Prophets."

(Surah Al-Ahzab, 33:40)

This verse is foundational to the belief that no prophet will come after Muhammad (ﷺ). The term "Seal of the Prophets" signifies that he is the final prophet, completing and perfecting the chain of prophethood.

2. Hadith Evidence for the Finality of Prophethood:

Numerous Hadiths provide further clarity on the finality of Prophet Muhammad's (ﷺ) prophethood. Here are some key narrations:

Hadith in Sahih al-Bukhari: The Prophet (ﷺ) said, "The example of me and the previous prophets is that of a man who built a house and completed it except for a missing brick in a corner. People looked at it and admired it, but said, ‘If only this brick were put in its place.’ So I am that brick, and I am the Seal of the Prophets.”

(Sahih al-Bukhari)

Hadith in Sahih Muslim: The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said, “There will be no prophet after me.”

(Sahih Muslim)

Hadith in Jami at-Tirmidhi: The Prophet (ﷺ) said, “I am Muhammad, I am Ahmad, I am the Prophet of repentance, I am the Prophet of mercy, and I am the Seal of the Prophets.”

(Jami at-Tirmidhi)

These Hadiths emphasize that he is the final prophet in a series that culminates and concludes with him. The analogy of the missing brick indicates that prophethood reached completion with Muhammad (ﷺ).

3. Consensus of the Muslim Community (Ijma'):

The consensus (ijma') of the Muslim community, from the time of the Prophet's companions (Sahabah) to the present, holds that Muhammad (ﷺ) is the last prophet. This has been a core tenet in Islamic belief throughout history, and deviation from this belief is considered heretical in Islam.

4. Significance and Implications of the End of Prophethood:

The finality of prophethood has deep significance in Islam:

Completion of Divine Guidance:

The teachings of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) and the Quran are considered comprehensive and eternal, providing all necessary guidance for humanity. The completion of prophethood means that the guidance revealed in Islam is meant to be final and sufficient until the end of time.

Protection of the Quran and Sunnah:

Since there will be no new prophet, Allah has promised to preserve the Quran, making it accessible and protected from any alteration (Surah Al-Hijr, 15:9). The Sunnah (traditions) of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is also preserved, serving as a practical model of Quranic teachings.

Unity and Universality:

The finality of prophethood unites all Muslims under a single set of beliefs, ensuring that no new teachings can alter or divide the core tenets of Islam.

5. Refutation of False Claims to Prophethood:

The belief in the end of prophethood acts as a safeguard against those who falsely claim to be prophets after Muhammad (ﷺ). Such claims are categorically rejected in Islam, as the Quran and Hadith make it clear that there will be no prophets after the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ).

Hadith Warning against False Prophets: The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) warned that there would be impostors claiming to be prophets after him, but they should not be believed:

“The Hour will not come until there appear thirty false messengers, each of them claiming that he is a messenger of Allah.”

(Sahih Muslim)

Conclusion:

The belief in the finality of prophethood is central to Islam, affirming that Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is the last messenger sent to humanity and that his teachings are complete and preserved for all time. This belief is deeply rooted in both the Quran and Hadith and is accepted unanimously among Muslims, serving as a foundation for Islamic theology and practice.

5. Believe in the Day of Judgment

Question:

Describe in detail what is the concept of the Day of Judgment in Islam and how many times the trumpet will be blown?

Answer:

In Islam, the Day of Judgment (Qiyamah or Yawm al-Din) is a pivotal event marking the end of the world, where every individual will be held accountable for their deeds.

Concept of the Day of Judgment:

1. Resurrection: Allah will resurrect all humans and jinn, restoring their physical bodies.
2. Gathering: All creatures will be gathered before Allah for reckoning.
3. Accountability: Each individual will be judged based on their deeds, intentions, and faith.
4. Reward or Punishment: Righteous individuals will enter Paradise (Jannah), while the wicked will be consigned to Hell (Jahannam).

The Trumpet (Sur):

The Day of Judgment will be heralded by the blowing of the trumpet (Sur) by the angel Israfil.

Blowing of the Trumpet:

On the Day of Judgment, the trumpet will be blown twice, according to the Quran and Hadith. This event is central to the unfolding of the Day of Resurrection and signifies the beginning of the end of the world and the subsequent resurrection of all beings. Here is a breakdown of each blowing.

1. First Blowing:

The Blowing of Destruction (Nafkhatu'l-Faza' or Nafkhatu'l-Sa'aq)

The first blow will initiate the destruction of the heavens and the earth and the death of all living creatures. This blow is described as one that will strike fear and terror, leading to the collapse of the natural world.

Quranic Reference: "And the Trumpet will be blown, and whoever is in the heavens and whoever is on the earth will fall dead except whom Allah wills."

(Surah Az-Zumar, 39:68)

2. Second Blowing:

The Blowing of Resurrection (Nafkhatu'l-Ba'th or Nafkhatu'l-Qiyama)

After an unspecified period, the trumpet will be blown a second time, signaling the resurrection of all creatures from their graves. This blowing will awaken the dead, bringing them to life to stand before Allah for judgment.

Quranic Reference: "Then it will be blown again, and at once they will be standing, looking on."

(Surah Az-Zumar, 39:68)

Hadith Confirmation: A Hadith also confirms the two blasts, as narrated by Abu Hurairah (رضي الله عنه):

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said, "Between the two blowings of the trumpet, there will be forty [periods of time]." (Sahih al-Bukhari and Sahih Muslim)

Thus, the two blowings mark both the end and the renewal of life, signifying the start of the Day of Judgment and the resurrection for accountability.

Stages of the Day of Judgment:

1. Al-Qiyamah (Resurrection)
2. Al-Hashr (Gathering)
3. Al-Hisab (Accountability)
4. Al-Mizan (Weighing of Deeds)
5. Al-Sirat (Crossing the Bridge)
6. Al-Jannah (Paradise) or Al-Jahannam (Hell)

Signs of the Day of Judgment:

1. Appearance of the Mahdi
2. Return of Jesus (Isa)
3. Emergence of the Dajjal (Anti-Christ)
4. Rise of the sun from the west
5. Collapse of the Kaaba
6. Increase in trials and tribulations

Quranic References:

1. Quran 18:99 - "And the Trumpet will be blown, and We will gather them together."
2. Quran 39:68 - "And the Trumpet will be blown, and all who are in the heavens and all who are on earth will fall dead."

Hadith References:

1. Bukhari - "The Trumpet will be blown three times."
2. Muslim - "The Day of Judgment will not come until the sun rises from the west."

Conclusion:

The Day of Judgment is a fundamental concept in Islam, emphasizing accountability and the ultimate consequences of one's actions. Muslims are encouraged to live righteous lives, preparing for the inevitable reckoning.

➤ Names of the day of judgement (Qiyamah)

Question:

How many names of the day of judgement (Qiyamah) are there in the Holy Quran? Introduce them all in details.

Answer:

In the Holy Quran, the Day of Judgment (Qiyamah) is mentioned by various names, emphasizing its significance and different aspects. Here are 17 names of Qiyamah mentioned in the Quran:

1. Yawn al-Qiyamah (يوم القيامة) - Day of Resurrection
(Quran 17:71, 30:56)
2. Yawn al-Din (يوم الدين) - Day of Judgment

(Quran 51:12, 82:15)

3. Yawn al-Hisab (يوم الحساب) - Day of Reckoning

(Quran 38:16, 40:17)

4. Yawn al-Mizan (يوم الميزان) - Day of Weighing

(Quran 7:8, 21:47)

5. Yawn al-Talaq (يوم التلاق) - Day of Gathering

(Quran 40:15, 42:17)

6. Yawn al-Hashr (يوم الحشر) - Day of Assembly

(Quran 25:25, 42:17)

7. Yawn al-Nushur (يوم النشور) - Day of Expulsion

(Quran 50:42, 79:14)

8. Yawn al-Khulud (يوم الخلود) - Day of Eternity

(Quran 50:34, 68:34)

9. Yawn al-Azifah (يوم الألفة) - Day of Catastrophe

(Quran 44:16)

10. Yawn al-Ghayb (يوم الغيب) - Day of the Unseen

(Quran 27:82, 32:23)

11. Yawn al-Waqi'ah (يوم الواقعة) - Day of the Event

(Quran 56:1-2)

12. Yawn al-Tanad (يوم التناد) - Day of Calling

(Quran 41:47)

13. Yawn al-Jam' (يوم الجمع) - Day of Gathering

(Quran 26:51, 42:17)

14. Yawn al-Fasl (يوم الفصل) - Day of Separation

(Quran 37:21, 44:40)

15. Yawn al-Ba'th (يوم البعث) - Day of Resurrection

(Quran 22:5, 30:56)

16. Yawn al-Rujz (يوم الرجز) - Day of Wrath

(Quran 7:184, 11:98)

17. Yawn al-Zulm (يوم الظلم) - Day of Darkness

(Quran 10:52, 21:47)

Each name highlights a distinct aspect of Qiyamah, emphasizing its significance and gravity.

6. Believe in the Destiny/ Predestination

➤ Concept of destiny (Taqdeer/Qadar)

Question:

What is the basic Islamic concept of destiny according to Quran and Hadith?

Answer:

The Islamic concept of destiny (Qadr) is a fundamental belief in Islam, rooted in the idea that Allah is the ultimate authority and has preordained everything in creation. Belief in Qadr is one of the six pillars of faith in Islam and signifies complete trust in Allah's wisdom and justice.

Definition of Destiny (Qadr):

Destiny in Islam refers to Allah's divine decree and the predetermined plan for everything in existence. It is based on four key aspects:

Knowledge (Ilm):

Allah has complete and perfect knowledge of everything, including the past, present, and future.

“Indeed, Allah is All-Knowing of all things.”

(Surah Al-Anfal, 8:75)

Preserved Tablet (Al-Lawh al-Mahfuz):

Allah has recorded everything in the Preserved Tablet (Al-Lawh al-Mahfuz).

“Do you not know that Allah knows what is in the heaven and earth? Indeed, this is in a Record. Indeed, that is easy for Allah.”

(Surah Al-Hadid, 57:22)

Will (Mashiah/مَشِيَّت):

Nothing occurs except by the will of Allah.

“And you do not will except that Allah wills.”

(Surah Al-Insan, 76:30)

Creation (Khalq):

Allah is the creator of everything, including human actions.

“Allah is the Creator of all things, and He is, over all things, Disposer of affairs.”

(Surah Az-Zumar, 39:62)

Quranic References to Destin:

Allah’s Knowledge Encompasses All Things:

“And with Him are the keys of the unseen; none knows them except Him. And He knows what is on the land and in the sea. Not a leaf falls but that He knows it.”

(Surah Al-An’am, 6:59)

Everything Happens by Allah’s Will:

“No disaster strikes upon the earth or among yourselves except that it is in a register before We bring it into being—indeed that, for Allah, is easy.”

(Surah Al-Hadid, 57:22)

Testing Through Decree:

“And We test you with evil and with good as trial; and to Us, you will be returned.”

(Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:35)

Belief in Qadr as Part of Faith (According to Hadith):

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said: “Faith is to believe in Allah, His angels, His books, His messengers, the Last Day, and to believe in Qadr, both its good and its evil.”

(Sahih Muslim)

Allah's Knowledge of the Future:

The Prophet (ﷺ) said: "Allah wrote down the decrees of creation fifty thousand years before He created the heavens and the earth."

(Sahih Muslim)

Human Effort and Responsibility:

A man asked the Prophet (ﷺ): "Should we rely on our destiny or strive?" The Prophet replied: 'Strive, for everyone will be facilitated to what he is created for.'

(Sahih al-Bukhari and Sahih Muslim)

Dua and Decree:

The Prophet (ﷺ) said: "Nothing increases one's lifespan except good deeds, and nothing repels divine decree except supplication."

(Jami` at-Tirmidhi)

(Key Concepts of Destiny in Islam)

Balance Between Divine Decree and Free Will

While Allah has preordained everything, humans are given free will to make choices. These choices are within Allah's knowledge and decree but are made independently by humans, making them accountable for their actions.

Testing and Patience:

Life's difficulties are seen as part of Allah's divine plan to test believers. Accepting Allah's decree with patience is considered an act of faith.

Trust in Allah (Tawakkul):

Believers are encouraged to place their trust in Allah's wisdom while striving to do their best in life.

Good and Evil:

Everything, including hardships and blessings, is part of Allah's plan. Even difficulties are ultimately for the benefit of believers, as they lead to spiritual growth.

(Practical Lessons from Belief in Destiny)Contentment and Peace:

Belief in Qadr helps believers accept life's ups and downs, leading to contentment and reducing anxiety over things beyond human control.

Encouragement to Act:

Knowing that Allah rewards effort and supplication encourages Muslims to work hard and pray for a better outcome.

Accountability:

Despite Allah's decree, humans are accountable for their choices and actions, reinforcing the importance of ethical behavior.

Conclusion:

The belief in destiny (Qadr) provides a framework for understanding life's events within the context of Allah's wisdom and justice. It fosters trust in Allah, encourages striving for good, and instills patience and contentment in the face of challenges, making it a cornerstone of Islamic faith and practice.

➤ Types of Destiny

Question:

Explain the types of destiny according to the concept of Islam.

Answer:

In Islamic theology, destiny (Qadr) is categorized into two types: Revocable (Muallaq) and Unrevocable (Mubram).

Unrevocable Destiny (Mubram)

1. Definition: Allah's eternal, irreversible decree.
2. Characteristics:
 - i) Known only to Allah.
 - ii) Unchangeable.
 - iii) Predetermined.
3. Examples:
 - i) Time of death.
 - ii) Place of birth.
 - iii) Parentage.

Revocable Destiny (Muallaq)

1. Definition: Allah's decree that can change based on human actions.
2. Characteristics:
 - i) Conditional.
 - ii) Changeable.
 - iii) Dependent on human choices.
3. Examples:
 - i) Life events (marriage, wealth, health).
 - ii) Success or failure.
 - iii) Reward or punishment.

Key differences:

1. Immutability: Mubram is unchangeable, while Muallaq can change.
2. Human influence: Muallaq is influenced by human actions, such as supplication, charity, Sila Rehmi, and good deeds etc. whereas Mubram is not.
3. Knowledge: Mubram is known only to Allah, while Muallaq is known to Allah and, to some extent, humans.

Quranic References:

يُحَوِّلُهُ مَا يَشَاءُ وَيُخْتَارُ ۚ وَعِنْدَآ أَمْرٌ كَلْبٌ

1. "Allah erases and preserves whatever He wills; and the written reality is only with Him." (Quran 13:39)

وَمَا كَانَ لِنَفْسٍ أَنْ تَبْتَغِيَ إِلَّا بِإِذْنِ اللَّهِ كِتَابًا مُّجَلًّا

2. "No soul knows what it will earn tomorrow." (Quran 3:145)

Hadith References:

1. "Allah has written the Qadr of creation." (Sahih Bukhari)
2. "Qadr is Allah's secret." (Sahih Muslim)

Shariah Implications:

1. Tawakkul (trust in Allah): Accepting Mubram and striving to change Muallaq.
2. Du'a (supplication): Seeking Allah's guidance and mercy.
3. Good deeds: Performing righteous actions to influence Muallaq.

Conclusion:

Understanding the types of destiny in Islam helps Muslims cultivate trust in Allah's plan, strive for righteousness, and seek guidance through prayer and good deeds.

7. Believe in Resurrection after death (Rising from the dead)

➤ Concept of resurrection after death

Question:

Describe the Concept of resurrection after death according to the Holy Quran and Hadith with introduction, types, categories and conclusion.

Answer:

The concept of resurrection after death according to the Holy Quran and Hadith.

Introduction:

In Islam, resurrection (بعث) refers to the revival of souls and bodies after death, for judgment and accountability.

Quranic References:

1. "And the Trumpet will be blown, and all who are in the heavens and all who are on earth will be terrified." (Quran 17:71)
2. "And We have recorded everything in a clear register." (Quran 36:12)
3. "And We have created everything with Qadr (measure)." (Quran 54:49)

Types of Resurrection:

1. Al-Ba'th al-Saghir (Minor Resurrection): Resurrection of the soul after death, returning to Barzakh (the intermediate realm).

2. Al-Ba'th al-Kabir (Major Resurrection): Physical resurrection on the Day of Judgment.

Categories of Resurrection:

1. Al-Hashr (Gathering): Assembly of all creatures before Allah.
2. Al-Mahshar (Gathering Place): Location where creatures will be gathered.
3. Al-Hisab (Accountability): Reckoning of deeds.

Hadith References:

1. "You will be resurrected with your bodies and wealth." (Sahih Bukhari)
2. "The resurrection will be on the Day of Judgment." (Sahih Muslim)

Stages of Resurrection:

1. Death (موت): Separation of soul and body.
2. Intermediate Realm (برزخ): Soul's temporary abode.
3. Resurrection (بعث): Revival of souls and bodies.
4. Gathering (حشر): Assembly before Allah.
5. Judgment (حساب): Reckoning of deeds.

Conclusion:

Resurrection is a fundamental concept in Islam, emphasizing accountability and the ultimate consequences of one's actions. Muslims believe in the physical resurrection on the Day of Judgment, where every individual will be rewarded or punished based on their deeds.

➤ Resurrection after death according to surah e Baqarah verse No: 259 and 260.

Question:

Explain the concept of resurrection after death according to surah e Baqarah verse No: 259 and 260.

Answer:

Surah Al-Baqarah verse 260:

Allah Almighty said in the Holy Quran; "Or [consider] the one who passed by a township which had fallen into ruin. He said, 'How will Allah bring this to life after its death?' So Allah caused him to die for a hundred years, then brought him to life. He said, 'How long did you remain [dead]?' He replied, 'Perhaps a day or part of a day.' He said, 'No, you remained [dead] for a hundred years. Look at your food and drink; they have not changed. And look at your donkey; its bones have decayed. And We will make you a sign for the people.' Then look at the bones, how We arrange them and cover them with flesh." (Quran 2:259)

Surah Al-Baqarah verse 260:

"And when Ibrahim said, 'My Lord, show me how You give life to the dead,' He said, 'Do you not believe?' Ibrahim replied, 'Yes, but [I ask] only that my heart may be satisfied.' Allah said, 'Take four birds and draw them to you. Then place a part of them on each mountain. Then call them, and they will come to you in haste. And know that Allah is exalted in Power and Wise.'" (Quran 2:260)

Key Points:

1. Resurrection is possible: Allah can bring life to the dead.
2. Death is temporary: The deceased will be revived.
3. Allah's power: Allah can restore life, even after centuries.
4. Sign for humanity: The resurrected person becomes a sign for others.
5. Reassembly of body: Allah will reassemble the body, even from decayed bones.
6. Faith and satisfaction: Ibrahim's query was to strengthen his faith.
7. If Allah wills, He can keep even soft and delicate things safe, like the food and water of Hazrat Uzair (عليه السلام).
8. After death, He preserves in grave the body of whom He wills, and destroys the body of whom He wills.

Lessons:

1. Belief in resurrection is essential.
2. Allah's power is unmatched.
3. Death is not the end; life continues after resurrection.
4. Allah will gather and judge humanity.

Tafsir (Commentary):

According to Ibn Kathir, these verses demonstrate Allah's ability to resurrect the dead, emphasizing the possibility of life after death. The story of Ibrahim (Abraham) highlights his curiosity and desire to understand resurrection.

(2nd Chapter)

Five Pillars of Islam

➤ Definition of Islam?

Question:

What is the definition of Islam?

Answer:

Islam (إسلام) is an Arabic word meaning "submission," "surrender," or "peace." In a religious context, Islam defines itself as:

Definition:

"Submission to the will of Allah (God), adhering to His commandments, and living a life of obedience, sincerity, and devotion."

Root Meaning:

The root word "aslama" (أَسْلَمَ) means "to surrender" or "to submit."

Quranic Definition:

"And who is better in speech than one who invites to Allah and does righteousness and says, 'Indeed, I am of the Muslims'" (Quran 41:33).

Prophetic Definition:

Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said, "Islam is to testify that there is no god but Allah and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah, to establish prayer, to pay zakat, to fast in Ramadan, and to perform Hajj if you are able." (Bukhari)

Five Pillars: Islam is built upon five fundamental practices:

1. Shahada (Declaration of Faith)
2. Salah (Prayer)
3. Zakat (Charity)
4. Sawm (Fasting)
5. Hajj (Pilgrimage)

Core Principles:

1. Tawhid (Oneness of Allah)
2. Risalah (Prophet Hood)
3. Akhirah (Afterlife)
4. Adl (Justice)
5. Ihsan (Goodness)

Islam's Purpose: To guide humanity to:

1. Worship Allah alone
2. Live a virtuous life
3. Achieve spiritual growth
4. Establish justice and compassion
5. Prepare for the afterlife

In essence, Islam is a faith that emphasizes submission to Allah's will, living a righteous life, and striving for spiritual excellence.

1st Pillar

Declaration of Islam/Kalima-e-Tayyib

Question:

What is the kalima-e-tayyib of Islam? And what are its requirements? And how many things are commanded to be believed in this word?

Answer:

Kalima-e-Tayyib (كلمة طيبة): (The Pure Word/Article)

The Kalima-e-Tayyib (The Pure Word) in Islam is:

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، مُحَمَّدٌ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ

"There is no god but Allah, and Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah."

It serves as the foundation of Islamic belief and the essence of a Muslim's faith. This declaration represents the testimony of monotheism (Tawheed) and the acknowledgment of the Prophethood of Muhammad (ﷺ).

Requirements of Kalima-e-Tayyib:

To truly embrace and fulfill the requirements of Kalima-e-Tayyib, one must adhere to the following:

Belief in Tawheed (Oneness of Allah):

Affirming that there is no deity worthy of worship except Allah. Believing in His uniqueness, attributes, and complete sovereignty.

Belief in the Prophethood of Muhammad (ﷺ):

Acknowledging Muhammad (ﷺ) as the last Prophet and the final messenger of Allah.

Following his teachings, Sunnah, and way of life.

Acceptance with the Heart:

The Kalima should be declared with sincerity, not just verbally but from the depth of one's heart.

Declaration by the Tongue:

The testimony must be uttered verbally as an outward acknowledgment of one's belief.

Actions in Accordance with Faith:

Living a life consistent with Islamic teachings, worshiping Allah alone, and obeying His commandments.

Beliefs Commanded in the Kalima-e-Tayyib:

The Kalima-e-Tayyib implies belief in seven fundamental articles of faith (Iman-e-Mufasssal)

Islamic Faith in Brief (Iman-e-Mujmal):

I firmly believed in Allah as He is with all His names and attributes and I sincerely accepted all His commands confirming them with my tongue and from the bottom of my heart.

أَمَنْتُ بِاللَّهِ كَمَا هُوَ بِأَسْمَائِهِ وَصِفَاتِهِ وَقَبِلْتُ جَمِيعَ أَحْكَامِهِ أَقْرَأُ بِاللِّسَانِ وَكُصْدِي قُلُوبًا

Spiritual Purification:

The Kalima cleanses one's soul by affirming Allah's sovereignty and the Prophethood.

Obligation to Worship:

It establishes the duty to worship Allah alone, pray, fast, give charity, and perform other obligations.

Unity of Purpose:

The Kalima unites Muslims worldwide in belief and purpose.

Accountability:

It serves as a reminder of the Day of Judgment, encouraging righteous actions.

The Kalima-e-Tayyib is not merely a phrase but a covenant of submission to Allah and adherence to His guidance as revealed through Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ). Believing in and living by its requirements lead to success in both this world and the hereafter.

➤ Two testimonies of faith (شهادتين)

Question:

What is meant by the two testimonies of faith in Islam?

Answer:

The Two Testimonies of Faith in Islam (Shahadatayn)

The two testimonies of faith are the foundation of a Muslim's belief and the gateway to entering Islam. These are:

Testimony of Monotheism (Shahada of Tawhid):

“أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ”

Translation: "I bear witness that there is no deity worthy of worship except Allah."

This declares belief in the absolute oneness of Allah (Tawhid) and negates all forms of polytheism (Shirk). It affirms that Allah alone is the Creator, Sustainer, and Sovereign.

Testimony of Prophethood (Shahada of Risalah):

” وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ “

Translation: "And I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah."

This confirms belief in Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) as the final messenger of Allah. It signifies acceptance of his teachings, his role as the seal of the Prophets, and adherence to the guidance he brought through the Quran and Sunnah.

Significance:

- These two testimonies encapsulate the core of Islamic belief: recognizing Allah's oneness and the Prophethood of Muhammad (ﷺ).
- They represent a Muslim's commitment to worship Allah alone and follow the teachings of Islam as revealed to the Prophet (ﷺ).
- Declaring the Shahadatayn sincerely is the first step for anyone embracing Islam.

2nd Pillar

Prayer/Salah/Namaz

➤ Importance of Prayer

Question:

Explain in detail the obligation, virtue, and importance of prayer, and the worldly and hereafter consequences of skipping or making up prayers, according to the Quran and Hadith.

Answer:Obligation of Prayer (Salah):

Prayer (Salah) is the second pillar of Islam and a fundamental act of worship mandated upon every Muslim. Its obligation is explicitly stated in the Quran and emphasized in numerous Hadiths. Salah serves as a direct link between a believer and Allah, fostering spiritual, moral, and social discipline.

Direct Commandment:

“Establish prayer, for prayer prevents indecency and evil.”
(Surah Al-Ankabut, 29:45)

Time-Specific Obligation:

“Indeed, prayer has been decreed upon the believers at specified times.”
(Surah An-Nisa, 4:103)

Integral to Success:

“Successful indeed are the believers, those who humble themselves in their prayer.”
(Surah Al-Mu'minun, 23:1-2)

Virtue and Importance of Prayer:

Prayer is an act of submission to Allah and a reflection of gratitude, obedience, and devotion. It encompasses immense virtues:

Cleansing of Sins:

The Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“The five daily prayers and Jumu'ah (Friday prayer) to the next Jumu'ah expiate the sins committed between them, so long as one avoids major sins.” (Muslim)

Spiritual Elevation:

Prayer strengthens one's faith and brings inner peace by fostering a close relationship with Allah.

“Verily, in the remembrance of Allah do hearts find rest.”

(Surah Ar-Ra'd, 13:28)

Path to Paradise:

The Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“The first thing a person will be called to account for on the Day of Judgment is prayer. If it is sound, the rest of his deeds will be sound.” (Tirmidhi)

Consequences of Skipping Salah:

Worldly Consequences

Loss of Allah's Blessings:

A person who neglects prayer invites hardships and loses the blessings (barakah) in life.

“And whoever turns away from My remembrance indeed, he will have a depressed life...”

(Surah Taha, 20:124)

Spiritual Deprivation:

The heart becomes spiritually hardened, and one distances themselves from Allah's mercy.

Impact on Society:

Skiping prayer contributes to moral decay and lack of discipline in individual and societal life.

Hereafter Consequences

Severe Punishment:

“[The people of Hell will ask:] ‘What put you into Saqar (Hellfire)?’ They will say, ‘We were not of those who prayed.’”

(Surah Al-Muddathir, 74:42-43)

Denial of Intercession:

The Prophet (ﷺ) stated that neglecting prayer results in exclusion from his intercession on the Day of Judgment.

“Between a man and shirk (associating partners with Allah) is the abandonment of prayer.” (Sahi Muslim)

Doom in the Hereafter:

Those who persistently neglect prayer face dire consequences.

“Woe to those who pray [but are heedless of their prayer]...”

(Surah Al-Ma'un, 107:4-5)

Making Up for Missed Prayers (Qada):

If a prayer is missed unintentionally (due to sleep, forgetfulness, etc.), it must be made up as soon as possible.

Evidence from Hadith:

The Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“Whoever forgets a prayer, let him pray it as soon as he remembers. There is no expiation other than this.”

(Bukhari, Muslim)

Conditions for Qada:

Sincere repentance for missing the prayer.

Resolving not to repeat the mistake.

Penalty for Deliberate Neglect:

Deliberate abandonment of prayer without a valid excuse is a grave sin, and making up for such prayers requires both qada and sincere repentance.

Benefits of Establishing Salah:

Forgiveness and Mercy:

Prayer acts as a means for seeking forgiveness and earning Allah's mercy.

“O you who have believed, seek help through patience and prayer. Indeed, Allah is with the patient.”

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:153)

Unity of the Ummah:

Congregational prayer strengthens community bonds and fosters equality.

Divine Protection:

The Prophet (ﷺ) mentioned that prayer acts as a shield against evil and wrongdoing.

Conclusion:

Prayer is not merely an act of worship but the foundation of a Muslim's spiritual and worldly life. Its regular observance ensures moral uprightness, a connection with Allah, and blessings in this world and the Hereafter. Neglecting prayer leads to spiritual ruin and severe consequences, while making up for missed prayers and sincere repentance can restore one's relationship with Allah. Prioritizing Salah should be the focus of every Muslim to achieve success and eternal bliss.

➤ Benefits of Prayer worldly & Hereafter

Question:

According to modern science what kind of act is prayer? Does it have worldly benefits? Write at least five worldly and five hereafter benefits.

Answer:

Prayer as an Act According to Modern Science:

From a scientific perspective, prayer is often considered a meditative and reflective act with profound physical, psychological, and emotional benefits. Research indicates that prayer can positively impact the brain, nervous system, and overall well-being. By promoting mindfulness, reducing stress, and fostering a sense of purpose, prayer aligns closely with practices recommended for a healthy life.

Worldly Benefits of Prayer

1. Stress Reduction and Mental Health:

Scientific studies have shown that regular prayer reduces levels of stress and anxiety by activating the parasympathetic nervous system, which helps calm the body and mind.

Example: A consistent prayer routine has been linked to lower cortisol levels.

2. Improved Heart Health:

Prayer fosters relaxation and lowers blood pressure, reducing the risk of cardiovascular diseases.

3. Enhanced Focus and Discipline:

Prayer trains the mind to concentrate and adhere to a schedule, leading to improved focus and self-discipline in daily life.

4. Social Cohesion:

Congregational prayers encourage community bonding, equality, and a sense of belonging, which are essential for mental and social well-being.

5. Enhanced Gratitude and Optimism:

Prayer encourages a mindset of gratitude and hope, positively impacting overall life satisfaction and resilience against hardships.

Hereafter Benefits of Prayer

1. Path to Forgiveness:

Prayer is a means of seeking forgiveness from Allah, purifying the soul, and earning His mercy.

Quranic Evidence: “Establish prayer at the two ends of the day and in some hours of the night. Verily, good deeds remove evil deeds.” (Surah Hud, 11:114)

2. First Accountability:

The first deed to be evaluated on the Day of Judgment is prayer.

Hadith: “The first thing that will be asked about on the Day of Judgment is prayer. If it is sound, the rest of his deeds will be sound.” (Tirmidhi)

3. Reward in Paradise:

Those who diligently perform prayer will be among the blessed in Jannah (Paradise).

Quranic Evidence: “Successful indeed are the believers, those who humble themselves in their prayer.” (Surah Al-Mu’minun, 23:1-2)

4. Protection from Hellfire:

Prayer serves as a shield from Hellfire for the believer.

Hadith: “The prayer is a light, charity is proof, and patience is illumination.” (Muslim)

5. Elevated Status in the Hereafter:

Performing prayer consistently raises the believer’s rank in the sight of Allah, bringing them closer to Him.

Conclusion:

Prayer is not only a divine obligation but also a comprehensive act with worldly and hereafter benefits. Scientifically, it enhances mental, emotional, and physical well-being, while spiritually, it strengthens the bond with Allah, ensuring eternal success. Muslims are encouraged to maintain regular prayer to benefit both in this world and in the Hereafter.

3rd Pillar

Fasting/Soam/Roza

Question:

Explain in detail the obligation, virtue, and importance of fasting during the month of Ramadan according to the

Answer:

 The Obligation, Virtue, and Importance of Fasting During Ramadan:

Fasting during the month of Ramadan is one of the five pillars of Islam and is an obligation upon every adult, sane, and capable Muslim. It is a profound act of worship that fosters spiritual growth, discipline, and gratitude while bringing immense rewards both in this world and the Hereafter.

1. Obligation of Fasting

The obligation of fasting is clearly mentioned in the Quran: “O you who have believed, decreed upon you is fasting as it was decreed upon those before you that you may become righteous.”

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:183)

“The month of Ramadan [is that] in which was revealed the Qur'an, a guidance for the people and clear proofs of guidance and criterion. So whoever sights [the new moon of] the month, let him fast it.”

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:185)

In the Hadith, The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“Islam is built upon five pillars: testimony of faith, establishing prayer, paying Zakat, fasting in Ramadan, and performing Hajj.” (Bukhari)

2. Virtues of Fasting in Ramadan

✚ Attaining Taqwa (Piety):

Fasting instills God-consciousness, self-restraint, and sincerity, drawing Muslims closer to Allah.

✚ Immense Rewards:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“Every deed of the son of Adam is multiplied between ten and seven hundred times, except fasting, for it is for Me, and I shall reward for it.” (Bukhari)

✚ Forgiveness of Sins:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“Whoever fasts during Ramadan with faith and seeking reward will have their past sins forgiven.” (Bukhari)

✚ Entry into Paradise:

“In Paradise, there is a gate called Ar-Rayyan through which only those who fast will enter on the Day of Judgment.” (Bukhari)

Spiritual Upliftment and Connection with the Quran:
Ramadan is the month of the Quran, enhancing the believer's bond with Allah's word.

3. Importance of Fasting

✚ Obedience to Allah:

Fasting demonstrates submission to Allah's command and strengthens faith.

Detachment from Material Desires:

Fasting disciplines the soul by curbing physical desires, such as food, drink, and marital relations, during daylight hours.

Empathy for the Poor:

Experiencing hunger during fasting increases compassion for those who are less fortunate.

Health Benefits:

Fasting can detoxify the body, promote mental clarity, and improve overall health.

Communal Bonding:

Ramadan unites Muslims worldwide in collective worship, fostering a sense of global brotherhood.

Consequences of Neglecting Fasting:

In the Quran, “But whoever deliberately disobeys and breaks the fast without excuse, they are counted among the sinners, and they must repent to Allah.”

(Derived from Quranic principles)

In the Hadith, The Prophet (ﷺ) warned of severe

Consequences for neglecting fasting:

“While I was sleeping, two men came to me and said: ‘The man whose cheeks are being torn is the one who used to eat before the time of breaking fast in Ramadan.’” (Ibn Majah)

Worldly and Hereafter Losses:

Loss of Allah's Mercy:

Neglecting fasting distances one from divine blessings.

Spiritual Decline:

A person loses the opportunity for purification and self-discipline.

Accountability on the Day of Judgment:

Those who abandon fasting will face Allah's questioning.

Exclusion from the Gates of Ar-Rayyan:

Such individuals miss entry through the gate reserved for those who fast.

Punishment in the Grave and Hellfire:

Skipping fasting without valid reasons may lead to severe consequences in the Hereafter.

Conclusion:

Fasting in Ramadan is a profound spiritual practice that benefits the believer in countless ways. It is a means of attaining piety, seeking Allah's pleasure, and fostering compassion. Neglecting this obligation can lead to worldly and eternal consequences. Every Muslim should strive to observe fasting diligently, recognizing it as a gift and a test from Allah, leading to success in this life and the Hereafter.

➤ Benefits of Fasting

Question:

Write the punishment for intentionally skipping or making up a fast according to the Quran and Hadith, and the worldly benefits of fasting according to modern science.

Answer:

Punishment for Intentionally Skipping or Breaking a Fast
Skipping or deliberately breaking a fast during Ramadan without a valid reason is a serious sin in Islam. Both the Quran and Hadith emphasize the spiritual and moral consequences of such actions.

Punishment According to the Quran

Accountability on the Day of Judgment:

“And whoever transgresses the limits of Allah—it is they who are the wrongdoers.”

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:229)

Sin of Neglecting an Obligation:

Deliberately skipping a fast falls under disobedience to Allah’s commands, as fasting is one of the pillars of Islam. Such actions invite Allah’s displeasure unless repented sincerely.

Punishment According to the Hadith

Grave Consequences:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“While I was sleeping, two men came to me and said: ‘The man whose cheeks are being torn is the one who used to eat before the time of breaking fast in Ramadan.’”

(Ibn Majah, Tirmidhi)

Fidya and Qada (Making Up and Expiation):

If a fast is deliberately broken by eating, drinking, or engaging in marital relations, the person must:

- a. Fast for two consecutive months (60 days), or
- b. Feed 60 needy people, if unable to fast, as expiation (Kaffara).

“A man came to the Prophet (ﷺ) and said, ‘I have ruined myself.’ The Prophet said, ‘You must free a slave, fast two consecutive months, or feed sixty poor people.’” (Bukhari, Muslim)

Missed Reward:

Intentionally neglecting a fast forfeits the immense spiritual and eternal rewards promised by Allah.

Worldly Benefits of Fasting According to Modern Science
Fasting not only holds spiritual benefits but is also scientifically proven to have numerous health advantages.

Improved Metabolic Health:

Fasting helps regulate blood sugar levels, reduce insulin resistance, and improve cholesterol profiles.

Detoxification and Cellular Repair:

During fasting, the body engages in autophagy, a process where it removes damaged cells and toxins.

Weight Loss and Fat Reduction:

Fasting promotes fat burning and reduces visceral fat, contributing to better weight management.

Enhanced Brain Function:

Fasting boosts brain-derived neurotrophic factor (BDNF), which supports cognitive health and protects against neurodegenerative diseases.

Reduction in Inflammation:

Scientific studies show that fasting lowers inflammatory markers, improving overall health and reducing the risk of chronic diseases.

Improved Heart Health:

Fasting decreases blood pressure, reduces bad cholesterol (LDL), and supports cardiovascular health.

Mental Clarity and Emotional Balance:

The discipline and focus required for fasting contribute to improved mental and emotional well-being.

Conclusion:

The obligation to fast during Ramadan is both a divine command and a practice with profound spiritual, moral, and physical benefits. Deliberately skipping or breaking a fast without a valid reason is a grave sin in Islam, punishable in this world and the Hereafter. At the same time, fasting offers extraordinary worldly benefits recognized by modern science, further affirming its importance as a holistic act of worship.

4th Pillar

Zakat (Obligatory Charity)

Question:

Write a translation of verse 60 of Surah At-Tawbah and according to it, what are the recipient of Zakat? And can Zakat be given to anyone other than these recipient?

Answer:

 Translation of Verse 60 of Surah At-Tawbah:

“Zakat expenditures are only for the poor and the needy, and those employed to collect it, and for bringing hearts together [for Islam], and for freeing captives [slaves], and for those in debt, and for the cause of Allah, and for the [stranded] traveler—an obligation [imposed] by Allah. And Allah is Knowing and Wise.”

(Surah At-Tawbah, 9:60)

 Recipients of Zakat According to the Verse:

1. The Poor (Al-Fuqara)

Those who lack sufficient means to meet their basic needs.

2. The Needy (Al-Masakin)

Individuals whose financial condition is slightly better than the poor but still insufficient to sustain a decent living.

3. Zakat Collectors (Al-‘Amileen ‘Alayha)

Officials or individuals appointed to collect, manage, and distribute Zakat.

4. Those whose Hearts Are To Be Reconciled (Mu'allafatul Quloob)

New converts to Islam or others who need support to strengthen their faith or foster goodwill toward Islam.

5. For Freeing Captives (Fi Ar-Riqab)

Those enslaved or imprisoned, providing them with the means for liberation.

6. For Those in Debt (Al-Gharimeen)

Individuals burdened with debts they cannot repay, provided the debt was incurred for lawful purposes.

7. In the Cause of Allah (Fi Sabeelillah)

For endeavors that serve the religion, such as funding jihad, building mosques, or supporting religious education.

8. The Stranded Traveler (Ibn As-Sabeel)

Travelers who are cut off from their resources and require assistance to return home.

✚ Can Zakat Be Given to Others?

Zakat cannot be given to individuals or causes outside these eight categories specified in Surah At-Tawbah (9:60). It is an act of worship and must adhere to the divine guidelines set by Allah.

✚ Zakat cannot be given:

- ✚ To wealthy individuals or those who are self-sufficient.
- ✚ To direct descendants or ancestors (e.g., parents, grandparents, children, grandchildren).
- ✚ To the spouse of the giver.
- ✚ For causes unrelated to the specified categories, even if they are charitable, unless funded by other forms of voluntary charity (sadaqah).

Conclusion:

Zakat is a divinely ordained system designed to ensure social welfare and economic balance. It supports specified groups to alleviate poverty, reduce inequality, and strengthen the Muslim community. Strict adherence to the categories listed in the Quran is essential to maintain the sanctity and effectiveness of this act of worship.

➤ Virtue and Importance of Zakat

Question:

Explain in detail the virtue and importance of paying Zakat in the light of the Quran and Hadith, and explain any warnings and worldly and heretical losses related to those who do not pay Zakat.

Virtue and Importance of Paying Zakat:

Zakat, one of the five pillars of Islam, is a divine obligation upon every eligible Muslim. It serves as a means to purify wealth, establish social justice, and foster a sense of responsibility towards the less fortunate. The Quran and Hadith emphasize its spiritual, moral, and social significance.

Virtues of Paying Zakat:

Purification of Wealth and Soul:

Zakat purifies wealth from greed and selfishness, and the giver's soul from materialism.

Quranic Evidence:

“Take from their wealth a charity by which you purify them and cause them increase, and invoke [Allah’s blessings] upon them.”

(Surah At-Tawbah, 9:103)

Increased Blessings and Sustenance:

Paying Zakat ensures barakah (blessings) in one's wealth and provisions.

The Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“Wealth is not diminished by giving in charity.” (Muslim)

Compassion and Social Solidarity:

Zakat bridges the gap between the rich and poor, fostering unity and care within the Muslim community.

Divine Reward:

Those who pay Zakat receive Allah's immense rewards.

Quranic Evidence:

“And establish prayer and give Zakat, and whatever good you put forward for yourselves—you will find it with Allah.”

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:110)

Key to Paradise:

Zakat is a sign of faith and a means to attain Jannah.

The Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“Charity extinguishes sins as water extinguishes fire.”
(Tirmidhi)

Importance of Zakat:

Economic Stability:

Zakat redistributes wealth, reducing poverty and minimizing economic disparities in society.

Obligation in Islam:

As a pillar of Islam, Zakat is as essential as Salah and fasting. It demonstrates obedience to Allah's commands.

Moral Responsibility:

It cultivates empathy and accountability toward society's underprivileged members.

Spiritual Development:

Zakat fosters spiritual growth by detaching the heart from materialism and connecting it to Allah.

Warnings for Those Who Neglect Zakat

Severe Punishment:

“And those who hoard gold and silver and spend it not in the way of Allah—give them tidings of a painful punishment.”

(Surah At-Tawbah, 9:34)

Hoarded wealth will be heated and used to brand their foreheads, sides, and backs on the Day of Judgment.

Rejection of Faith:

“Woe to the polytheists who do not give Zakat...”

(Surah Fussilat, 41:6-7)

Terrible Consequences in the Hereafter:

The Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“The wealth of a person who does not pay Zakat will be turned into a snake with two poisonous glands encircling his neck on the Day of Judgment, biting him and saying, ‘I am your wealth; I am your treasure.’” (Bukhari)

Destruction of Society:

The Prophet (ﷺ) warned:

“A nation that refuses to pay Zakat will be afflicted by drought.” (Tabarani)

Worldly Losses of Not Paying Zakat:

Loss of Blessings:

Wealth devoid of Zakat loses barakah, leading to difficulties and financial instability.

Increased Hardships:

Neglecting Zakat invites societal problems, such as poverty, greed, and lack of unity.

Moral Decay:

Refusal to pay Zakat reflects a lack of compassion and leads to spiritual degradation.

Erosion of Social Order:

Economic disparity grows, causing resentment and instability in the community.

Punishment in this World:

The neglect of Zakat can result in divine chastisements like droughts, famine, or other calamities.

Hereafter Losses of Not Paying Zakat:

Severe Torment:

The Quran and Hadith describe excruciating punishments for those who neglect Zakat.

Accountability on the Day of Judgment:

Wealth hoarded without Zakat will become a source of regret.

Loss of Paradise:

Denial of Zakat can lead to exclusion from Jannah, as it signifies a rejection of a fundamental pillar of Islam.

Displeasure of Allah:

Neglecting Zakat incurs Allah's wrath and disapproval.

Deprivation of the Prophet's Intercession:

Those who disregard Zakat may be denied the intercession of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) on the Day of Judgment.

Conclusion:

Zakat is a cornerstone of Islamic economics and spirituality, fostering individual purification, societal welfare, and divine blessings. Paying Zakat aligns a believer with Allah's commands, ensuring benefits in this life and salvation in the Hereafter. Conversely, neglecting it leads to divine punishment, societal discord, and spiritual loss. Every Muslim must fulfill this obligation to attain Allah's pleasure and support the community.

5th Pillar

Hajj/Pilgrimage

Question:

Explain the obligation, virtue, and importance of Hajj

according to the Quran and Hadith, and explain the warning and the harm in this world and the hereafter for those who do not perform it after it has become obligatory.

Answer:

The Obligation, Virtue, and Importance of Hajj

Hajj, the pilgrimage to the holy city of Makkah, is one of the five pillars of Islam. It is an act of worship and submission that every Muslim must perform once in their lifetime if they are physically and financially capable.

1. Obligation of Hajj

In the Quran: “And [due] to Allah from the people is a pilgrimage to the House—for whoever is able to find a way thereto. But whoever disbelieves—then indeed, Allah is free from need of the worlds.”

(Surah Aal-e-Imran, 3:97)

This verse establishes the obligation of Hajj for all eligible Muslims, emphasizing that neglecting it is tantamount to ingratitude.

In the Hadith: The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“Islam is built on five pillars: the testimony of faith, establishing prayer, paying Zakat, fasting during Ramadan, and performing Hajj to the House (Kaaba) for those who are able to do so.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

He also said: “Hasten to perform Hajj, for no one knows what will happen to him.”

(Musnad-e-Ahmad)

2. Virtues of Hajj

Forgiveness of Sins:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“Whoever performs Hajj and does not commit any obscenity or wrongdoing will come out as the day he or she was born—pure and free of sins.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

✚ Immense Rewards:

“The reward for an accepted Hajj is nothing less than Paradise.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

✚ Unity and Brotherhood:

Hajj unites Muslims from all over the world, showcasing equality and universality in worship, irrespective of race, nationality, or status.

✚ Renewal of Faith:

Hajj strengthens the bond between the believer and Allah, purifying the heart and deepening spirituality.

✚ Witnessing Sacred Rituals:

The rituals of Hajj allow Muslims to follow the footsteps of the Prophet Ibrahim (AS), Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), and other Prophets, reminding them of their dedication to Allah.

3. Importance of Hajj

✚ A Test of Submission:

Performing Hajj requires sacrifice, patience, and devotion, symbolizing the ultimate submission to Allah.

Connection with Sacred History:

Pilgrims revisit the legacy of Prophet Ibrahim (AS) and his family, fostering a profound spiritual connection to Islamic history.

Fulfillment of a Pillar of Islam:

Neglecting Hajj without valid reason indicates a deficiency in one's faith.

Promotion of Taqwa (Piety):

The rituals of Hajj instill discipline, humility, and a heightened awareness of Allah.

4. Warning and Consequences for Neglecting Hajj:

In the Quran: “And whoever disbelieves—then indeed, Allah is free from need of the worlds.”

(Surah Aal-e-Imran, 3:97)

This indicates that neglecting Hajj, after it has become obligatory, is a sign of ingratitude and rebellion against Allah.

Grave Sin:

The Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“Whoever possesses provisions and a means of transportation to bring him to the House of Allah and yet does not perform Hajj, it does not matter if he dies as a Jew or a Christian.”

(Tirmidhi, Ahmad)

Deprivation of Paradise:

A person who intentionally neglects Hajj loses the immense rewards and blessings associated with it.

Worldly Harm: Spiritual Decline:

Neglecting Hajj weakens faith and results in a lack of barakah (blessings) in life.

 Social Disconnection:

Hajj promotes unity; missing it denies one the opportunity to strengthen bonds with the global Muslim community.

Harm in the Hereafter: Accountability:

Failing to perform Hajj without a valid excuse invites Allah's questioning on the Day of Judgment.

 Loss of Forgiveness:

A person misses the chance for their sins to be wiped clean.

Conclusion:

Hajj is a unique act of worship combining physical, financial, and spiritual devotion. It is a means of attaining Allah's mercy and earning Paradise. Neglecting Hajj, when it becomes obligatory, is a grave sin with severe consequences in both this life and the Hereafter. Every Muslim must strive to fulfill this obligation sincerely and prioritize it as an essential part of their faith.

➤ Ritual of Hajj (Manasik-e-Hajj)Question:*

What are the rituals of Hajj? And how many are they? Briefly describe each one.

Answer:

Rituals of Hajj:

Hajj is a highly structured act of worship with specific rituals that must be performed in a particular sequence. There are seven main rituals of Hajj, encompassing acts of devotion, commemoration, and spiritual purification.

1. Ihram (State of Purity)

Definition: Ihram is the sacred state a pilgrim enters to perform Hajj. It begins at specific stations called Miqat.

Actions:

Men wear two unstitched white cloths, and women wear modest clothing.

Pilgrims recite the Talbiyah:

“Labbayka Allahumma Labbayk. Labbayka la sharika laka labbayk. Inna al-hamda wa an-ni'mata laka wal-mulk. La sharika lak.”

لَبَّيْكَ اللَّهُمَّ، لَبَّيْكَ لَا شَرِيكَ لَكَ لَبَّيْكَ، إِنَّ الْحَمْدَ، وَالنِّعْمَةَ، لَكَ وَالْمُلْكَ، لَا شَرِيكَ لَكَ

(Here I am, O Allah, here I am. Here I am; You have no partner. Here I am. Verily all praise, blessings, and sovereignty belong to You. You have no partner.)

2. Tawaf (Circumambulation of the Kaaba)

Definition: Walking around the Kaaba seven times in a counterclockwise direction.

Significance: It symbolizes unity with Allah and the centrality of the Kaaba in the lives of Muslims.

How to perform: Pilgrims start at the Black Stone (Hajr Aswad) and complete seven circuits, praying and supplicating throughout.

3. Sa'i (Walking Between Safa and Marwah)

Definition: Walking back and forth seven times between the hills of Safa and Marwah, located near the Kaaba.

Significance: This ritual commemorates Hagar's search for water for her son, Ismail (AS), and Allah's miraculous provision of the Zamzam well.

How to Perform: Pilgrims begin at Safa, walk to Marwah, and repeat the journey, reciting prayers and supplications.

4. Wuquf at Arafat (Standing at Arafat)

Definition: Pilgrims gather at the plain of Arafat on the 9th of Dhul-Hijjah to perform prayers and supplications.

Significance: It is the most critical ritual of Hajj, symbolizing the Day of Judgment and Allah's mercy.

How to Perform: From noon to sunset, pilgrims engage in supplication, seeking forgiveness, and listening to the Khutbah (sermon).

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said: "Hajj is Arafat."

(Tirmidhi)

5. Muzdalifah (Collecting Pebbles)

Definition: After sunset on the Day of Arafat, pilgrims proceed to Muzdalifah to spend the night.

Actions:

Pray Maghrib and Isha together.

Rest and collect 49 or 70 pebbles to be used for the ritual of Rami al-Jamarat.

6. Rami al-Jamarat (Stoning the Pillars)

Definition: Throwing pebbles at the three pillars in Mina, which symbolize Satan's attempts to mislead Prophet Ibrahim (AS).

How to Perform:

Pilgrims throw seven pebbles at each pillar, starting with Jamarat al-Aqaba on the 10th of Dhul-Hijjah.

This act symbolizes rejection of evil and submission to Allah.

7. Qurbani (Animal Sacrifice)

Definition: Sacrificing an animal (sheep, goat, cow, or camel) as a commemoration of Prophet Ibrahim's (AS) willingness to sacrifice his son Ismail (AS).

Significance: It demonstrates obedience to Allah and benefits the needy, as the meat is distributed to the poor.

Additional Rituals

Tawaf al-Ifadah:

Another circumambulation of the Kaaba performed after the main rituals of Hajj, symbolizing spiritual cleansing.

Halq or Taqsir

(Shaving or Trimming Hair): Male pilgrims shave or trim their hair, and female pilgrims cut a small portion, symbolizing humility and renewal.

Tawaf al-Wada (Farewell Tawaf):

The final circumambulation before leaving Makkah, signifying the conclusion of Hajj.

Conclusion:

Hajj comprises acts of worship, remembrance, and submission to Allah, symbolizing the unity, humility, and devotion of the Muslim Ummah. Each ritual holds profound historical and spiritual significance, teaching lessons of sacrifice, gratitude, and obedience to Allah.

(3rd Chapter)

The Noble Quran

Revelation/Miracles/Compilation

➤ Revelation and its types

Question:

Describe in detail the forms and types of revelation to the prophets.

Answer:

In Islam, revelation (wahi) is a central means by which Allah communicates His guidance to humanity through His chosen prophets. The types and forms of revelation are diverse and tailored to deliver Allah's messages effectively, considering the nature of each message and the circumstances of each prophet. Here are the primary forms and types of revelation described in Islamic sources, mainly the Quran and Hadith:

1. Direct Speech (Without an Intermediary)

Allah directly spoke to certain prophets, conveying His message without any intermediary, such as an angel. This type of revelation is rare and considered especially direct and intimate.

Example: Allah spoke directly to Prophet Musa (Moses) at Mount Sinai, as mentioned in the Quran:

"And Allah spoke to Musa directly."

(Surah An-Nisa, 4:164)

Example: Allah also spoke to Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) during the Mi'raj (the Night of Ascension), where the five daily prayers were ordained.

2. Through an Angel (Most Commonly Jibreel)

The most common form of revelation to prophets is through an angel, typically Angel Jibreel (Gabriel), who is known as the "messenger to the messengers." Jibreel conveyed Allah's words, guidance, and instructions to the prophets, especially in delivering the Quran to Prophet

Muhammad (ﷺ)

Example: The entire Quran was revealed to Prophet

Muhammad (ﷺ) via Jibreel, as mentioned:

"Say, [O Muhammad], 'Whoever is an enemy to Gabriel. it is [none but] he who has brought it [i.e., the Quran] down upon your heart by permission of Allah...'"

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:97)

Forms of Angelic Revelation:

When Jibreel conveyed revelation, he appeared in different forms:

As a human:

Jibreel would sometimes appear as a man and speak directly to the prophet. This is illustrated in the famous Hadith of Jibreel, where he appeared as a man and questioned the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) about Islam, Iman, and Ihsan.

Unseen but audible:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) sometimes only heard Jibreel's voice without seeing him, experiencing the revelation as a distinct sound or resonance.

True angelic form: Jibreel appeared to Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) in his original form only twice, filling the entire horizon with his majestic presence.

3. Inspiration (Ilham) and Guidance to the Heart:

Allah sometimes instilled knowledge or guidance directly into the hearts of the prophets. This type of revelation, known as Ilham, is an inner, direct form of divine guidance without the intercession of an angel. It brings clarity or certainty to the prophet's heart about what is required.

Example: The mother of Prophet Musa received guidance from Allah to place her son in a basket in the river to protect him:

"And We inspired to the mother of Moses, 'Suckle him; but when you fear for him, cast him into the river and do not fear and do not grieve. Indeed, We will return him to you and will make him [one] of the messengers.'"

(Surah Al-Qasas, 28:7)

4. True Dreams (Ru'ya al-Sadiqa)

True dreams are considered a form of revelation for prophets and are distinct from ordinary dreams. The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) described dreams as a portion of revelation, especially for prophets, and they often served as a prelude to more direct revelation.

Example: Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham) received a command in a dream to sacrifice his son Ismail (Ishmael):

"And when he reached with him [the age of] exertion, he said, 'O my son, indeed I have seen in a dream that I [must] sacrifice you, so see what you think.'"

(Surah As-Saffat, 37:102)

Example: Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) began receiving true dreams as the initial form of revelation before Jibreel began to reveal the Quran.

5. Veiled Communication (Behind a Veil)

Allah also communicates with His prophets from behind a veil, where His voice is heard without His presence being seen. This form maintains a divine distance while still providing clear communication.

Example: When Allah spoke to Prophet Musa (Moses) from behind a burning bush, the voice came from behind a veil (the bush itself):

"And when he came to it, he was called, 'O Moses, indeed I am your Lord, so remove your sandals. Indeed, you are in the sacred valley of Tuwa.'"

(Surah Ta-Ha, 20:11-12)

6. The Prophet's Heart or Mind Becoming Full of Revelation (Wahy al-Qalb)

This type of revelation is when the prophet's heart is filled with direct knowledge or guidance from Allah. The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) described that sometimes revelation came as an intense feeling or awareness without a spoken word or vision.

Example: This form is most often linked with the broader and more comprehensive guidance that filled the Prophet

Muhammad's  heart, enabling him to provide guidance and lead effectively, even in situations where specific revelations were not revealed as verses of the Quran.

Conclusion:

Each form of revelation demonstrates the diverse ways in which Allah communicated with His prophets, addressing different needs, occasions, and contexts. These revelations through spoken word, angelic messages, inspiration, dreams, and veiled communications are all integral to the Islamic understanding of divine guidance. They emphasize the unique role prophets played in receiving, preserving, and conveying Allah's words to guide humanity.

➤ Excellence and Importance of the Quran

Question:

Mention some famous Quranic verses and hadiths about the excellence and importance of the Holy Quran.

Answer:

Certainly, the Quran and Hadith emphasize the immense excellence and importance of the Holy Quran in guiding, transforming, and providing light to humanity. Here are some renowned Quranic verses and Hadiths highlighting the significance of the Quran:

1. Quranic Verses on the Importance of the Quran Guidance and Light for Humanity

"This is the Book about which there is no doubt, a guidance for those conscious of Allah."

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:2)

Clear Evidence:

"O mankind, there has come to you a conclusive proof from your Lord, and we have sent down to you a clear light."

(Surah An-Nisa, 4:174)

Healing and Mercy:

"And we send down from the Quran that which is healing and mercy for the believers..."

(Surah Al-Isra, 17:82)

Reminder for Mankind:

"Indeed, we have sent down to you a Book in which is your mention. Then will you not reason?"

(Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:10)

Protection and Preservation by Allah:

"Indeed, it is we who sent down the Quran, and indeed, We will be its guardian."

(Surah Al-Hijr, 15:9)

Superiority of the Quran:

The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"The best of you are those who learn the Quran and teach it."

(Sahih al-Bukhari)

Intercession on the Day of Judgment:

The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"Recite the Quran, for it will come as an intercessor for its reciters on the Day of Resurrection."

(Sahih Muslim)

Elevating Status in Paradise:

The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"It will be said to the companion of the Quran (one who memorizes or frequently recites the Quran), 'Recite and ascend (in ranks), as you used to recite when you were in the world. Your rank will be at the last verse you recite.' "

(Sunan Abu Dawood)

Reward for Reciting:

The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"Whoever recites a letter from the Book of Allah will receive a good deed as ten times its like. I do not say that Alif-Laam-Meem is a letter, but Alif is a letter, Laam is a letter, and Meem is a letter."

(Sunan At-Tirmidhi)

Heart's Illumination:

The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"Indeed, the one who does not have anything of the Quran in his heart is like a ruined house."

(Sunan At-Tirmidhi)

Guidance and Relief from Darkness:

The Beloved Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"I leave behind me two things: the Quran and my Sunnah, and if you follow these, you will never go astray."

(Muwatta Malik)

Conclusion:

These verses and Hadiths emphasize the Quran's role as a comprehensive guide and source of mercy, light, and knowledge for all. It is through the Quran that Muslims can achieve closeness to Allah, find healing for their spiritual and emotional struggles, and receive intercession on the Day of Judgment. The Quran's guidance is timeless and serves as a reminder of Allah's mercy and wisdom for humanity.

➤ Miracle of the Qur'an:Question:

Comment on the importance and usefulness of miracle of the Qur'an.

Answer:

The concept of Miracles Quran (I'jaz al-Quran) refers to the Quran's miraculous nature, emphasizing its divine origins and the inability of humans to replicate its uniqueness. This concept is central in Islamic theology and serves as both evidence of the Quran's divine authorship and a profound source of faith for Muslims. The importance and usefulness of I'jaz al-Quran can be highlighted in several ways:

1. Proof of Divine Origin:

I'jaz al-Quran serves as clear evidence of the Quran's divine origin. It emphasizes that the Quran is a revelation from Allah and that no human effort could match its linguistic precision, depth, wisdom, and structure. The Quran itself challenges doubters to produce even a single chapter like it:

“And if you are in doubt about what We have sent down upon Our Servant [Muhammad], then produce a surah the like thereof and call upon your witnesses other than Allah, if you should be truthful.”

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:23)

This challenge has stood for over 1400 years, underscoring the Quran’s unique linguistic and literary excellence that no human has been able to replicate.

2. Source of Guidance and Conviction:

The miraculous nature of the Quran reinforces belief and conviction among Muslims. Understanding the I’jaz deepens appreciation for its verses and serves as a reminder that the guidance contained within the Quran is from Allah, the Creator, and not merely human wisdom. For believers, this instills a sense of reverence and commitment to the teachings, as they are assured of its purity and authenticity.

3. Inspiration for Reflection and Study:

The Quran’s miraculous aspects invite scholars and laypersons alike to reflect, analyze, and study its content, language, and themes. The fields of tafsir (interpretation) and balagha (eloquence) are enriched by the I’jaz of the Quran, as scholars seek to understand and convey the depths of its meanings. This process promotes a lifetime of engagement with the text, encouraging continual reflection and intellectual growth.

4. Preservation of the Arabic Language and Culture:

The Quran, through its linguistic miracle, has played a central role in preserving the Arabic language and culture. Its eloquence, structure, and poetic qualities have set a benchmark in Arabic literature. Classical Arabic has been preserved through the Quran, and it continues to be a foundational source for Arabic linguistics, ensuring that the language remains a significant, living tradition.

5. Moral and Spiritual Motivation:

Knowing the Quran as a divine miracle motivates Muslims to follow its guidance with sincerity. The I'jaz aspect of the Quran reminds believers of the extraordinary nature of the message, thus promoting adherence to its principles with greater dedication. Its moral teachings and wisdom become more than just instructions; they are seen as divinely prescribed paths for a fulfilling and righteous life.

6. Evidence for Prophethood:

The Quran's miraculous nature served as a powerful argument for the prophethood of Muhammad (ﷺ). Given that Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) was known as "unlettered" (ummi), the revelation of the Quran in its unmatched linguistic beauty and depth was seen as clear evidence of his prophethood. His inability to read or write, combined with the Quran's literary excellence, made it evident to his contemporaries that the message could only have come from a divine source.

7. Scientific I'jaz and the Encouragement of Knowledge:

Some aspects of I'jaz al-Quran also include knowledge of the natural world, scientific phenomena, and cosmic realities mentioned in the Quran long before modern scientific discovery. These references are seen by many as encouragement for Muslims to pursue knowledge, research, and discovery, aligning faith with the pursuit of science and knowledge.

“We will show them Our signs in the horizons and within themselves until it becomes clear to them that it is the truth...”

(Surah Fussilat, 41:53)

Conclusion:

The I'jaz al-Quran reinforces the Quran's status as an eternal, unaltered message of guidance. It continues to inspire faith, stimulate intellectual pursuits, and foster a deep connection with the text, bridging the gap between the divine and human understanding. Through its miraculous qualities, the Quran stands as a profound source of spiritual and intellectual enrichment, proving its relevance and significance across generations.

➤ Efforts in compilation the Holy Quran:

Question:

Mention the efforts to compilation the Holy Quran in order.

Answer:

The compilation of the Quran took place over three distinct phases, each carefully managed to ensure the preservation of the Quranic text in its entirety. Here's an overview of these efforts:

1. Compilation During the Lifetime of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ)

During the lifetime of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), the Quran was revealed piecemeal over a period of 23 years. While the Quran was not compiled in a single book at that time, meticulous efforts were made to preserve it, including:

Oral Memorization:

Many of the Prophet's companions memorized the Quran as it was revealed. This tradition of hifz (memorization) played a crucial role in preservation, as the Arabs had a strong oral tradition.

Written Recordings:

The Prophet (ﷺ) instructed several scribes to write down verses as they were revealed. These writings were inscribed on materials available at the time, such as parchment, leather, stones, and bones. The Prophet would guide the placement of each verse within the surahs (chapters).

Verification by the Prophet:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) would periodically review the Quran with Angel Jibreel (Gabriel), especially during Ramadan. In the final year of his life, he reviewed it twice, known as the "Al-Ardah al-Akhirah" (the Final Review), which helped finalize the order of the verses.

2. Compilation During the Caliphate of Abu Bakr (رضي الله عنه)

(رضي الله عنه)

After the Prophet's passing, the need for a single, written compilation of the Quran became urgent. This need became especially evident after the Battle of Yamama, where many huffaz (those who had memorized the Quran) were martyred. Fearing the potential loss of the Quranic text, Caliph Abu Bakr (رضي الله عنه) was advised to compile the Quran into a single manuscript.

Leadership by Zaid ibn Thabit (رضي الله عنه):

Abu Bakr appointed Zaid ibn Thabit, a trusted scribe of the Prophet, to lead the compilation. Zaid was chosen due to his deep knowledge of the Quran and his reputation for accuracy.

Stringent Collection Process:

Zaid gathered written verses from various sources and cross-verified each verse with multiple witnesses who had memorized the Quran. This ensured both accuracy and authenticity.

Completion of the Mus'haf:

After careful verification, the compiled Quran was organized into a single manuscript, known as a Mus'haf. This manuscript was kept with Caliph Abu Bakr, then with Caliph Umar (رضي الله عنه) after Abu Bakr's passing, and finally with Hafsa bint-e-Umar (رضي الله عنها), the Prophet's widow.

3. Compilation During the Caliphate of Uthman (رضي الله عنه)

(رضي الله عنه)

During Caliph Uthman's rule, Islam had spread to various non-Arab regions. Variations in Quranic recitation were emerging due to differences in dialects and the spread of different regional accents. To prevent any disputes or misunderstandings, Caliph Uthman ordered the creation of a standardized text.

i) Formation of a Committee:

Uthman appointed a committee led again by Zaid ibn Thabit, alongside other knowledgeable companions, to create a standardized copy of the Quran based on the Mus'haf compiled by Abu Bakr.

ii) Standardization and Distribution:

This committee produced several standardized copies (known as Uthmanic codices) to be distributed to major Islamic centers, including Makkah, Kufa, Basra, and Damascus. Uthman then ordered that any other copies or fragments be destroyed to prevent any confusion.

iii) Preservation of Dialects:

The Uthmanic codices followed the Quraish dialect, the dialect of the Prophet Muhammad, ensuring uniformity in recitation while preserving the authenticity of the revelation.

iv) Importance of the Compilation Efforts:

These compilation efforts preserved the Quran in its original, unaltered form, ensuring that Muslims across different times and regions would recite and understand the same text. This early meticulous compilation has safeguarded the Quran from alteration, enabling it to be transmitted accurately from generation to generation. The standardized text compiled during Uthman's caliphate is the same text that Muslims around the world read and memorize today.

(4th Chapter)

Islam Modern Science

➤ Quran and Modern Science

Question:

How is modern science proving the authenticity of the Holy Quran?

Answer:

Modern science has increasingly demonstrated phenomena and facts that align with descriptions in the Holy Quran, despite the Quran being revealed over 1,400 years ago when such knowledge was unknown. This alignment is often cited as evidence of the Quran's divine origin. Below are some examples where scientific discoveries and the Quran converge:

1. The Development of the Human Embryo:

The Quran describes the stages of embryonic development with remarkable accuracy, which modern science has only recently confirmed.

Quranic Verse:

“We created man from an extract of clay. Then We placed him as a sperm-drop in a firm lodging. Then We made the sperm-drop into a clinging clot, and We made the clot into a lump [of flesh], and We made [from] the lump, bones, and We covered the bones with flesh; then We developed him into another creation. So blessed is Allah, the best of creators.”

(Surah Al-Mu'minun, 23:12-14)

Scientific Explanation: Modern embryology, using microscopes and imaging, confirms the stages of human development: from the sperm-drop (nutfah), to the clinging clot (alaqah), to the lump-like appearance of the embryo (mudghah), and finally the formation of bones and their subsequent covering by flesh. Dr. Keith L. Moore, a renowned embryologist, has remarked on the astonishing accuracy of these descriptions.

2. The Expanding Universe:

The Quran alludes to the concept of an expanding universe, a discovery made in the 20th century.

Quranic Verse:

“And the heaven We constructed with strength, and indeed, We are [its] expander.”

(Surah Adh-Dharyat, 51:47)

Scientific Explanation: Edwin Hubble's observations in the 1920s showed that galaxies are moving away from each other, indicating that the universe is expanding. This concept forms a core part of modern cosmology and aligns with the Quranic description.

3. The Origin of the Universe:

The Quran describes the heavens and the earth as being joined together before their separation, a concept similar to the Big Bang theory.

Quranic Verse:

“Have those who disbelieved not considered that the heavens and the earth were a joined entity, and We separated them and made from water every living thing? Then will they not believe?”

(Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:30)

Scientific Explanation: The Big Bang theory explains that the universe began as a singularity before expanding and separating into galaxies, stars, and planets. The Quran’s mention of the heavens and earth being joined corresponds closely to this scientific understanding.

4. The Role of Water in Life:

The Quran emphasizes the essential role of water in the creation and sustenance of life.

Quranic Verse:

“And We made from water every living thing. Then will they not believe?”

(Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:30)

Scientific Explanation: Modern biology confirms that water is essential for the survival of all living organisms. It is the primary medium for biochemical reactions and is crucial for life on Earth.

5. The Protective Layers of the Atmosphere:

The Quran refers to the protective qualities of the sky, which modern science identifies as the Earth's atmosphere.

Quranic Verse:

“And We made the sky a protected ceiling, but they, from its signs, are turning away.”

(Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:32)

Scientific Explanation:

The Earth's atmosphere protects life by blocking harmful solar radiation, regulating temperature, and preventing meteors from reaching the surface. This scientific understanding aligns with the Quranic description.

6. Mountains as Pegs

The Quran describes mountains as having stabilizing roles for the Earth, similar to the concept of tectonic plate interaction.

Quranic Verse:

“Have We not made the earth a resting place? And the mountains as stakes?”

(Surah An-Naba, 78:6–7)

Scientific Explanation:

Geologists have discovered that mountains extend deep into the Earth's crust like pegs, providing stability to the Earth's surface. This aligns with the Quranic metaphor of mountains acting as stakes.

7. The Barrier between Salt and Fresh Water:

The Quran refers to the phenomenon of two bodies of water meeting but not mixing completely.

Quranic Verse:

“He released the two seas, meeting [side by side]; Between them is a barrier [so] neither of them transgresses.”

(Surah Ar-Rahman, 55:19–20)

Scientific Explanation:

Oceanographers have observed that when saltwater and freshwater meet, they form a boundary due to differences in salinity and density. This phenomenon is known as a halocline, which aligns with the Quranic description.

8. The Stages of Clouds and Rain Formation:

The Quran describes the formation of clouds and the precipitation process in detail.

Quranic Verse:

“And it is He who sends the winds as good tidings before His mercy, and We send down from the sky pure water.”

(Surah Al-Furqan, 25:48)

Scientific Explanation:

Meteorologists confirm that winds carry moisture to form clouds, leading to rainfall. This process is described accurately in the Quran long before it was understood scientifically.

Significance of Scientific Concordance:

Evidence of Divine Origin: The Quran’s descriptions of natural phenomena, revealed in an era devoid of modern science, affirm its divine origin.

Encouragement of Inquiry:

The Quran encourages Muslims to observe and reflect on the natural world as signs of Allah's power and wisdom. "Do they not reflect upon the creation of the heavens and the earth?" (Surah Al-Imran, 3:190)

Integration of Faith and Knowledge:

These scientific alignments inspire Muslims to pursue knowledge and integrate their faith with scientific discovery.

Conclusion:

The remarkable consistency between Quranic verses and modern scientific discoveries underscores the authenticity of the Quran as a divine revelation. While the Quran is not a science textbook, its references to natural phenomena demonstrate its timeless relevance and inspire both spiritual reflection and intellectual pursuit.

➤ Contribution Of Muslim Scientists

Question:

Explain in detail the contribution of Muslim scientists in making new discoveries in terms of the Quran and science, and their scientific position.

Answer:

Muslim scientists have played a pivotal role in advancing scientific knowledge by integrating the teachings of the Quran with intellectual inquiry. The Quran encourages believers to reflect on the natural world, fostering a culture of exploration and learning during the Islamic Golden Age (8th to 14th century CE). Many of their discoveries laid the groundwork for modern science.

(Islam's Encouragement of Knowledge)

Quranic Inspiration:

The Quran repeatedly emphasizes the importance of seeking knowledge and understanding the universe as signs of Allah's greatness:

“Do they not look into the realm of the heavens and the earth and all that Allah has created?” (Surah Al-A'raf, 7:185)

“Read in the name of your Lord who created?”

(Surah Al-Alaq, 96:1)

Hadiths on Knowledge:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said: “Seeking knowledge is an obligation upon every Muslim.”

(Ibn Majah)

He also encouraged learning from all sources, stating:

“Wisdom is the lost property of the believer; wherever they find it, they are most deserving of it.”

(Sunan at-Tirmidhi)

These teachings inspired Muslim scholars to explore diverse fields of science, medicine, astronomy, mathematics, and more.

Major Contributions by Muslim Scientists:

1. Astronomy

Muslim astronomers advanced the study of celestial bodies, aligning with the Quranic encouragement to observe the skies:

“And it is He who created the night and the day and the sun and the moon; all [heavenly bodies] in an orbit are swimming.” (Surah Al-Anbiya, 21:33)

Al-Battani (858–929 CE):

Calculated the length of the solar year with remarkable accuracy.

His works influenced later European astronomers like Copernicus.

Al-Zarqali (1029–1087 CE):

Designed sophisticated astrolabes for celestial observation. Corrected the Ptolemaic model, laying groundwork for heliocentric theories.

2. Medicine:

Muslim physicians revolutionized medical science by synthesizing Greek, Persian, and Indian knowledge and expanding it further:

Al-Razi (Rhazes) (865–925 CE):

Authored Kitab al-Hawi (Comprehensive Book of Medicine), an encyclopedic medical text used in Europe for centuries.

Discovered the difference between smallpox and measles.

Ibn Sina (Avicenna) (980–1037 CE):

Wrote Al-Qanun fi al-Tibb (The Canon of Medicine), a foundational text in medicine and pharmacology.

Introduced quarantine methods to prevent the spread of disease.

Al-Zahrawi (Albucasis) (936–1013 CE):

Pioneered surgical instruments and procedures.

Authored Kitab al-Tasrif, a 30-volume encyclopedia on medicine and surgery.

3. Mathematics:

Muslim mathematicians made groundbreaking contributions that are still foundational today:

Al-Khwarizmi (780–850 CE):

Known as the "father of algebra"; his book Al-Kitab al-Mukhtasar fi Hisab al-Jabr wal-Muqabala introduced algebra to the world.

His name gave rise to the term "algorithm."

Omar Khayyam (1048–1131 CE):

Developed methods for solving cubic equations.

Contributed to calendar reform, creating a more accurate solar calendar.

Thabit ibn Qurra (826–901 CE):

Advanced work on geometry, trigonometry, and the theory of numbers.

4. Physics and Engineering:

Muslim scientists developed principles of physics and applied them in engineering:

Ibn al-Haytham (Alhazen) (965–1040 CE):

Authored Kitab al-Manazir (Book of Optics), establishing the modern scientific method.

Discovered how vision works by explaining the role of the eye's lens and light reflection.

His work influenced European scientists like Kepler and Newton.

Al-Jazari (1136–1206 CE):

Designed mechanical devices, including water-raising machines and automata.

Authored The Book of Knowledge of Ingenious Mechanical Devices, considered a precursor to modern robotics.

5. Chemistry:

Muslim scientists developed experimental techniques in chemistry:

Jabir ibn Hayyan (Geber) (721–815 CE):

Known as the "father of chemistry"; introduced systematic experimentation.

Invented distillation, crystallization, and evaporation techniques.

Authored works on acids and chemical compounds.

6. Geography

Muslim geographers excelled in mapping and navigation:

Al-Idrisi (1100–1165 CE):

Created detailed maps and a world atlas for King Roger II of Sicily.

His work incorporated both Islamic and European geographic knowledge.

Ibn Battuta (1304–1369 CE):

Traveled over 75,000 miles and documented diverse cultures in his book, Rihla (The Journey).

Integration of Quranic Teachings with Science:

1. Observation and Reflection:

The Quran repeatedly invites humans to observe nature, which motivated Muslim scientists to study their surroundings deeply.

2. Unity of Knowledge:

Muslim scientists saw no conflict between science and faith. They considered scientific discovery a means to understand Allah's creation.

3. Practical Applications:

Knowledge was pursued for practical benefits, such as improving medicine, architecture, and governance, aligning with the Quranic emphasis on serving humanity.

Scientific Legacy of Muslim Scholars:

1. Influence on European Renaissance:

Works of Muslim scholars were translated into Latin and studied in European universities, fueling the European Renaissance.

Figures like Roger Bacon and Galileo drew heavily from Muslim contributions.

2. Preservation of Ancient Knowledge:

Muslim scholars preserved and enhanced Greek, Roman, and Persian knowledge, preventing its loss during Europe's Dark Ages.

3. Bridging Faith and Reason:

The Islamic Golden Age exemplified how faith and reason can coexist, inspiring modern efforts to integrate ethical values into scientific research.

Conclusion:

The contributions of Muslim scientists demonstrate the profound impact of Islamic teachings on scientific discovery. Inspired by the Quran and Hadith, these scholars not only advanced human knowledge but also set ethical and intellectual standards for future generations. Their legacy highlights the enduring compatibility of faith and science in promoting human welfare and understanding the wonders of creation.

(5th Chapter)

Quran and Hadith

Surah-e-Hujurat: verse No: 1 & 2:

Certainly, Surah Al-Hujurat (Chapter 49 of the Quran) contains valuable guidance on ethics, social behavior, and manners. The first two verses emphasize the importance of respecting the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) and being mindful of how one interacts with him:

Let's delve into the selected verses from Surah Al-Hujurat (Chapter 49, verses 1 and 2) along with their translations and an explanation of the instructions regarding the respect, reverence, and manners of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ)

Verse 1 (Surah Al-Huqjurat, 49:1):

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَقْصُوا دُورَكُمْ دُونِ اللَّهِ وَإِن يَنصُرْكُمُ اللَّهُ فَغَيْرُكُمْ لَهُ
يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَقْصُوا دُورَكُمْ دُونِ اللَّهِ وَإِن يَنصُرْكُمُ اللَّهُ فَغَيْرُكُمْ لَهُ

Translation:

"O you who have believed, do not put [yourselves] before Allah and His Messenger but fear Allah. Indeed, Allah is Hearing and Knowing."

Explanation:

This verse emphasizes the importance of not placing oneself before Allah and His Messenger, Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ). It instructs believers to maintain reverence and respect for both Allah and His Messenger. Placing oneself before Allah and His Messenger implies arrogance or disobedience. Instead, believers are reminded to fear Allah, act in accordance with His guidance, and prioritize His commandments over personal desires or opinions. This verse underscores the significance of humility, obedience, and adherence to divine authority.

Verse 2 (Surah Al-Hujurat, 49:2):

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَرْفَعُوا أَصْوَاتَكُمْ فَوْقَ صَوْتِ النَّبِيِّ وَلَا تَجْهَرُوا لَهُ بِالْقَوْلِ كَجَهْرِ بَعْضِكُمْ
لِبَعْضٍ أَن تَحْبَطَ أَعْمَالُكُمْ وَأَنتُمْ تَلْعَلُونَ

Translation:

"O you who have believed, do not raise your voices above the voice of the Prophet or be loud to him in speech like the loudness of some of you to others, lest your deeds become worthless while you perceive not."

Explanation:

This verse admonishes believers against raising their voices above the voice of the Prophet Muhammad (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) or speaking to him loudly. It underscores the importance of maintaining decorum, reverence, and respect when interacting with the Prophet. Loud or disrespectful behavior towards the Prophet diminishes the value of one's deeds and undermines the sanctity of the prophetic authority. Believers are urged to speak to the Prophet with gentleness, humility, and reverence, recognizing his exalted status as the Messenger of Allah. This instruction emphasizes the etiquette of communication and interaction with the Prophet, highlighting the significance of showing utmost respect and honor towards him.

Conclusion:

In summary, these verses from Surah Al-Hujurat emphasize the importance of maintaining reverence, respect, and proper manners when dealing with Allah and His Messenger, Prophet Muhammad (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ). Believers are reminded to prioritize obedience to Allah's commandments, avoid arrogance or disobedience, and conduct themselves with humility and respect towards the Prophet. These instructions serve as timeless guidance for believers in demonstrating proper etiquette and reverence towards the Prophet and his teachings.

Surah-e-Hujurat: verse No: 11

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا يَدْخُرُ رِقَابَكُمْ قَوْلُهُ
 سِيَّئًا أَنْ يَكُونَ خَيْرًا لِمَنْ هُوَ لَا نِسَاءَ عَلَيْهِ
 أَنْ يَكُنْ خَيْرًا لِمَنْ هُوَ وَلَا تَجْزُوا أَنْ تَكُونُوا
 الْإِيمَانُ ۚ وَنَحْنُ أَهْلُ الْإِيمَانِ ۚ وَلَكُمْ هُمُ الظَّالِمُونَ

Translation:

Believers, let not a group (of men) scoff at another group, it may well be that the latter (at whom they scoff) are better than they; nor let a group of women scoff at another group, it may well be that the latter are better than they. And do not taunt one another, nor revile one another by nicknames. It is an evil thing to gain notoriety for ungodliness after belief. Those who do not repent are indeed the wrongdoers. (49:11)

Explanation:

This verse advises believers against ridiculing or mocking others, whether it be individuals or groups, based on their race, ethnicity, gender, or any other characteristic. It emphasizes that no one should belittle or mock others, as they may possess qualities or virtues that are better or more pleasing to Allah. Furthermore, the verse prohibits insulting or demeaning one another and cautions against using offensive nicknames or derogatory language. Such behavior is described as wretched and incompatible with true faith. The verse concludes by stating that those who do not repent from such misconduct are considered wrongdoers in the sight of Allah.

Surah-e-Hujurat: verse No: 12

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اجْتَنِبُوا كَثِيرًا مِّنَ الظُّلُمَاتِ ۚ إِنَّمَا يُضِلُّ بِضَ الظُّلُمَاتِ ۚ وَلَا تَجَسَّسُوا وَلَا يَغْتَبِ بَعْضُكُم مِّنْ عَمَلِ بَعْضٍ ۚ يَأْكُلُ فِي عَمَلِهِ كَمَا يَأْكُلُ فِي رِجْلِهِ ۚ إِنَّ اللَّهَ قَوَّامٌ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ ۚ

Translation:

Believers, avoid being excessively suspicious, for some suspicion is a sin. Do not spy, nor backbite one another. Would any of you like to eat the flesh of his dead brother? You would surely detest it. Have fear of Allah. Surely Allah is much prone to accept repentance, is Most Compassionate. What is forbidden is not conjecture as such but excessive conjecture and following every kind of conjecture, and the reason given is that some conjectures are sins. In order to understand this command, we should analyze and see what the kinds of conjecture are and what the moral position of each is. (49:12)

Explanation:

This verse advises believers to refrain from making excessive negative assumptions about others, as some assumptions can lead to sin. Negative assumptions often stem from suspicion and mistrust, which can harm relationships and lead to discord within the community. Additionally, the verse prohibits spying on or backbiting others. Spying involves prying into the private affairs of others without their consent, while backbiting entails speaking negatively about someone behind their back. The analogy of eating the flesh of one's dead brother is used to emphasize the repulsiveness and immorality of backbiting. Just as one would detest consuming the flesh of a deceased relative, believers should abhor engaging in backbiting or spreading malicious gossip. The verse concludes by reminding believers to fear Allah and seek His forgiveness, as Allah is ever Merciful and Forgiving to those who repent.

Conclusion:

In summary, these verses from Surah Al-Hujurat provide guidance on promoting mutual respect, unity, and integrity within the Muslim community. They emphasize the importance of refraining from mockery, negative assumptions, spying, and backbiting, while encouraging believers to foster an atmosphere of trust, compassion, and forgiveness.

The six commandments of the above two verse:

1. No one should make fun of anyone.
2. No one should taunt anyone.
3. No one should call anyone by a bad name or title.
4. No one should be suspicious of any Muslim.
5. No one should spy on anyone and interfere in anyone's personal affairs.
6. And do not gossip about anyone's backbiting, that is, evil behind his back and his faults.

➤ (Surah Al-Furqan, 63 & 67)

Verse 63 (Surah Al-Furqan, 25:63)

وَعِبَادُ الرَّحْمَنِ الَّذِينَ يَمْشُونَ عَلَى الْأَرْضِ هَيْئًا وَإِذَا خَاطَبَهُمُ الْجَاهِلُونَ قَالُوا سَلَامًا ﴿٦٣﴾

Translation:

And the bondmen of the Most Affectionate are those who walk on the earth modestly and when the ignorant address them, they say, 'peace'.

Explanation:

Surah Al-Furqan, Chapter 25 of the Quran, mentions certain special attributes of the servants of Al-Rahman (the Most Merciful). Verses 63 and 67 specifically describe these qualities. Let's examine each verse and explore the attributes mentioned: This verse highlights two key attributes of the servants of Al-Rahman: Ease in walking upon the earth: The servants of Al-Rahman are characterized by their humility, grace, and gentle demeanor as they traverse the earth. They do not display arrogance or haughtiness but instead move with a sense of ease, peace, and tranquility. Responding with words of peace: When confronted with ignorance or harsh words from others, these servants respond with kindness, peace, and words that promote harmony. They choose not to engage in arguments or respond with hostility but rather aim to diffuse tension and promote peace.

Verse 67 (Surah Al-Furqan, 25:67):

وَالَّذِينَ إِذَا أَنْفَقُوا لَمْ يُسْرِفُوا وَلَمْ يَقْتُرُوا وَكَانَ بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ قَوَامًا ﴿٦٧﴾

Translation:

And those who when they expend neither exceed the limit nor they are straitened and remain in between the two on the middle path.

Explanation:

This verse highlights the attribute of moderation in the servants of Al-Rahman when it comes to their spending and generosity. They neither spend excessively nor hoard their wealth but strike a balance in their acts of charity and benevolence. They understand the importance of being moderate and just in their financial dealings and strive to maintain fairness and equilibrium in their generosity.

These attributes mentioned in Surah Al-Furqan reflect the exemplary qualities of the servants of Al-Rahman. They exhibit humility, peace, kindness, and moderation in their interactions with others, their behavior in society, and their approach to wealth and charity. These qualities serve as a guide for Muslims to emulate in their own lives, striving to embody the spirit of mercy, peace, and justice that Al-Rahman expects from His servants.

Key points of verses 63 and 67 of Surah Al-Furqan:

✚ Verse 63:

1. Characteristics of the servants of the Most Merciful: The verse describes the characteristics of the righteous servants of Allah, who are merciful and compassionate.
2. Humility and modesty: They walk on the earth in humility and modesty.
3. Reaction to foolish talk: When confronted with foolish talk, they respond with dignity and politeness.

✚ Verse 67

1. Responsibility and accountability: The verse emphasizes the responsibility of individuals for their actions and their accountability to Allah.
2. Moderation in spending: It advises believers to be moderate in their spending, neither being extravagant nor miserly.
3. Balance in life: The verse promotes a balanced approach to life, avoiding extremes and finding a middle path.

➤ Three Ahadith with Explanations

➤ Hadith No:1 (Look Lower)

The Hadith states:

قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ: "إِنِّي نَظَرْتُ حَتَّى كُنْتُ لِي مَن فُضِّلَ عَلَيْهِ فِي الْمَالِ وَالْخَلْقِ، فَلَيْدَ نَظَرِي لِي مَن هُوَ أَسْفَلُ مِنْهُ مِنِّي مَن فُضِّلَ عَلَيْهِ"

Translation:

The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said: "When any one of you looks at someone who is better in appearance and wealth, he should then look at someone who is lower."

(Sahih Muslim, Hadith 2963)

Introduction:

This Hadith of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) provides profound guidance on maintaining gratitude, contentment, and a balanced perspective in life. Below is a detailed explanation:

Explanation with Key Points and Lessons

1. Promotion of Gratitude (Shukr)

Looking at those less fortunate reminds a person of the blessings they possess, fostering a sense of gratitude toward Allah.

Gratitude leads to an increase in blessings, as Allah says: "If you are grateful, I will surely increase you [in favor]."

(Surah Ibrahim, 14:7)

2. Contentment (Qana'ah):

The Hadith encourages contentment with what Allah has decreed. Comparing with those less privileged helps an individual appreciate their circumstances rather than desiring what others possess.

3. Avoiding Envy (Hasad):

When one constantly compares with those who have more wealth or beauty, it may lead to envy and dissatisfaction, which are detrimental to both spiritual and mental well-being.

This Hadith teaches a practical approach to avoid envy by shifting focus.

4. Perspective on Worldly vs. Spiritual Matters:

The Prophet (ﷺ) emphasized comparing oneself with those better in worldly matters only for spiritual growth.

In contrast, in religious or moral matters, one should look at those more righteous or pious to inspire self-improvement.

5. Balance in Life

Islam does not discourage striving for success or appreciating beauty and wealth. However, the Hadith ensures that this does not lead to arrogance, ingratitude, or obsession with materialism.

6. Empathy and Generosity:

Observing the hardships of others can instill a sense of empathy and encourage acts of charity and kindness.

Practical Implementation

Daily Gratitude Practice:

Reflect on personal blessings and thank Allah daily. Consider others who lack these blessings to appreciate one's own circumstances.

Avoiding Social Media Comparison:

Limit exposure to environments, such as social media, where the constant display of wealth and appearance can lead to unnecessary comparisons.

Charity and Helping Others:

Engage in acts of charity to support those less fortunate, fostering humility and gratitude.

Focus on Spiritual Growth:

Look up to role models in faith, character, and morality for inspiration rather than comparing material wealth.

Conclusion:

This Hadith offers timeless guidance to maintain a grateful, content, and balanced outlook on life. It emphasizes focusing on blessings, avoiding envy, and aligning priorities with spiritual values rather than being consumed by worldly comparisons. It serves as a roadmap for achieving inner peace and fulfilling one's duties to Allah and society.

➤ Hadith No:2 (Four Signs of Hypocrite)

The Hadith states:

عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: "أَرْبَعٌ مَنْ كُنَّ فِيهِ كَانَ مُنَافِقًا خَالِصًا، وَمَنْ كَانَتْ فِيهِ خَصْلَةٌ مِنْهُنَّ كَانَتْ فِيهِ خَصْلَةٌ مِنَ الزُّفَقِاقِ حَقَّ يَدْعَاهَا: إِذَا أُوتِيَ خَانَ، وَإِذَا حَدَّثَ كَذَبَ، وَإِذَا عَاهَدَ غَدَرَ، وَإِذَا خَاصَمَ فَجَرَ". (رواه البخاري ومسلم)

Translation:

Narrated Abdullah bin Amr (may Allah be pleased with him) that The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said:

"There are four traits, whoever possesses them is a pure hypocrite, and whoever has one of them has a trait of hypocrisy until he gives it up: When he is entrusted, he betrays; when he speaks, he lies; when he makes a promise, he breaks it; and when he disputes, he behaves immorally."

(Sahih Bukhari, Hadith No: 2459)

Explanation of Blessed Hadith with Key Points and Lessons:

According to the Hadith, the four signs of a hypocrite are:

1. Betrayal of Trust ("When he is entrusted, he betrays")

A hypocrite fails to honor the trust placed in them, whether it involves responsibilities, secrets, or possessions.

2. Lying in Speech ("When he speaks, he lies")

A hypocrite habitually lies, showing a lack of integrity and truthfulness.

3. Breaking Promises ("When he makes a promise, he breaks it")

A hypocrite does not fulfill commitments or obligations, disregarding the value of their word.

4. Immorality in Disputes ("When he disputes, he behaves immorally")

A hypocrite resorts to abusive language, dishonesty, or unethical behavior during disagreements or arguments. These traits emphasize the importance of integrity, truthfulness, and ethical conduct in a believer's life.

Practical Lessons for Muslims

Self-Reflection:

Muslims should regularly assess their behavior to ensure they do not possess these traits.

If one finds such traits in themselves, they must work to eliminate them.

Trustworthiness:

Trust is a cornerstone of social harmony. Muslims are urged to be trustworthy in all matters, big or small.

Truthfulness:

Lying is not just a sin but also erodes the fabric of relationships and society.

Cultivating honesty strengthens faith and character.

Fulfilling Promises:

Promises must be honored, whether made to Muslims or non-Muslims.

Resolving Disputes with Decency:

Disagreements should be handled with wisdom, fairness, and respect.

Conclusion:

This Hadith serves as a powerful reminder for Muslims to align their actions with the teachings of Islam. The four traits mentioned betrayal, lying, breaking promises, and immoral behavior are destructive to both individual character and society. By adhering to honesty, trustworthiness, and ethical conduct, a Muslim strengthens their relationship with Allah and exemplifies the true essence of faith.

➤ Hadith No:2 (Virtue and Sin)

The Hadith states:

وَعَنْ أَلَنَّا وَاسِ بْنِ سَعَّانَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ أَلْبَرِّ وَالْأَفْثَرِ؟

فَقَالَ: {الْبِرُّ: حُسْنُ الْخُلُقِ وَالْإِثْمُ: مَا حَاكَ فِي صَدْرِكَ، وَكَوْهَتْ أَنْ يَطْلُبَ عَلَيْهِ النَّاسُ} {أَخْرَجَهُ مُسْلِمٌ}

Translation:

An-Nawwas bin Sam'an (RAA) narrated, 'I asked the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) about virtue and sin and The Messenger of Allah said: "Virtue is good manners and sin is that which pricks your conscience and which you would not like people to be informed."

Explanation:

Introduction to Virtue and Sin According to the Hadith
The Hadith defines virtue and sin in a way that connects them to a person's inner conscience and social behavior:

Virtue:

Described as good manners, virtue encompasses all positive moral behaviors, such as kindness, honesty, humility, and respect for others. It is the foundation of a good character and is integral to building harmonious relationships in society.

Sin:

Sin is identified as an act that pricks the conscience, causing inner discomfort or guilt, and one that a person would prefer to keep hidden from others.

This highlights that sins are not only about violating divine commands but also about actions that conflict with moral integrity and create shame.

Conclusion:

This Hadith emphasizes that a true understanding of virtue and sin lies within one's moral compass and the impact of actions on oneself and others.

(6th Chapter) Life of the Beloved Holy Prophet ﷺ

The moral lesson of the life of the Messenger of Allah before the declaration of prophet hood:

The life of the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) before the declaration of prophet hood provides profound lessons that are foundational to Islamic teachings. These lessons revolve around integrity, honesty, compassion, and a deep commitment to justice. Let's explore these aspects in detail with reference to the Quran and Hadith.

Introduction:

Before the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) received revelation and became the final messenger of Islam, he was known in Makkah as "Al-Amin" (the trustworthy) due to his impeccable character and honesty. These qualities were ingrained in him from a young age and continued to define his actions and interactions throughout his life. Examining this period reveals key moral lessons that are essential for all individuals and communities.

Lesson 1: Integrity and Truthfulness:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) was known for his integrity even before he received revelation. He was trustworthy in his dealings, whether personal or business-related. The Quran emphasizes the importance of truthfulness in numerous verses, such as:

"And do not mix the truth with falsehood or conceal the truth while you know [it]."

(Quran 2:42)

This principle of honesty and integrity was a hallmark of the Prophet's character, setting a precedent for Muslims to prioritize truthfulness in all aspects of life.

Lesson 2: Compassion and Kindness

The early life of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) also demonstrates his compassion towards others. He was known to assist the needy, support the oppressed, and comfort the distressed. The Quran instructs believers to show kindness and compassion.

"So by mercy from Allah, [O Muhammad], you were lenient with them. And if you had been rude [in speech] and harsh in heart, they would have disbanded from about you."

(Quran 3:159)

This verse highlights the importance of compassion in leadership and personal conduct, which the Prophet exemplified in his interactions with people.

Lesson 3: Patience and Perseverance

Before his prophet hood, the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) faced numerous challenges and hardships. His perseverance in the face of adversity teaches Muslims the virtue of patience:

"And be patient, for indeed, Allah does not allow to be lost the reward of those who do well."

(Quran 11:115)

This verse encourages believers to remain steadfast and patient during difficult times, knowing that their efforts and struggles will be rewarded by Allah.

Conclusion:

The early life of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) offers profound moral lessons that are timeless and universal. His integrity, compassion, and perseverance serve as a beacon of guidance for Muslims and humanity at large. These qualities are not only emphasized in the Quran but are also evident in the authentic Hadith literature, which documents the Prophet's actions and teachings. By studying and reflecting on the life of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), believers are reminded of the importance of upholding these virtues in their own lives, thereby contributing positively to society and fulfilling their spiritual obligations. In conclusion, the life of the Messenger of Allah before prophet hood serves as a testament to the moral principles and values that Islam holds dear. It encourages believers to emulate his exemplary conduct and strive towards personal and collective righteousness, thereby fostering a just and compassionate society.

➤ Difficulties and Troubles in Makkan Era.

Question:

Briefly mention the difficulties and troubles faced by the Holy Prophet (PBUH) in his Makkan period, and introduce and briefly explain his preaching, patience, steadfastness, trust in Allah, networking in such situations.

Answer:

Difficulties Faced by the Holy Prophet (PBUH) in Makkah
During his 13 years in Makkah, the Holy Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) endured immense challenges while spreading the message of Islam. Some of the significant difficulties included.

Social Boycott:

The Quraysh enforced a boycott against the Prophet (ﷺ), his family, and followers, leading to severe hardship, hunger, and isolation in the Valley of Abu Talib for three years.

Physical Abuse and Torture:

The Prophet (ﷺ) was mocked, insulted, and even attacked physically. For example, filth was thrown on him while he prayed.

Persecution of Followers:

Many early Muslims, especially the weak and poor, were tortured and killed, such as Bilal (RA), Yasir (RA), and Sumayyah (RA).

Loss of Loved Ones:

The deaths of his wife Khadijah (RA) and uncle Abu Talib during the same year (the Year of Sorrow) deprived him of critical support.

Economic and Political Pressure:

The Quraysh attempted to bribe and threaten him to abandon his mission, offering wealth, power, and leadership.

Responses of the Prophet (ﷺ) in Makkah:

Despite these hardships, the Holy Prophet (ﷺ) demonstrated exemplary qualities:

1. Preaching (Dawah)

The Prophet (ﷺ) began privately inviting people to Islam and later proclaimed it publicly.

He used wisdom, compassion, and perseverance in spreading the message, focusing on monotheism, justice, and moral reform.

His approach emphasized peace and dialogue, even with his staunchest opponents.

2. Patience (Sabr)

The Prophet (ﷺ) endured persecution with remarkable patience, responding to insults with kindness and praying for the guidance of his oppressors.

He advised his followers to be patient, assuring them of Allah's support and ultimate victory.

3. Steadfastness (Istiqamah)

The Prophet (ﷺ) remained committed to his mission despite bribes, threats, and attempts to dissuade him.

His statement, "Even if they place the sun in my right hand and the moon in my left, I will not abandon this mission," reflects his unwavering determination.

4. Trust in Allah (Tawakkul)

The Prophet (ﷺ) placed complete trust in Allah's plan, knowing that trials were a test of faith.

His reliance on Allah gave him the strength to face adversity with courage and hope.

5. Networking and Building Alliances

The Prophet (ﷺ) built a core group of loyal companions, such as Abu Bakr (RA) and Ali (RA), who played crucial roles in supporting Islam.

He also sought protection from tribes and individuals who could shield the Muslim community, including alliances with tribes in Ta'if and Medina.

Conclusion:

The Prophet Muhammad's (ﷺ) Makkan era exemplifies extraordinary resilience and leadership in the face of adversity. His preaching, patience, steadfastness, trust in Allah, and ability to build strong relationships remain timeless lessons for navigating challenges and achieving meaningful goals.

➤ Madani Life of the Holy Prophet (ﷺ)

Question:

Write a summary of the obligatory acts of worship, preparation of jihad and its participation, advice, contemporary education, relations with non-Muslims, keeping promises, forgiveness, and human rights in the Madani life of the Prophet (Blessing and Salutation upon Him).

Answer:

Summary of the Madani Life of the Holy Prophet (ﷺ)

The Madani period of the Prophet Muhammad's (ﷺ) life, after the migration to Medina, represents a comprehensive model of governance, social reform, and spirituality. This period was marked by the establishment of the Islamic state and practical implementation of divine guidance in various aspects of life.

1. Obligatory Acts of Worship:

- ✚ Salah (Prayer): Emphasis on congregational prayers and the establishment of mosques as community centers.
- ✚ Zakat (Charity): Institutionalization of zakat for wealth redistribution to support the poor and needy.
- ✚ Fasting: The obligation of fasting during Ramadan was introduced to foster piety and self-discipline.
- ✚ Hajj (Pilgrimage): The Prophet (ﷺ) emphasized the importance of Hajj, which became a pillar of Islam after the conquest of Makkah.

Lesson: Worship acts were not only spiritual but also societal, aiming to unite and purify the community.

2. Preparation for Jihad and Its Participation:

The Prophet (ﷺ) emphasized jihad in the context of defense and protection of the Muslim community.

Battles like Badar, Uhud, and Khandaq were fought to safeguard the nascent Islamic state.

The focus was on discipline, morality in warfare, and strict prohibitions against harming civilians, women, and children.

Lesson: Jihad was conducted with clear ethical guidelines and aimed at justice, not aggression.

3. Advice and Guidance:

The Prophet (ﷺ) provided constant advice to the companions on personal piety, community welfare, and adherence to Islamic principles.

He addressed disputes with wisdom and guided people with a balance of compassion and firmness.

Lesson: Leadership involves not only command but also nurturing moral and spiritual growth.

4. Contemporary Education:

The Prophet (ﷺ) encouraged learning, teaching, and the dissemination of Islamic knowledge.

He established Suffah, a learning space in the mosque, for the education of both religious and worldly sciences.

Lesson: Education was a priority for empowering individuals and fostering a knowledgeable society.

5. Relations with Non-Muslims:

The Prophet (ﷺ) established treaties and alliances with non-Muslim tribes, such as the Charter of Medina, ensuring mutual coexistence and rights.

He treated non-Muslims with respect and upheld their rights, provided they adhered to the agreed terms.

Lesson: Islam promotes peaceful coexistence and justice for all.

6. Keeping Promises:

The Prophet (ﷺ) was known for his honesty and commitment to treaties, even under challenging circumstances.

He fulfilled the terms of the Treaty of Hudaibiyyah, setting an example of integrity.

Lesson: Keeping promises is a cornerstone of trust and ethical conduct.

7. Forgiveness:

The Prophet (ﷺ) forgave his enemies, such as during the conquest of Makkah, where he declared amnesty for most of the Quraysh.

This mercy won the hearts of many and led to mass acceptance of Islam.

Lesson: Forgiveness and compassion can transform adversaries into allies.

8. Human Rights:

The Prophet (ﷺ) emphasized the sanctity of life, equality, and justice. Rights of women, orphans, and slaves were safeguarded, and measures were introduced to improve their status.

The final sermon encapsulated key principles of human rights, including the abolition of racism and tribalism.

Lesson: Islam upholds human dignity and equality for all.

Conclusion:

The Madani life of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) is a comprehensive guide for leadership, community building, and personal conduct. His emphasis on worship, social justice, education, ethical warfare, and human rights created a balanced society that remains a model for Muslims and humanity at large.

➤ Reasons of Migration to Madina:

Introduction:

The migration of Muslims from Makkah to Madina, known as the Hijrah, marks a significant event in Islamic history. This migration was not merely a geographical relocation but a pivotal response to persecution, hostility, and threats faced by Muslims in Makkah. Understanding the reasons behind this migration sheds light on the challenges early Muslims endured and the principles they upheld.

Reasons for Migration:

The migration to Medina, also known as the Hijrah, was a pivotal event in Islamic history. The main reasons for this migration can be summarized as follows:

Persecution and opposition:

The ruling tribes in Makkah, particularly the Quraish, opposed Muhammad's preaching and condemnation of idolatry. This led to persecution, harassment, and even violence against the Muslims.

Safety and protection:

Muhammad and his followers sought a safer and more welcoming environment where they could practice their faith without fear of persecution. Medina offered this refuge.

Establishing a Muslim community:

The migration to Medina allowed Muhammad to establish a Muslim community, governed by Islamic principles, and to create a power base for the spread of Islam ¹.

Divine instruction:

According to Islamic tradition, Muhammad received divine instruction to migrate to Medina, which was seen as a land of promise and opportunity ².

Economic hardship:

Some Muslims in Makkah faced economic hardship due to the boycott imposed by the Quraish, making it difficult for them to survive. Medina offered better economic prospects

Conclusion:

The migration of Muslims from Makkah to Madina was a critical turning point in the history of Islam. It was driven by the necessity to escape persecution, find safety and establish a community where Islam could flourish. The Quran and Hadith provide profound insights into the challenges faced by early Muslims and the principles of perseverance, patience, and trust in Allah during times of adversity. The migration to Madina exemplifies the importance of faith, resilience, and unity in the face of oppression. It serves as a timeless example for Muslims, reminding them of the sacrifices made by their predecessors to uphold the teachings of Islam and establish justice in society.

➤ Importance of The Pact Of MadinaQuestion:*

Explain in detail the importance of the Pact of Madina (charter of Madina) and the most important points of this agreement.

Answer:

The Pact of Medina (Meesaq-e-Madina), also known as the Constitution of Medina, is a historical document drafted by the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) after his migration to Medina in 622 CE. It established the first pluralistic and inclusive society under Islamic governance and is considered a cornerstone of Islamic political and social principles.

Importance of the Pact of Medina

Foundation of the Islamic State:

The charter marked the establishment of the first Islamic state, with Medina as its capital, governed under the leadership of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ).

Framework for a Multi-Religious Society:

The pact provided a framework for coexistence among Muslims, Jews, Christians, and polytheists in Medina, setting an example for interfaith harmony.

Legal and Social Equality:

It granted equal rights and responsibilities to all citizens, irrespective of their religion, tribe, or ethnicity.

Promotion of Justice and Unity:

The charter united the tribes of Medina, including the Aus and Khazraj, which had a long history of hostility, and ensured justice for all.

Conflict Resolution:

It established mechanisms for resolving disputes and maintaining peace within the diverse community of Medina.

Model of Governance:

The Pact of Medina is considered the first written constitution in the world, inspiring principles of governance, including collective responsibility, rule of law, and consultation.

Protection of Religious Freedom:

The charter guaranteed the freedom of worship for all religious communities, a progressive concept for its time.

Key Points of the Pact of Medina

Unity and Brotherhood of the Muslim Community:

All Muslims, regardless of tribal or geographical affiliations, were considered one nation (Ummah).

Equal Rights for Non-Muslims:

The Jews and other non-Muslims in Medina were recognized as citizens with equal rights and duties, forming an alliance with the Muslim community.

Protection of the City:

All groups were collectively responsible for defending Medina from external threats.

Religious Freedom:

Each religious community had the right to practice its faith without interference.

Justice and Rule of Law:

Disputes were to be referred to the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) for resolution, ensuring impartial justice based on divine guidance.

Prohibition of Treachery:

No group was allowed to aid or shelter enemies of Medina, ensuring loyalty to the community.

Economic Cooperation:

Economic responsibilities, including bearing the costs of war or public welfare, were shared among all communities.

Sanctity of Life and Property:

The pact prohibited murder, theft, and unjust seizure of property, fostering a sense of security and order.

Mutual Support in Adversity:

All parties were required to support one another in times of distress or conflict, upholding unity and solidarity.

Autonomy of Tribes:

Each tribe retained its internal autonomy, with its own laws and traditions, as long as they did not conflict with the broader principles of the pact.

Conclusion:

The Pact of Medina stands as a monumental example of the Prophet Muhammad's (ﷺ) leadership, wisdom, and vision for a just and inclusive society. It emphasized unity, mutual respect, and cooperation among diverse communities while establishing the principles of governance and justice that resonate to this day. This document is not only a historical achievement but also a timeless model for building harmonious and equitable societies.

➤ Treaty of Hdaybiyyah

Question:

Why did the Treaty of Hdaybiyyah occur? Mention its background. And explain in detail the terms of the peace agreement reached on that occasion.

Answer:

The Treaty of Hdaybiyyah: Background and Peace Agreement Terms.

Background of the Treaty

The Treaty of Hdaybiyyah occurred in the 6th year after the Hijrah (628 CE). Its context lies in the desire of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) and his followers to perform Umrah in Makkah. Several factors contributed to the circumstances leading up to this pivotal event:

Desire to Perform Umrah:

The Muslims had not returned to Makkah since their migration to Medina. The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) saw a vision in which he and his companions were performing Tawaf around the Kaba, encouraging them to set out for Umrah.

Hostilities between Makkah and Medina:

Tensions had persisted since the migration, and battles like Badar, Uhud, and Khandaq had exacerbated animosities. However, the Muslims' strength had grown significantly, and a peace treaty was in the best interest of both sides.

Journey of the Prophet (ﷺ) and Companions:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) and around 1,400 companions set out for Makkah in a peaceful, unarmed manner, donning ihram to signify their intentions for Umrah.

Prevented Entry into Makkah:

Upon nearing Makkah, Quraysh leaders refused to allow the Muslims entry, fearing it would portray them as weak and legitimize the Muslim community.

Efforts for Negotiation:

The Prophet (ﷺ) sent Uthman ibn Affan (RA) as an envoy to negotiate, but rumors of his detention sparked tension. This led to the Bay'at al-Ridwan (Pledge of Allegiance) under a tree, demonstrating Muslim solidarity.

Terms of the Treaty:

Despite initial resistance, negotiations between the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) and the Quraysh, led by Suhayl ibn Amr, resulted in the Treaty of Hudaibiyyah. The terms of the treaty were as follows:

Postponement of Umrah:

Muslims would return to Medina without performing Umrah that year. However, they could return the following year for three days to perform Umrah without interference.

Ten-Year Peace Agreement:

A truce was agreed upon, ensuring no hostilities or warfare between the Quraysh and Muslims for ten years.

Return of Refugees:

If any person from Makkah embraced Islam and fled to Medina without the permission of their guardian, they would be returned to the Quraysh. However, if a Muslim left Medina for Makkah, they would not be returned.

Neutrality in Tribal Alliances:

Both parties could form alliances with other tribes. These alliances were to remain neutral and not participate in hostilities against either the Quraysh or Muslims.

Unarmed Umrah Next Year:

The Muslims could perform Umrah the following year but must leave after three days and carry only basic weapons for self-defense.

Respect for the Truce:

Both parties agreed to avoid acts of treachery or aggression, ensuring a peaceful coexistence.

Significance and Lessons from the Treaty

Diplomatic Triumph:

Though it seemed unfavorable to Muslims, the treaty was a strategic victory, allowing the Muslim community to consolidate and strengthen.

Fulfillment of the Vision:

The following year, Muslims returned to Makkah peacefully and performed Umrah, fulfilling the Prophet's vision.

Spread of Islam:

The treaty facilitated the spread of Islam, as the truce enabled free interaction and the sharing of Islamic teachings, leading to many conversions.

Demonstration of Leadership:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) demonstrated patience, foresight, and wisdom in accepting the terms, showcasing his commitment to peace and diplomacy.

Testing Muslim Unity:

The treaty tested the faith and unity of Muslims, particularly regarding the clause about returning Muslim refugees. However, it reaffirmed their trust in Allah's plan.

Conclusion:

The Treaty of Hudaibiyyah was a turning point in Islamic history. Although it initially seemed like a setback, it ultimately led to the expansion and strengthening of the Muslim community. Its emphasis on peace, patience, and negotiation serves as a timeless example of leadership and diplomacy.

➤ Advantages of the Treaty of Hudaibiya:

Peaceful Resolution:

The Treaty of Hudaibiya marked a peaceful resolution to the conflict between the Muslims of Medina and the Quraish of Mecca. It provided a temporary ceasefire, ending hostilities and allowing for a period of peace.

Preservation of Unity:

The treaty helped preserve the unity of the Muslim community by preventing further bloodshed and allowing for peaceful coexistence. It was a strategic move to ensure the safety and stability of the Muslim community.

Increased Recognition:

The treaty brought recognition to the growing strength and significance of the Muslim community. The Quraish, who had previously rejected the legitimacy of the Muslims, were compelled to acknowledge their presence and treat them as equals.

Expansion of Influence:

The treaty allowed the Muslims to expand their influence beyond Medina. It opened doors for them to establish diplomatic relations and engage in peaceful interactions with neighboring tribes and regions.

Opportunity for Dawah:

The treaty provided an opportunity for the Muslims to spread the message of Islam. Many individuals from the Quraish and other tribes became interested in Islam and converted, leading to the growth of the Muslim community.

Secure Pilgrimage:

The treaty allowed the Muslims to perform the pilgrimage (Hajj) peacefully the following year. This gave them the opportunity to practice their religious rituals without fear of attack, showcasing the peaceful nature of Islam to the Arabian tribes.

Consolidation of Alliances:

The treaty allowed the Muslims to form alliances with tribes that were previously hostile or neutral. It helped strengthen the position of the Muslim community by forging alliances based on mutual interests and security.

➤ Conquest of MakkahQuestion:*

Explain the Islamic and historical significance of the conquest of Makkah and describe in detail the reasons for this great victory without war.

Answer:

Islamic and Historical Significance of the Conquest of Makkah

The Conquest of Makkah (Fath-e-Makkah) in 8 AH (630 CE) is one of the most significant events in Islamic history.

This peaceful victory marked the culmination of the Prophet Muhammad's (ﷺ) mission to establish Islam in the Arabian Peninsula. It holds both spiritual and historical importance for Muslims.

Islamic Significance:

Fulfillment of Divine Promise:

The conquest demonstrated the fulfillment of Allah's promise to grant victory to His Prophet and believers: "Indeed, We have given you a clear conquest."
(Surah Al-Fath, 48:1).

Establishment of Monotheism:

The idols in the Kaaba were destroyed, restoring it as the pure house of Allah and a center of monotheistic worship.

Forgiveness and Compassion:

The Prophet (ﷺ) forgave his former enemies, embodying the highest ideals of mercy and tolerance. His declaration, "No blame will there be upon you today; Allah will forgive you," inspired countless hearts to embrace Islam.

Spread of Islam:

The conquest opened the doors for the rapid expansion of Islam, as tribes across Arabia began to embrace the faith after witnessing the Prophet's (ﷺ) mercy and leadership.

Historical Significance:

Strategic Victory:

Makkah was the cultural and religious hub of Arabia. Its peaceful conquest solidified the Muslim community's position as the leading force in the region.

Unification of Arabia:

The conquest marked the beginning of the unification of the Arabian Peninsula under the banner of Islam, ending centuries of tribal conflict.

Transformation of Society:

Pre-Islamic practices like idol worship, tribal feuds, and social injustices were replaced with Islamic principles of justice, equality, and worship of Allah alone.

Reasons for the Peaceful Victory:

The conquest was achieved without significant bloodshed due to several factors:

1. Violation of the Treaty of Hudaibiyyah

The Quraish violated the terms of the Treaty of Hudaibiyyah by supporting the Banu Bakr tribe in an attack against the allied tribe of Banu Khuza'ah, who were under the protection of the Muslims.

This breach provided the Prophet (ﷺ) with a legitimate reason to march on Makkah.

2. Careful Planning and Secrecy

The Prophet (ﷺ) kept his plans confidential to avoid resistance. The Muslims marched with an army of 10,000, taking the Quraish by surprise.

3. Diplomacy and Alliances:

Key individuals, such as Abu Sufyan (a leader of the Quraish), were approached with diplomacy. Abu Sufyan eventually embraced Islam and worked to reduce resistance within Makkah.

4. Demonstration of Power

The overwhelming size and discipline of the Muslim army discouraged the Makkans from fighting, as resistance seemed futile.

5. Message of Mercy and Peace

The Prophet (ﷺ) declared that those who sought refuge in Abu Sufyan's house, their own homes, or the Kaaba would be safe. This assurance calmed the people of Makkah, leading to minimal resistance.

6. Moral Authority of the Prophet (ﷺ)

The Prophet's (ﷺ) reputation for truthfulness, mercy, and justice influenced many Makkans to accept Islam rather than oppose him.

Key Moments of the Conquest

Destruction of Idols:

The Prophet (ﷺ) personally destroyed the idols in the Kaba, declaring, "Truth has come, and falsehood has perished."

(Surah Al-Isra, 17:81).

General Amnesty:

The Prophet (ﷺ) forgave even his fiercest enemies, demonstrating unparalleled compassion.

Mass Acceptance of Islam:

Witnessing the mercy and justice of the Prophet (ﷺ), many Makkans embraced Islam, including former adversaries.

Conclusion:

The Conquest of Makkah was not just a political or military victory but a profound moral and spiritual triumph. It demonstrated the transformative power of forgiveness, the unity of the Muslim community, and the ultimate triumph of truth over falsehood. The peaceful nature of the conquest and the Prophet's (ﷺ) exemplary conduct remain a timeless lesson in leadership, compassion, and the establishment of justice.

➤ Last Sermon of the Holy Prophet ﷺ:

Question:

Explain the complete sermon of the Farewell Pilgrimage with all the points in detail.

Answer:

The Farewell Pilgrimage Sermon, delivered by Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) during his last pilgrimage in the year 632 CE, is considered one of the most important speeches in Islamic history. This sermon took place at Arafat on the 9th of Dhu al-Hijjah, during the Hajj, which was the Prophet's final pilgrimage. The speech, known as the "Farewell Sermon" (Arabic: Khutbah al-Wada'), encapsulates the core teachings of Islam and serves as a guide for Muslims on how to live a righteous and balanced life. Below is a detailed breakdown of the main points of the sermon:

1. Affirmation of the Sanctity of Life, Property, and Honor:

"Your blood, your property, and your honor are sacred..." The Prophet emphasized the inviolability of the lives, wealth, and dignity of individuals. This point stresses the importance of protecting these rights and warns against harming others.

"They are as sacred as this day of yours, this month of yours, and this city of yours." This analogy to the sanctity of Makkah, the Day of Arafat, and the sacred month of Dhu al-Hijjah reflects how deeply important it is to uphold the dignity of others. It underscores the need for a just society.

2. Equality Among People:

"All mankind is from Adam and Eve." The Prophet highlighted the fundamental equality of all human beings, disregarding race, ethnicity, or status. This statement emphasizes the concept of universal brotherhood.

"An Arab has no superiority over a non-Arab, and a non-Arab has no superiority over an Arab; a white has no superiority over a black, and a black has no superiority over a white." This point stresses the idea that no one is superior to another except by their piety and good deeds, thus promoting equality among all people.

"The best of you in the sight of Allah is the most righteous." True merit is not based on outward characteristics like race or social status but on one's character and actions in the sight of God.

3. Adherence to the Quran and Sunnah:

"I am leaving among you two things, and if you adhere to both of them, you will never go astray: the Book of Allah and my Sunnah." The Prophet advises the Muslim community to adhere to the Quran (the divine scripture) and his Sunnah (the example and teachings of his life). These two sources are the guiding principles for all Muslims in matters of belief and practice.

4. Warning Against Misusing Power:

"Let him who is present inform him who is absent." This point emphasizes the responsibility of spreading the message and ensuring that others who could not be present, due to any reason, receive the guidance and teachings shared in the sermon.

"Beware! There will be no oppression in your dealings with one another." The Prophet also made it clear that no individual should exploit others for their personal gain, and oppression (dhulm) is prohibited in Islam. This is a strong stance against all forms of injustice.

5. Rights and Responsibilities Towards Women:

"And fear Allah regarding women." The Prophet emphasized the importance of respecting and protecting the rights of women. He called on the Muslim men to treat their wives and female relatives with kindness and dignity.

"You have rights over your women, and they have rights over you." This reciprocal relationship of rights and duties underscores the importance of mutual respect and responsibility in marriage.

6. The Sanctity of Hajj and Its Rituals:

"Take your rites of Hajj from me." The Prophet reminded the people that the rituals of Hajj (the pilgrimage) are to be performed according to his guidance, reinforcing that religious practices must follow the prescribed methodology.

7. The Finality of the Prophethood:

"There will be no prophet after me." The Prophet declared that he is the final messenger, making it clear that no new revelations or prophecies would come after his death. This confirms the concept of the finality of the Prophethood in Islam.

8. Accountability before Allah:

"You will meet your Lord, and He will ask you about your deeds." The Prophet reminded the people that all humans will be held accountable for their actions on the Day of Judgment, stressing the importance of righteousness and justice in every aspect of life.

9. Unity of the Ummah:

"O people, listen to me carefully. I do not know whether I will ever meet you again at this place after this year." This statement showed that the Prophet was addressing the community with the knowledge that this might be the last time he would address them. He urged the believers to live in harmony and work towards the unity of the Muslim Ummah (community).

10. Encouragement of Mutual Care:

"O people, your Lord is one and your father is one." This statement reflects the concept of the Ummah as a global family with shared responsibilities and mutual care for one another.

11. The Five Pillars of Islam:

While not explicitly detailed in the sermon, the key tenets of Islam (Shahada, Salah, Zakat, Sawm, and Hajj) were implicit in the Prophet's words, urging the community to practice these pillars with sincerity and commitment.

12. Forgiveness and the Abolition of Pre-Islamic Practices:

"All the practices of the Jahiliyyah (pre-Islamic period) are under my feet." The Prophet declared that all practices of the pre-Islamic era, such as tribal feuds, unjust practices, and other forms of ignorance (Jahiliyyah), are abolished. He emphasized that Islam brings a new system of values based on justice, equality, and the worship of one God.

13. Rejection of Usury (Riba):

"All forms of usury (riba) are abolished." The Prophet condemned usurious practices, affirming the prohibition of interest-based financial transactions, which had been prevalent in pre-Islamic Arabia. This marked a significant shift toward a more equitable economic system based on fairness.

Conclusion and Final Advice:

The sermon was not just a spiritual speech; it served as a complete guide for Muslims in both their religious and social lives. The Prophet (PBUH) urged the people to follow the teachings of the Quran and Sunnah, to maintain justice and equality, to be kind to one another, and to uphold the rights of women, among other principles.

Before concluding, the Prophet asked:

"Have I conveyed the message?"

The people responded in unison, saying: "Yes, you have conveyed the message."

The Prophet then raised his hands towards the sky and said: "O Allah, bear witness that I have conveyed Your message."

This speech, delivered in the last days of the Prophet's life, serves as a timeless guide to Muslims, offering fundamental principles that shape Islamic ethics and law. It represents the culmination of the Prophet's mission to guide humanity to live in a manner pleasing to Allah.

➤ Importance of the last sermon of the Holy Prophet (ﷺ)

Question:

Importance of the articles of the last sermon of the Holy Prophet (ﷺ) and their impact on our actions.

Answer:

Equality and Brotherhood:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) emphasized the equality and brotherhood of all Muslims in his last sermon. This highlights the importance of treating all individuals with fairness and kindness, regardless of their race, ethnicity, or social status. It calls us to eradicate discrimination and foster a sense of unity and harmony among people.

Importance of Worship:

The last sermon emphasizes the significance of worshipping Allah and fulfilling our religious obligations. It reminds us of the importance of prayer, fasting, and other acts of worship as a means of attaining closeness to Allah and living a righteous life.

Respect for Women's Rights:

The Prophet's last sermon highlights the rights and honor of women in society. It emphasizes the need to treat women with respect, dignity, and fairness, rejecting any form of oppression or discrimination against them. This serves as a reminder to uphold women's rights and strive for gender equality.

Prohibition of Violence and Oppression:

The last sermon condemns all forms of violence, oppression, and injustice. It calls upon believers to reject aggression, injustice, and the mistreatment of others. It emphasizes the importance of fostering peace, justice, and compassion in our actions and interactions with others.

Importance of Character and Morality:

The last sermon underscores the significance of good character and moral conduct. It encourages believers to embody honesty, integrity, and kindness in their dealings with others. It reminds us to prioritize ethical behavior and virtuous actions in our daily lives.

Call for Unity and Avoidance of Division:

The last sermon emphasizes the unity of the Muslim community and discourages division and sectarianism. It encourages Muslims to stand united and avoid conflicts that can weaken the community. It reminds us to prioritize unity, cooperation, and solidarity among Muslims.

Conclusion:

These articles from the last sermon of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) serve as a guide for our actions and behavior. They remind us of our responsibilities as Muslims to uphold justice, equality, morality, and unity. By implementing these teachings in our lives, we can strive to create a just and harmonious society and fulfill our obligations as followers of Islam.

(7th Chapter)

Islamic laws and Islamic jurisprudence

Question:

Introduction to Islamic laws and Islamic jurisprudence and explain in detail the primary (Quran) and secondary sources (Hadiths) along with the compilation of the Quran and the compilation of Hadith.

Answer:

Introduction to Islamic Laws and Islamic Jurisprudence:

Islamic law, also known as Sharia, is a legal system that guides all aspects of a Muslim's life, including personal, social, economic, and political matters. It is derived from two primary sources: the Quran and the Hadith (the sayings and actions of Prophet Muhammad, PBUH). The study of Islamic law is referred to as Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), which aims to interpret and apply these sources in everyday life.

Islamic jurisprudence involves the methodology through which scholars derive legal rulings, understand ethical principles, and apply them. Fiqh covers a wide range of topics, from worship practices (such as prayer, fasting, and charity) to social matters (like family law, business transactions, and criminal law). Fiqh is based on the study of the Quran, Hadith, Ijma' (consensus of scholars), and Qiyas (analogy), but the primary sources are the Quran and Hadith.

The Primary Source (The Holy Quran):

The Quran is the primary source of Islamic law and serves as the foundation for all Islamic teachings. Muslims believe it is the literal word of Allah (God), revealed to Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) through the Angel Jibril (Gabriel) over a period of approximately 23 years, beginning in 610 CE and concluding in 632 CE.

Compilation of the Quran:

The Quran was not compiled in a single book form during the lifetime of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH). Instead, it was revealed piece by piece, often in response to specific events or situations. The revelations were memorized by the Prophet's companions (known as the Sahabah) and written down on various materials, such as parchment, bones, and leaves.

After the Prophet's death, during the caliphate of Abu Bakr (the first caliph), the Quran was compiled into a complete book form. This was done to preserve the Quran after many of the memorizers of the Quran (Hafiz) had died in the Battle of Yamama. The compilation was carried out by a committee, with Zayd ibn Thabit, who had been one of the Prophet's scribes, leading the effort.

Under the caliphate of Uthman ibn Affan (the third caliph), the Quran was standardized into one version (written in the dialect of the Quraish tribe), and copies were distributed throughout the Islamic empire to prevent disputes over recitation. The Quran was thus preserved in its entirety, and all subsequent versions of the Quran were based on this standardized text.

The Quran is divided into 114 chapters (Surahs), which are further divided into verses (Ayahs). These verses cover various topics, such as theology, morality, guidance for personal conduct, and laws governing both individual and societal life.

Key Features of the Quran:

Infallibility:

The Quran is considered the infallible, unaltered word of God.

Language:

The Quran was revealed in classical Arabic, and its linguistic richness is central to its beauty and interpretation.

Guidance:

It is considered the ultimate guide for Muslim conduct in all spheres of life, both spiritual and material.

Universal Message:

It addresses all humanity and emphasizes the oneness of God, prophethood, and the Day of Judgment.

The Secondary Sources: The Hadith

The Hadith refers to the sayings, actions, approvals, and disapprovals of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH). It is the second most important source of Islamic law and provides essential context for understanding the Quran, offering explanations, elaborations, and practical applications of the Quranic verses.

Compilation of the Hadith:

Hadiths were not systematically compiled during the lifetime of the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH). Instead, his companions transmitted his sayings and actions orally. After the Prophet's death, scholars undertook the task of gathering and recording the Hadiths.

The compilation of Hadith took place over several centuries, with scholars employing rigorous methods to ensure the authenticity of the narrations. The most famous and respected collections of Hadiths are:

Sahih al-Bukhari:

Compiled by Imam Bukhari (d. 870 CE), this collection is considered the most authentic and reliable compilation of Hadiths. It contains over 7,000 Hadiths, though many of them are repeated, making the total number of unique Hadiths around 2,600.

Sahih Muslim:

Compiled by Imam Muslim (d. 875 CE), this collection is second only to Sahih al-Bukhari in terms of authenticity and is highly respected in Islamic scholarship.

Sunan Abu Dawood, Jami' at-Tirmidhi, Sunan an-Nasa'i, and Sunan Ibn Majah:

These are other well-known collections of Hadith, each compiled by a different scholar.

Types of Hadith:

Hadiths are classified based on their authenticity and the strength of their chain of narration (known as Isnad). There are several categories:

Sahih (Authentic):

A Hadith that is reliable and meets the strict criteria of the chain of transmission.

Hasan (Good):

A Hadith that is considered good but is slightly weaker than a Sahih Hadith.

Da'if (Weak):

A Hadith with a problematic or broken chain of narration.

Mawdu' (Fabricated):

A Hadith that is considered fabricated and unreliable.

Key Features of the Hadith

Contextualization:

The Hadith explains the Quran in detail and provides practical examples of how to implement the Quranic teachings.

Legal and Ethical Framework:

The Hadith offers guidance on both the legal (Fiqh) and ethical aspects of life, including social conduct, justice, prayer, and personal behavior.

The Sunnah:

The Hadith records the Sunnah, or the example set by Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), which Muslims are encouraged to follow.

Relationship Between the Quran and Hadith:

While the Quran is the foundational text of Islam, the Hadith provides critical explanations and examples for how to interpret and apply the Quran. The Quran provides general guidance, and the Hadith complements it with detailed instructions. For example:

The Quran commands Muslims to pray (Salah), but the Hadith explains how to perform the prayer (the number of daily prayers, the actions involved, etc.).

The Quran prescribes the payment of Zakat (almsgiving), but the Hadith provides the specifics of how much and who is entitled to receive it.

Role of the Quran and Hadith in Islamic Jurisprudence

In Islamic jurisprudence (Fiqh), the Quran and Hadith serve as the foundational sources. Scholars derive legal rulings through the following methods:

Ijma' (Consensus):

If a matter is not explicitly mentioned in the Quran or Hadith, scholars can form a consensus based on the established teachings.

Qiyas (Legal Analogy):

When a new issue arises that is not directly addressed in the Quran or Hadith, scholars use analogy to draw conclusions based on similar situations mentioned in the primary sources.

Conclusion:

In summary, Islamic law (Sharia) is primarily based on the Quran and the Hadith, which provide comprehensive guidance on how Muslims should live their lives. The Quran, as the literal word of Allah, is the primary source, while the Hadith, the recorded sayings and actions of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), serves as the secondary source that elaborates on and provides examples for implementing Quranic teachings. Both sources have been carefully compiled and preserved to ensure that the teachings of Islam remain intact for future generations.

➤ Sources of Islamic Jurisprudence (Fiqh):

Question:

How many sources of Islamic jurisprudence are there? Explain all the sources with examples from the three centuries.

Answer:

Introduction:

The word Fiqh is an Arabic term meaning "deep understanding" or "full comprehension". Technically it refers to the science of Islamic law extracted from detailed Islamic sources.

Islamic jurisprudence (Fiqh) is based on several sources, which provide the foundation for deriving legal rulings and ethical guidance. These sources are categorized into primary and secondary sources. There are four main sources of Islamic jurisprudence, along with additional sources that are used in certain circumstances. These sources have evolved over time, and scholars have developed specific methodologies to interpret them. Below is a detailed explanation of the main sources, with examples drawn from the first three centuries of Islam (7th-9th century CE).

1. The Quran (Primary Source):

The Quran is the most important and primary source of Islamic law. It is considered the literal word of Allah, revealed to Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) over a period of 23 years. The Quran covers a wide range of subjects, including theology, morality, personal conduct, and legal matters.

Example: One of the Quranic verses that establish clear legal principles is the verse on inheritance:

“Allah instructs you concerning your children: for the male, what is equal to the share of two females.”

Surah An-Nisa (4:11):

This verse outlines the rules for inheritance, where a male inherits twice as much as a female, providing a clear legal framework for inheritance.

Example of Morality and Justice:

“O you who have believed, prescribed for you is legal retribution in cases of murder: the free for the free, the slave for the slave, and the female for the female.”

Surah Al-Baqarah (2:178):

This verse sets the foundation for the concept of Qisas (retribution or equal retaliation) in criminal law.

The Quran is not only a book of law. The main purpose of Quran is to awaken in man the higher consciousness of his relation with Allah and the universe. However, in the Quran there are at least five hundred verses which possess definite legal elements. The scholars of Islam have developed a complete science of interpretation of the Quranic verses which can be seen in any book of Islamic jurisprudence.

- ✚ The injunctions of the Quran are the basis of the Islamic Shariah and the sacred laws of Islam everlasting and unchangeable.
- ✚ It is universal as it is for all the mankind.
- ✚ In spite of the religions nature of this law, it is humanistic. It recognizes the failure of the human nature and hence it does not lay undue burden on him.

2. The Hadith / Sunnah (Primary Source):

The Sunnah is the second source of Islamic law. Sunnah is an Arabic word which means "Method". It was applied by the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) as a legal term to represent what he said, did and agreed to. Its authority is derived from the text of the Quran. The Quran says,
"For you the life of the Prophet is a model of behavior"

(Al-Quran 33:21)

The Quran and Sunnah are complementary. The meaning of the Quran is general in nature, the Sunnah makes it specific and particular. The Sunnah explains the instructions of the Quran. The Quranic injunction is sometimes implicit; the Sunnah makes it explicit by providing essential ingredients and details.

The Hadith consists of the sayings, actions, approvals, and disapprovals of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ). It complements the Quran by offering detailed explanations and practical examples of the teachings of the Quran.

Example: The Hadith about prayer (Salah):

“Pray as you have seen me praying.” (Bukhari)

This Hadith provides guidance on the correct method of performing Salah (ritual prayer), elaborating on the Quranic command for prayer.

Example on Charity (Zakat):

“If you give charity from the best of your earnings, Allah will accept it and will forgive you for your shortcomings.”

(Sahih Muslim)

This Hadith highlights the importance of giving charity (Zakat) and the spiritual reward for doing so.

Types of Hadith:

- i. Hadith Qauli: Hadith Qauli that which the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said should be practiced.
- ii. Hadith Fi’eli: Hadith Fi’eli that which the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) himself did/act upon.
- iii. Hadith Taqriri: Hadith Taqriri something that happened in front of the Prophet and kept quiet, showing the tacit approval.

The Holy Prophet (ﷺ) laid down principles of law regarding every aspect of life, e.g. buying, selling, contracts, leases and succession, etc. He also laid down the laws when the Quran is altogether is silent.

Examples of Laws Derived from the Sunnah:

The division of inheritance is clearly stated in the Quran but leaving of wealth for the non-Muslims relatives is not mentioned in the Quran. In the Sunnah, we find that the Prophet (ﷺ) said, “A Muslim may not inherit from a non-Muslim, nor a non-Muslim inherit from a Muslim.”

3. Ijma' (Consensus)

The third "source" of the law according to jurisprudence was consensus of companions, mean Ijma refers to the consensus agreement of the scholars of the Muslim community on a particular legal issue. Usually defined as "the unanimous agreement of legal authorities of a given generation on a particular legal matter."

If the Quran and Hadith do not provide a clear ruling on a matter, scholars may reach a consensus on a solution. Ijma' is a secondary source of law used to address new issues or situations that were not directly covered in the Quran or Hadith.

This has often been confused with popular opinion, but is in essence the agreement of the community of interpretation constituted by qualified master jurists, after debate has subsided. Ijma or the consensus of scholars signifies the importance of delegated legislation to the Muslim community. The Muslim society requires such a rule making power to meet the practical problems for the implementation of Islamic Shariah (Islamic Law). Ijma has been technically defined as the consensus of the jurists of a certain period over a religious matter. Ijma is considered sufficient evidence for action because The Holy Prophet ﷺ said:

"Muslim will never agree on a wrong matter." As such the agreement of the scholars of Islam on any religious matter is a source of law in Islam (Ref: Principles of Islamic Jurisprudence).

Once Holy Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) appointed Hazrat Maaz bin Jabal to the governor of Yemen and while sending him to Yemen, Holy Prophet ﷺ asked him how he would make decisions and judgments. Maaz replied that he would look for guidance in the Qur'an. Then Holy Prophet ﷺ asked him what he would do if no relevant ruling was found in there. Maaz replied that he would act according to the Sunnah. The Holy Prophet ﷺ asked again what he would do if nothing conclusive can be found in the study of Sunnah either. Maaz replied that he would adopt the solution found through performing Ijma. Muhammad was pleased with Maaz's answers.

Compilation of the Holy Qur'an:

The Qur'an was revealed in a span of 23 years. It was not compiled in a book from during the life of the Prophet (ﷺ). After his death, on suggestion of Hazrat Umar (رضى الله عنه) and by Ijma of the companions, it was compiled in a book form when many companions of the Prophet (ﷺ) were killed in the battle of Yamamah

The Adhan of Jumm'ah

During the time of the Prophet (ﷺ) there was only one Adhan for Jumm'ah prayers but during the reign of the caliph Hazrat Usman (رضى الله عنه), Madina expanded considerably and the Adhan could not be heard because of noise in the markets, therefore, it was decided after Ijma of the companions that another call should be given.

Taraviih Prayers:

The Prophet (ﷺ) prayed taraviih only three or four times in congregation in his lifetime. It was later during the reign of the Caliph Hazrat Umar (RA) that the system of congregation of taraviah was added after 'Isha prayer.

Example from the early scholars:

After the death of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), the companions and subsequent generations of scholars would often gather to deliberate on issues and come to a unanimous decision. For example, Ijma' was used to confirm the Zakat (almsgiving) obligations and the specific rates of wealth distribution.

4. Qiyas (legal analogy):

Definition of Qiyas:

Qiyas (قياس) is an Islamic jurisprudential method of reasoning by analogy. It is a process by which a ruling derived from the Qur'an, Sunnah, or consensus of scholars (ijma) is extended to a new case not explicitly addressed in the primary sources, based on shared effective causes or underlying principles. Qiyas is used when the original texts or other sources are silent on a particular matter, providing a rational framework for addressing emerging issues in Islamic law.

Importance of Qiyas in Islamic Jurisprudence:

Adaptability of Islamic Law: Qiyas allows Islamic law to address contemporary and unforeseen issues while remaining consistent with its foundational principles.

Preservation of Objectives of Shariah (Maqasid al-Shariah):

By deriving rulings analogically, Qiyas ensures that decisions align with the overarching goals of Islamic law, such as justice, welfare, and the prevention of harm.

Consensus and Cohesion:

Qiyas helps jurists maintain a systematic approach in deriving rulings, promoting uniformity and consistency in Islamic jurisprudence.

Facilitation of Ijtihad (Independent Reasoning):

It fosters intellectual engagement and reasoning within the boundaries of Shariah, ensuring relevance across different times and cultures.

Components of Qiyas, Qiyas involves four main elements:

1. Original Case: The issue explicitly addressed in the Qur'an, Sunnah, or Ijma.
2. Reason/Effective Cause: The shared rationale or reason for the ruling in the original case.
3. New Case/Branches: The issue not explicitly addressed in the primary sources.
4. Order: The legal decision applied to both the original and new case.

✚ Examples of Qiyas

1. Prohibition of Alcohol and Other Intoxicants:

Original:	The Qur'an explicitly prohibits drinking alcohol (Surah Al-Ma'idah, 5:90).
Reason/Effective Cause:	The intoxicating nature of alcohol that impairs judgment and leads to harm.
New Case/Branches:	Modern drugs like heroin or cocaine, which also intoxicate.
Order:	These drugs are analogically prohibited based on Qiyas.

2. Ruling on Digital Financial Transactions:

Original:	The prohibition of riba (usury) in financial transactions. (Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:275).
Reason/Effective Cause:	Unjust financial exploitation.
New Case/Branches:	Certain high-interest digital loans.
Order:	The prohibition is extended analogically.

3. Use of Tobacco:

Original:	The prohibition of consuming harmful substances (e.g., "Do not kill yourselves..." [Surah An-Nisa, 4:29]).
Reason/Effective Cause:	The harm caused to health.
New Case/Branches:	Smoking tobacco.
Order:	Smoking is prohibited due to its harm, similar to the original prohibition.

✚ Arguments Supporting Qiyas:

Rationality:

Qiyas relies on logical reasoning, making Islamic law practical and applicable to modern scenarios.

Scriptural Basis:

The Qur'an encourages reflection and reasoning, as in the verse, "So take warning, O people of insight!"

(Surah Al-Hashr, 59:2).

Consensus of Scholars:

Most Islamic jurists and schools of thought (e.g., Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, Hanbali) accept Qiyas as a legitimate source of law.

Criticisms of Qiyas:

Some scholars, oppose Qiyas, arguing that:

Speculative Nature: The determination of the effective cause (illat) is subjective and open to dispute.

Potential for Error: Analogical reasoning may lead to rulings inconsistent with divine intent.

Conclusion:

Qiyas plays a vital role in Islamic jurisprudence by bridging the gap between timeless divine texts and the ever-changing realities of human life. It upholds the relevance and universality of Islamic law while ensuring adherence to its foundational objectives. Through Qiyas, jurists maintain fidelity to the spirit of Shariah, balancing tradition and innovation.

5. Istihsan (Juristic Preference):

Istihsan is a juristic tool that allows scholars to deviate from strict analogy (Qiyas) when it leads to an unjust or impractical ruling. In essence, it is the practice of using juridical preference to reach a better legal outcome, often for the sake of public interest or fairness.

Example:

During the time of Imam Abu Hanifa (8th century CE), there was a case of a person who had defaulted on a debt but had no means to repay it. While strict analogy might suggest that the debtor should be punished, Imam Abu Hanifa used Istihsan to rule that the person should be given more time to pay back the debt, based on mercy and justice.

Example from early Islamic law:

Istihsan was used in rulings related to commercial transactions and contracts, where fairness was considered more important than rigid application of analogy.

6. Urf (Customary Practice)

Urf refers to local customs and practices that are consistent with Islamic teachings. If the local customs do not contradict the Quran, Hadith, or other sources of Islamic law, they can be considered a valid source of law.

Example:

In early Islamic society, trade practices such as contracts or agreements made in markets were governed by local customs that followed the principles of fairness and honesty. These customs were recognized as valid, provided they did not violate the core teachings of Islam.

7. Istislah (Public Interest)

Istislah is a principle in Islamic jurisprudence that considers public interest in legal rulings. It is used when the ruling of the Quran or Hadith is not explicitly clear but a ruling is needed for the welfare of the Muslim community.

Example:

During the caliphate of Umar ibn al-Khattab, the issue of allowing free trade during the fasting month of Ramadan was discussed. Although there were no explicit rulings in the Quran or Hadith, public interest (Istislah) led to the allowance of trade, as it benefited the community by ensuring economic activities continued.

Summary of Sources:

The main sources of Islamic jurisprudence are:

The Quran: The direct word of Allah, containing clear laws.

The Hadith: The sayings and actions of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH), explaining the Quranic teachings.

Ijma': The consensus of scholars on legal issues not directly addressed by the Quran or Hadith.

Qiyas: Analogical reasoning to apply existing rulings to new situations.

Istihsan: Juridical preference to ensure fairness and justice.

Urf: Local customs and practices in accordance with Islamic principles.

Istislah: Legal rulings made in the interest of the public or welfare of the community.

These sources evolved over time, and by the third century of Islam (9th century CE), scholars had solidified and systematized Islamic jurisprudence into schools of thought, with each school relying on these sources in varying degrees. The Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i, and Hanbali schools are the primary schools of thought in Sunni Islam, each having its own methods of interpreting these sources.

➤ Consensus of Scholars Regarding Current Issues

Question:

Explain in detail the consensus of scholars regarding current issues of the present day.

Answer:

The Concept of Ijma (Consensus of Scholars) in Islamic Jurisprudence:

Ijma (اجماع) refers to the unanimous agreement of Islamic scholars on a specific legal or theological matter after the time of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ). It is considered one of the four fundamental sources of Islamic law, alongside the Qur'an, Sunnah, and Qiyas (analogical reasoning). Ijma represents the collective reasoning and authority of qualified scholars, ensuring continuity and adaptability of Islamic law to new challenges and issues.

Types of Ijma:

Explicit Consensus (Ijma Qawli):

When all scholars openly agree on a ruling.

Tacit Consensus (Ijma Sukuti):

When some scholars explicitly agree on a ruling while others remain silent, implying acceptance.

Practical Consensus:

Agreement established through the universal application of a ruling by the Muslim community.

Relevance of Ijma to Contemporary Issues:

The dynamic nature of modern society has brought forward new and complex challenges in areas like science, technology, finance, medicine, and social issues. Ijma plays a crucial role in addressing these matters by allowing scholars to collectively derive rulings consistent with Islamic principles.

1. Modern Financial Systems

Issues:

Islamic rulings on digital currencies, stock markets, insurance, and modern banking systems.

Example:

The concept of Islamic banking, which prohibits riba (interest), has been standardized globally through consensus among scholars, allowing Muslims to engage in modern financial systems while adhering to Shariah.

2. Medical and Bioethical Concerns

Issues:

Organ transplantation, in vitro fertilization (IVF), cloning, stem cell research, and euthanasia.

Example:

Organ donation was initially debated, but many scholars reached a consensus that it is permissible if it saves lives and adheres to ethical guidelines. This ruling aligns with the Qur'anic principle of preserving life.

(Surah Al-Ma'idah, 5:32)

3. Artificial Intelligence and Robotics

Issues:

Ethical use of AI, automation in worship practices, and privacy concerns.

Example:

Scholars discuss whether AI-generated content in Qur'anic recitation apps or robot imams in mosques comply with the essence of worship. A consensus has begun forming that technology should assist but not replace human elements in worship.

4. Gender and Social Issues

Issues:

Women's roles in leadership, gender equity, and LGBTQ+ issues.

Example:

While maintaining Islamic ethical boundaries, scholars have reached consensus in some regions allowing women to take leadership roles in politics and education.

5. Environmental Sustainability

Issues:

Climate change, renewable energy, and waste management.

Example: Scholars agree that environmental stewardship is part of the Islamic principle of khalifah (guardianship). This has led to rulings promoting renewable energy and reducing environmental harm.

6. Technology and Digital Ethics

Issues:

Cybersecurity, social media ethics, and the use of block chain technology.

Example: Scholars have agreed on guidelines for ethical behavior on social media, emphasizing accountability and truthfulness based on Quranic and Prophetic teachings.

The Process of Ijma on Modern Issues

Identification of New Issues:

Scholars recognize contemporary challenges that lack direct reference in primary sources.

Analysis of Primary Sources:

They analyze the Qur'an and Sunnah for principles that can be applied.

Deliberation:

Scholars discuss the issue in light of Islamic jurisprudence, cultural context, and practical needs.

Consensus Formation:

Agreement is reached through collective reasoning, often documented through fatwas or resolutions from recognized councils.

Key Institutions Facilitating Ijma Today:

The Islamic Fiqh Academy (IFA):

Established by the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC), it addresses global issues like bioethics, finance, and technology.

National Fiqh Councils:

These bodies provide guidance on local matters, such as moon sighting or halal certification.

Al-Azhar University (Egypt):

Renowned institutions often play leading roles in forming scholarly consensus.

Challenges to Achieving Ijma Today:

Diversity of Opinions:

With a global Muslim population, achieving complete unanimity is challenging due to cultural and sectarian differences.

Rapid Technological Advancements:

The fast-paced development of modern technology often outstrips the ability of scholars to deliberate thoroughly.

Lack of Central Authority:

The absence of a single authoritative body for all Muslims complicates the process of global consensus.

Political and Social Pressures:

Scholars may face challenges in issuing unbiased rulings due to external influences.

Conclusion:

Ijma remains a cornerstone for addressing the complexities of contemporary life while ensuring the timeless principles of Islam are upheld. It demonstrates the flexibility and universality of Islamic law by bridging the gap between traditional teachings and modern realities. Through collective reasoning and adaptation, Ijma preserves the relevance of Islam in guiding its followers in an ever-changing world.

(8th Chapter)

Islamic Political System (IPS)

➤ Basic Principles of the Islamic Political System.Question:*

Explain the basic principles of the Islamic political system: monotheism, prophethood, and caliphate in the light of the Quran and Hadith, and also mention some of the distinguishing features of the Islamic political system.

Answer:

Basic Principles of the Islamic Political System.

✚ Monotheism (Tawheed)

Definition: Monotheism is the belief in the oneness of Allah as the ultimate authority in all aspects of life, including governance. In an Islamic political system, sovereignty belongs solely to Allah.

Quranic Evidence:

"The decision is only for Allah."

(Surah Yusuf, 12:40)

"Say, 'Indeed, my prayer, my rites of sacrifice, my living, and my dying are for Allah, Lord of the worlds.'"

(Surah Al-An'am, 6:162)

Implication:

No human being or institution can claim absolute authority; all laws and governance must align with the commands of Allah as outlined in the Quran and Sunnah.

Prophethood (Risalah)

Definition: Prophethood establishes the link between Allah and humanity. Prophets are chosen by Allah to guide humanity with divine laws and principles, which form the foundation of the Islamic political system.

Quranic Evidence:

"Indeed, We sent Our Messengers with clear proofs, and We sent down with them the Scripture and the Balance so that mankind may maintain justice."

(Surah Al-Hadid, 57:25)

Role of Prophethood:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) laid the framework for Islamic governance, emphasizing justice, accountability, and the welfare of the people. His life in Medina serves as a practical model of an Islamic state.

Caliphate (Khilafah)

Definition: The Caliphate represents the political leadership of the Muslim community, responsible for implementing Islamic laws, ensuring justice, and protecting the rights of all citizens.

Quranic Evidence:

"Indeed, I will make upon the earth a successive authority (Khalifah)."

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:30)

Hadith:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said: "The Caliphate after me will last for thirty years, then it will become a kingdom."

(Sunan At-Tirmidhi, 2226)

Responsibilities of the Caliph:

To uphold Sharia, safeguard the welfare of the Ummah, and ensure justice and equity.

Distinguishing Features of the Islamic Political System

Sovereignty of Allah:

Allah is the ultimate authority, and His laws are supreme. No legislation can contradict the Quran and Sunnah.

Rule of Law:

All individuals, including rulers, are subject to the same laws. The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"The people before you were destroyed because they used to inflict the legal punishments on the poor and forgive the rich. By Allah, if Fatimah, the daughter of Muhammad, were to steal, I would cut off her hand."

(Sahih Bukhari, 3475)

Shura (Consultation):

Decision-making is based on mutual consultation, as commanded in the Quran:

"And those who have responded to their master and established prayer and whose affair is [determined by] consultation among themselves."

(Surah Ash-Shura, 42:38)

Justice and Equality:

Justice is a cornerstone of the Islamic political system, ensuring fairness for all, regardless of faith, race, or status.

"Indeed, Allah commands you to render trusts to whom they are due and when you judge between people to judge with justice."

(Surah An-Nisa, 4:58)

Accountability:

Rulers are accountable to Allah and the people. The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"Each of you is a shepherd, and each of you is responsible for his flock."

(Sahih Bukhari, 893)

Protection of Minority Rights:

Non-Muslims are guaranteed protection under Islamic governance. The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"Whoever kills a Mu'ahid (non-Muslim under protection), he will not smell the fragrance of Paradise."

(Sahih Bukhari, 3166)

Public Welfare:

An Islamic government prioritizes the needs of its citizens, focusing on education, healthcare, and economic well-being.

Conclusion:

The Islamic political system is based on divine principles that ensure justice, equality, and the welfare of society. Its foundation in monotheism, prophethood, and the caliphate distinguishes it from other systems, emphasizing morality, accountability, and consultation. By adhering to these principles, an Islamic state seeks to establish a society where the rights of all individuals are protected, and the will of Allah is upheld.

➤ Solving the political and social problems of a country or nation.

Question:

Explain what key role the Islamic political system can play in solving the political and social problems of a country or nation? And can these special features, such as simplicity, accessibility, accountability, consultative discussion (shura), justice, equality, public treasury, and welfare state, provide any significant benefits?

Answer:

❖ Key Role of the Islamic Political System in Solving Political and Social Problems.

The Islamic political system offers a comprehensive framework that addresses the needs of governance and society, grounded in divine principles and values. By emphasizing moral conduct, justice, and public welfare, it has the potential to resolve numerous political and social issues:

❖ Political Problems Addressed by the Islamic Political System.

✚ Corruption:

Role: The principle of Taqwa (God-consciousness) promotes integrity in leadership, while accountability ensures that no one is above the law.

Benefit: Eliminates abuse of power and misuse of public resources.

✚ Tyranny and Oppression:

Role: Sovereignty belongs to Allah, ensuring that rulers act as trustees rather than dictators. Justice (Adl) is a central tenet.

Benefit: Prevents authoritarian rule and guarantees fairness for all citizens.

Lack of Accountability:

Role: Leaders are accountable both to Allah and the people. The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) emphasized: "The leader of a people is their servant."

(Sunan Abu Dawood, 2858)

Benefit: Promotes transparency and minimizes political instability.

Political Instability:

Role: The system of Shura (consultation) encourages inclusivity and consensus in decision-making, reducing conflicts.

Benefit: Strengthens governance by ensuring representation and reducing division.

❖ Social Problems Addressed by the Islamic Political System

Inequality:

Role: Ensures equality regardless of race, religion, or social status.

"Indeed, the most noble of you in the sight of Allah is the most righteous of you."

(Surah Al-Hujurat, 49:13)

Benefit: Fosters social harmony and reduces discrimination.

Poverty and Unemployment:

Role: The public treasury (Baitul Maal) supports social welfare programs, including zakat (almsgiving) and state assistance.

Benefit: Provides financial support to the needy and empowers them economically.

Social Justice:

Role: Guarantees the protection of rights for all, including minorities. The Prophet (ﷺ) said: "Give everyone their due right."

(Sunan Abu Dawood, 3537)

Benefit: Ensures that marginalized groups are not left behind.

Lack of Unity:

Role: Emphasizes shared values and collective responsibility to strengthen social bonds.

Benefit: Promotes national cohesion and unity.

Special Features and Their Benefits:

1. Simplicity:

Definition: Leaders live modestly and avoid extravagance.

Benefit: Builds public trust and bridges the gap between the ruling class and the people.

2. Accessibility:

Definition: Citizens can directly approach their leaders without barriers.

Benefit: Promotes inclusivity and ensures grievances are addressed promptly.

3. Accountability:

Definition: Leaders are accountable to Allah and the public.

Benefit: Prevents misuse of power and ensures transparency in governance.

4. Consultative Discussion (Shura):

Definition: Decisions are made through mutual consultation.

Benefit: Encourages participation, reduces disputes, and strengthens democracy.

5. Justice:

Definition: Ensures fairness in all aspects of governance and social life.

Benefit: Builds trust in institutions and prevents exploitation.

6. Equality:

Definition: Treats everyone equally under the law, regardless of status or background.

Benefit: Fosters social cohesion and eliminates discrimination.

7. Public Treasury (Baitul Maal):

Definition: A state fund for the welfare of the citizens, including zakat collection and distribution.

Benefit: Reduces poverty and provides resources for public projects.

8. Welfare State:

Definition: Focuses on the well-being of its citizens by providing healthcare, education, and financial support.

Benefit: Promotes economic growth and improves the quality of life.

Conclusion:

The Islamic political system, with its focus on divine guidance, justice, and public welfare, has the potential to resolve many political and social challenges. Its unique features, such as accountability, consultative governance, and equality, create a framework for sustainable development, social harmony, and political stability. By adhering to these principles, a nation can achieve peace, prosperity, and unity.

(9th Chapter)Islamic Economic System (IES)

➤ Basis, Importance, Uniqueness, & Characteristics of IES.

Question:

What is the basis of the Islamic economic system? Describe in detail the importance, uniqueness, and characteristics of this system in the light of Islamic law.

Answer:

✚ The Basis of the Islamic Economic System:

The Islamic economic system is rooted in the principles of Shariah (Islamic law), derived from the Quran and Sunnah, which provide comprehensive guidance for economic activities. Its foundation rests on three key concepts.

1. Tawhid (Oneness of Allah):

Recognizing Allah as the ultimate owner of all wealth. Humans are mere trustees, obligated to use resources responsibly.

2. Adl (Justice):

Ensuring fairness, equity, and social justice in all economic transactions.

3. Tazkiyah (Purification):

Promoting ethical behavior, eliminating exploitation, and encouraging the spiritual purification of wealth.

Importance of the Islamic Economic System:

1. Comprehensive Guidance:

Provides a framework for all aspects of economic life, ensuring both material and spiritual well-being.

2. Social Justice:

Ensures the fair distribution of wealth, minimizing inequality.

3. Economic Stability:

Prohibits destabilizing practices like interest (riba) and hoarding.

4. Moral and Ethical Foundation:

Emphasizes honesty, trustworthiness, and transparency in trade.

5. Balanced Ownership:

Recognizes private ownership while emphasizing social responsibility.

Uniqueness of the Islamic Economic System

1. Divine Origin:

Unlike secular systems, its principles are derived from divine revelation, ensuring justice and sustainability.

2. Prohibition of Riba (Interest):

Eliminates exploitation and ensures risk-sharing.

3. Redistribution of Wealth:

Through mechanisms like zakat, sadaqah, and waqf, wealth circulates within society.

4. Ethical Restrictions:

Forbids investments in harmful or unethical industries like alcohol, gambling, and pornography.

5. Focus on Human Welfare:

Prioritizes societal well-being over profit maximization.

Characteristics of the Islamic Economic System

1. Ownership:

Ultimate Ownership: Allah is the true owner of everything.

Private Ownership: Allowed but coupled with social responsibilities.

2. Prohibition of Riba (Interest):

Any form of interest-based transactions is strictly forbidden to prevent exploitation and ensure fairness.

3. Wealth Redistribution:

Obligatory zakat (2.5% of wealth) ensures support for the poor and needy.

Encourages voluntary charity (sadaqah) and endowments (waqf).

4. Risk Sharing:

Promotes equity-based financing, such as profit-sharing (mudarabah) and joint ventures (musharakah).

5. Ethical Business Practices:

Prohibits deceit, fraud, and unfair trade practices.

Encourages transparency and mutual consent in transactions.

6. Prohibition of Hoarding:

Discourages the accumulation of wealth without productive use.

7. Support for Welfare:

Focuses on fulfilling basic human needs, ensuring healthcare, education, and livelihood for all.

8. Shariah-Compliant Investments:

Encourages investments that align with Islamic ethical values.

Importance in the Light of Islamic Law

1. Social Justice:

Quranic Command: "And establish prayer and give zakat, and whatever good you put forward for yourselves—you will find it with Allah."

(Quran 2:110)

Zakat ensures that wealth benefits all segments of society.

2. Prohibition of Exploitation:

Quranic Prohibition: "O you who have believed, do not consume usury, doubled and multiplied, but fear Allah that you may be successful."

(Quran 3:130)

Eliminating riba protects the weak from economic oppression.

3. Moral Accountability:

Hadith: The Prophet (ﷺ) said, "The truthful and trustworthy trader will be with the Prophets, the truthful, and the martyrs." (Tirmidhi)

Encourages honesty and accountability in all financial dealings.

Conclusion:

The Islamic economic system stands out as a comprehensive and balanced approach to managing resources and wealth. Its emphasis on justice, ethical conduct, and social welfare ensures economic stability and harmony. By adhering to its principles, societies can achieve not only material prosperity but also spiritual fulfillment and social justice.

➤ Islamic Economic System and Other Economic Systems.

Question:

How many economic systems are prevalent in all countries of the world, and identify the differences between other economic systems such as capitalism, socialism and communism and the Islamic economic system.

Answer:

Prevalent Economic Systems in the World:

There are four main economic systems practiced globally, with some variations and hybrids:

1. Islamic Economic:

Some countries incorporate elements of Islamic economics, particularly in nations with predominantly Muslim populations like Saudi Arabia and Pakistan.

2. Capitalism:

Dominant in countries like the USA, Canada, and many European nations.

3. Socialism:

Practiced in Scandinavian countries and nations with social-democratic leanings like Finland and Denmark.

4. Communism:

Implemented historically in countries like the USSR and still present in modified forms in China, Cuba, and North Korea.

Differences between Capitalism, Socialism, Communism, and Islamic Economic System

1. Capitalism

Definition:

An economic system based on private ownership and profit-making.

Key Features:

- i. Private ownership of resources and industries.
- ii. Minimal government intervention.

- iii. Profit-driven with free-market competition.
- iv. Wealth disparity is common.

Example: The United States.

2. Socialism

Definition:

An economic system emphasizing public ownership and equitable distribution of wealth.

Key Features:

- i. Government ownership of key industries (e.g., healthcare, education).
- ii. Redistribution of wealth to reduce inequality.
- iii. High taxes to fund public services.
- iv. Balances between private enterprise and state control.

Example:

Scandinavian countries like Sweden and Norway.

3. Communism

Definition:

A classless system where all resources are collectively owned.

Key Features:

- i. No private property; state controls all resources.
- ii. Focus on equality; no class distinction.
- iii. Centralized planning of the economy.
- iv. Limited individual freedoms in economic activities.

Example:

North Korea.

4. Islamic Economic System

Definition:

A system based on Shariah principles that integrate spiritual and material well-being.

Key Features:

i. Prohibition of Riba (Interest):

Financial transactions must avoid exploitative practices.

ii. Wealth Redistribution:

Obligatory zakat (charity) ensures wealth circulation.

iii. Risk Sharing:

Encourages partnerships like mudarabah and musharakah.

iv. Moral and Ethical Guidelines:

Prohibits investments in unethical industries (e.g., alcohol, gambling).

v. Balanced Ownership:

Recognizes private ownership but with social responsibility.

vi. Social Justice:

Focuses on equitable distribution of wealth and resources.

Example:

Saudi Arabia and other Islamic nations implement aspects of this system.

Aspect	Capitalism	Socialism	Communism	Islamic Economic System
Ownership	Private ownership of resources	State controls key sectors	State owns all property	Allah is the ultimate owner; humans are trustees
Wealth Distribution	Market-driven, wealth disparity	Redistribution via taxation	Full equality, no wealth gap	Zakat and sadaqah ensure redistribution
Profit Motive	Primary driver	Balanced with social welfare	Non-existent	Profit is permissible within ethical limits
Ethics	Driven by competition	Promotes collective good	Ideological equality enforced	Guided by Shariah principles
Interest (Riba)	Permitted and prevalent	Permitted in regulated forms	Permitted in regulated forms	Strictly prohibited

Conclusion:

Every system has its strengths and weaknesses, but the Islamic economic system has characteristics that no other system has:

- The Islamic Economic System strikes a balance, combining ethical practices with social justice, ensuring not only economic growth but also moral and spiritual development.
- Capitalism fosters innovation and growth but leads to inequality.
- Socialism reduces inequality but may hinder individual motivation.
- Communism ensures equality but restricts freedoms and stifles creativity.

➤ Illegal Earning (Kasb-e-Haram)

Question:

What are the works or professions that are considered highly undesirable, bad and sinful in Islamic society? And the money earned from them is called haram earnings?

Answer:

In Islamic society, certain professions and activities are explicitly deemed haram (forbidden) due to their harmful effects on individuals and society. Earnings derived from these activities are also considered haram and are not permissible for Muslims. Below is a detailed explanation of such professions and activities:

1. Prohibition of Usury (Riba) and Interest-Based Transactions:

Usury, or Riba, is strictly forbidden in Islam. It refers to any unjustified increase in wealth through exploitative interest-based transactions. The Quran and Hadith strongly condemn Riba as it leads to social inequality, exploitation of the poor, and economic injustice.

Quranic Prohibition of Riba:

“Those who devour interest shall not stand on the Day of judgment, but like the standing of one whom the evil spirit has by touching made mad. This is because they said 'The trade too is like interest,' and Allah made trade lawful and made interest unlawful.”

Surah Al-Baqarah (2:275):

“O you who have believed, fear Allah and give up what remains [due to you] of interest, if you should be believers.

And if you do not, then be informed of a war [against you] from Allah and His Messenger.”

Surah Al-Baqarah (2:278-279):

“O you who have believed, do not consume usury, doubled and multiplied, but fear Allah that you may be successful.”

Surah Aal-e-Imran (3:130):

Hadith on Riba:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“Cursed is the one who consumes Riba, the one who gives it, the one who records it, and the two who witness it.”

(Sahih Muslim)

Reason for Prohibition

Economic Justice:

Protects the poor from exploitation.

Social Equality:

Prevents concentration of wealth.

Promotes Fairness:

Encourages risk-sharing instead of risk-shifting.

Alternatives in Islamic Finance:

Islam promotes profit-sharing, trade, and investment based on equity and partnerships, such as Mudarabah and Musharakah, instead of interest-based loans.

2. Pork and Non-Halal Meat

Definition:

Pork is absolutely forbidden in Islam, so eating it, buying it, selling it, using its meat, bones, skin, hair, etc. in any way, or processing it for any purpose is unlawful and sinful according to Islamic guidelines and disobedience to Allah.

Reason:

Pork is impure and harmful, as stated in Islamic teachings.

Quranic Reference:

“Forbidden to you (for food) are dead meat, blood, the flesh of swine...”

(Surah Al-Maidah: 3)

3. Gambling (juwa)

Definition:

Engaging in games of chance with monetary stakes.

Reason:

Gambling promotes greed and financial instability.

Quranic Reference:

“O you who have believed, indeed, intoxicants, gambling... are but defilement from the work of Satan.”

(Surah Al-Maidah: 90)

4. Bribery (Rishwah)

Definition:

Giving or receiving money to influence decisions unfairly.

Reason:

Bribery fosters corruption and injustice.

Hadith:

“May the curse of Allah be upon the one who gives a bribe and the one who takes it.”

(Ibn Majah)

5. Alcohol and Intoxicants

Definition:

Producing, selling, or consuming alcohol and other intoxicants.

Reason:

Alcohol harms health and disrupts social order.

Quranic Reference:

“Intoxicants and gambling are an abomination of Satan's handiwork...”

(Surah Al-Maidah: 90)

6. Fraud and Embezzlement

Definition:

Cheating others or misusing entrusted funds.

Reason:

Fraud and embezzlement violate trust and harm society.

Quranic Reference:

“Indeed, Allah commands you to render trusts to whom they are due...”

(Surah An-Nisa: 58)

7. Dishonesty in Trade

Definition:

Cheating or lying in business transactions.

Reason:

Honesty is a fundamental principle in Islam.

Hadith:

“He who cheats us is not one of us.”

(Sahi Muslim)

8. Adulteration

Definition:

Mixing inferior or harmful substances with goods for profit. Islam prohibits the adulteration or contamination of goods or products. Selling or trading in adulterated goods, which mislead consumers and harm their health or well-being, is forbidden.

Reason:

Adulteration endangers consumer health and is deceitful.

9. Black Marketing and Hoarding

Definition:

Withholding essential goods to inflate prices or selling goods illegally. While both terms are related to manipulating supply and price of goods, "black marketing" refers to the illegal sale of goods or services in a clandestine market, often at inflated prices, while "hoarding" is the act of accumulating large quantities of a product to artificially create scarcity and drive up prices, which can be illegal depending on the context and quantity involved, but the act of simply stockpiling goods does not necessarily constitute black marketing.

Reason:

These practices exploit consumers and create economic instability.

Hadith:

“Whoever hoards food is a sinner.”

(Sahi Muslim)

10. Prostitution and Adultery (Zina)

Definition:

Engaging in or facilitating illicit sexual relations for monetary gain.

Islam prohibits engaging in prostitution or any form of illicit sexual activities. Such activities are seen as harmful to individuals and society and go against the principles of modesty and purity. So having girlfriends and boyfriends, giving them money and gifts to form illicit relationships, is an act that is unlawful, forbidden, and sinful in Islam.

Reason:

Such acts are major sins in Islam and corrupt moral values.

Quranic Reference:

“And do not approach unlawful sexual intercourse. Indeed, it is ever an immorality...”

(Surah Al-Isra: 32)

11. Nudity and Obscenity

Definition:

Promoting pornography, nudity, or immoral entertainment. Remember! Islam promotes modesty, dignity, and ethical behavior. Engaging in vulgar or obscene activities, including producing or promoting explicit and indecent content, is prohibited. Therefore, any kind of earning from these illicit sources will be unlawful and forbidden.

Reason:

These activities harm societal ethics and dignity.

Hadith:

“Modesty is part of faith.”

(Sahi Bukhari)

12. Lottery and Betting

Definition:

Engaging in activities involving luck-based winnings. Participating in lotteries or games of chance that involve speculation and uncertainty is considered gambling and is forbidden in Islam.

Reason:

These promote greed and undermine hard work.

13. Lack of Proper Weight and Measure

Definition:

Giving less than due in trade weights and measures. Islam forbids dishonest practices in weighing or measuring goods. Accuracy and fairness in transactions are emphasized, and cheating customers by providing less than the agreed quantity is prohibited.

Reason:

This is an unjust and exploitative practice.

Quranic Reference:

“Woe to those who give less [than due], who, when they take a measure from people, take in full.”

(Surah Al-Mutaffifin: 1-2)

❖ The cause of divine punishment:

The Quran mentions the people of Prophet Shu'aib (ﷺ) and their destruction due to their corruption, specifically their dishonesty in weights and measures. The relevant verse is: “And do not decrease from the measure and the scale.

Indeed, I see you in prosperity, but I fear for you the punishment of an all-encompassing Day. And O my people, give full measure and weight in justice and do not deprive the people of their due and do not commit abuse on the earth, spreading corruption.”

Surah Hud (11:84-85)

Conclusion:

Engaging in these activities is not only harmful to individuals but also detrimental to the moral and social fabric of society. Islam emphasizes earning through lawful means, which ensures justice, fairness, and the well-being of all members of the community.

(10th Chapter)Islamic Culture and Civilization➤ Features of Islamic Culture and CivilizationIntroduction:*

Islamic Culture and Civilization refers to the comprehensive system of beliefs, values, practices, and social norms derived from Islamic teachings and the way of life established by the Quran and Sunnah. It encompasses both spiritual and worldly aspects of life, reflecting the harmony between religion, knowledge, and human development.

✚ Key Features of Islamic Culture and Civilization1. Faith-Based Foundation:

Islamic culture is deeply rooted in the principles of Tawheed (Oneness of Allah) and the teachings of the Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), providing spiritual guidance for every aspect of life.

2. Universal Values:

It promotes values such as justice, equality, compassion, brotherhood, and respect for all humanity, making it inclusive and universally applicable.

3. Knowledge and Education:

Emphasizing the importance of seeking knowledge, Islamic civilization greatly contributed to fields like science, medicine, mathematics, and philosophy during the Golden Age of Islam.

4. Moral and Ethical Code:

Islamic culture stresses honesty, modesty, humility, and adherence to Islamic ethics in both personal and social life.

5. Social Structure:

It establishes principles for family life, governance, and community building, ensuring rights, duties, and responsibilities are balanced for all individuals.

6. Art and Architecture:

Islamic civilization is known for its distinct artistic expressions, including calligraphy, geometric patterns, and architecture seen in mosques, palaces, and public buildings.

7. Unity in Diversity:

Despite cultural differences, Islamic civilization integrates diverse traditions, languages, and customs under the umbrella of shared Islamic values.

Significance of Islamic Culture and Civilization

Provides a model for peaceful coexistence, respect, and cooperation among individuals and nations.

Encourages a balanced approach to material and spiritual life, promoting individual and societal well-being.

Serves as a historical reminder of the contributions of Muslims to global knowledge, culture, and development.

Islamic culture and civilization, thus, represent a timeless legacy of faith, knowledge, and progress.

➤ Concept of Islamic Society

Concept of Islamic Society:

Islamic society is a community of believers based on the principles of faith, morality, justice, and mutual cooperation as outlined in the Quran and Sunnah. It emphasizes the balance between individual rights and collective responsibilities, ensuring peace, harmony, and spiritual growth.

➤ Importance of Education in Islam

Importance of Education in Islam

Quranic Perspective:

“Read in the name of your Lord who created.”

(Surah Al-‘Alaq, 96:1)

“Allah will raise those who have believed among you and those who were given knowledge, by degrees.”

(Surah Al-Mujadilah, 58:11)

Hadith Perspective:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“Seeking knowledge is an obligation upon every Muslim.”

(Sunan Ibn Majah)

Explanation:

Education is fundamental to the progress of an Islamic society. It empowers individuals, fosters intellectual growth, and encourages understanding of religious and worldly affairs. Both men and women are equally encouraged to seek knowledge.

1. Status of Women in Islam

Quranic Perspective:

“And for women is a share of what the parents and close relatives leave, be it little or much—a legal share.”

(Surah An-Nisa, 4:7)

“And We have certainly honored the children of Adam...”

(Surah Al-Isra, 17:70)

Hadith Perspective:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“The best of you are those who are best to their women.”

(Sunan At-Tirmidhi)

Explanation:

Islam elevates the status of women by granting those rights to education, inheritance, and personal autonomy. They are honored as daughters, wives, and mothers, with significant emphasis on their dignity and contributions to society.

2. Generosity and the Concept of Rights and Duties in Islam

Quranic Perspective:

“And spend in the way of Allah and do not throw yourselves with your own hands into destruction by refraining. And do good; indeed, Allah loves the doers of good.”

(Surah Al-Baqarah, 2:195)

“And give the relative his right, and the poor and the traveler, and do not spend wastefully.”

(Surah Al-Isra, 17:26)

Hadith Perspective:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

“The upper hand (giver) is better than the lower hand (receiver).”

(Sahih Bukhari)

Explanation:

Generosity is a cornerstone of Islamic ethics. A true Islamic society is built on mutual rights and responsibilities, emphasizing the duty to help the needy, maintain justice, and ensure fairness in dealings.

3. Rights of Parents:

In Islam, parents hold a highly revered and respected status, and their rights are emphasized in the Quran and Hadith. Fulfilling their rights is considered a primary duty of every Muslim and a means to earn the pleasure of Allah.

 Obedience and Respect

Children are obligated to respect and obey their parents in all matters that do not contradict Islamic teachings.

Quran:

"And We have enjoined upon man [care] for his parents. His mother carried him, [increasing her] in weakness upon weakness, and his weaning is in two years. Be grateful to Me and to your parents; to Me is the [final] destination."

(Surah Luqman, 31:14)

 Kindness and Compassion

Islam emphasizes showing kindness and compassion toward parents, especially when they reach old age.

Quran:

"...And lower to them the wing of humility out of mercy and say, 'My Lord, have mercy upon them as they brought me up [when I was] small.'"

(Surah Al-Isra, 17:24)

Financial Support

If parents are in need, children must provide for their financial and material needs as part of their responsibility.

Hadith:

The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said: "You and your property belong to your father."

(Sunan Ibn Majah)

Praying for Them

Muslims are instructed to pray for their parents, whether they are alive or have passed away.

Quran:

"Our Lord, forgive me and my parents and the believers the Day the account is established."

(Surah Ibrahim, 14:41)

Avoiding Disobedience and Harm

Children must refrain from being rude, disobedient, or causing any harm to their parents, as disobedience to parents is considered a major sin in Islam.

Hadith:

"The pleasure of the Lord is in the pleasure of the father, and the displeasure of the Lord is in the displeasure of the father."

(Sunan At-Tirmidhi)

In summary: the rights of parents in Islamic education revolve around respect, kindness, obedience, financial support, and constant prayers for their well-being, reflecting the importance of family in Islam.

4. Rights of Teachers:

Islam places great emphasis on the respect and rights of teachers, recognizing their role in imparting knowledge and shaping the moral and intellectual character of individuals and society.

Respect and Honor

Teachers hold a high status in Islam. They should be treated with utmost respect and reverence.

Hadith: The Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:

"He is not of us who does not show respect to our elders, mercy to our young, and honor our scholars."

(Sunan Abu Dawood)

Gratitude and Acknowledgment:

Students are obligated to show gratitude to their teachers for their guidance and efforts.

Hadith: "The one who does not thank people has not thanked Allah." (Sunan At-Tirmidhi)

Obedience and Attention:

Students should listen attentively to their teachers and obey their instructions, provided they align with Islamic teachings.

Quran: "...Ask those who possess knowledge if you do not know."

(Surah An-Nahl, 16:43)

Avoiding Arguments

Students must refrain from unnecessary arguments or disrespectful behavior toward their teachers.

Hadith: "A believer is not an insulter, curser, obscene, or foul-mouthed."

(Sunan At-Tirmidhi)

Supporting Teachers' Efforts:

Teachers should be supported in their mission to spread knowledge, including providing resources or assistance when needed.

Hadith: "Allah makes the path to Jannah easy for him who treads the path in search of knowledge."

(Sahih Muslim)

In summary, Islamic education highlights respect, obedience, gratitude, and support for teachers, recognizing their role as critical contributors to personal and societal development.

5. Rights of Neighbors:

"Worship Allah and associate nothing with Him, and to parents do good, and to relatives, orphans, the needy, the near neighbor, the neighbor farther away..."

(Surah An-Nisa, 4:36)

"He is not a believer whose neighbor is not safe from his harm."

(Sahih Bukhari)

6. Rights of Spouses:

“And of His signs is that He created for you from yourselves mates that you may find tranquility in them; and He placed between you affection and mercy.”

(Surah Ar-Rum, 30:21)

“The best of you is the one who is best to his wife.”

(Sunan At-Tirmidhi)

Conclusion:

An Islamic society is a harmonious system emphasizing education, respect for women, generosity, and mutual rights and duties, fostering an environment of peace, cooperation, and righteousness.

